All are invited.

Rev. G. H. Cobbledick occupied the pulpit of the Park street Methodist church yesterday and delivered two cloquent sermons. In the morning he took as his text Acts 3: 5, and in the evening Rev. 3: 20. A new custom has been adopted at this church, the ladies removing their hats at the evening service. It is an excellent idea, as now the speaker can see his hearers and vice versa.

WHAT ROSS SAID. Galt Reporter.

Galt Reporter.

"Do you know," remarked G. W. Ross last night, to his private secretary, his voice taking a harsh tone and his face assuming a look of stern resolution, "after what the stuck-up folks of this province said to me today I don't think I'll go back to the job." "What did the prosumptuous wretches dare to say to you, sire?" indignantly inquired the young man, the hot flush mounting his pallid cheek. "Say to me? Why, they had the nerve to tell me: "Ross, you're-discharged!"

CHARITY

"And the greatest of these is "And the greatest of these is charity." A case that appeals to the charity of all was revealed on Saturday. C. Chrystie was arraigned in the County Police Court Saturday on the charge of stealing staves from W. M. Drader. The man and his family lived in a house belonging to Mr. Drader, but have never paid any rent. The man is of unsound mind and is not deemed safe to be at large. The wife and children are in their bare and comfortless house, lacking fire and food. Their condition has appealed to the sympathy of the neighbors. The family live on the outskirts of the city in Chatham To, and the Chatham Tp. Council will have to look after the family. It takes municipal bodies a long time to move, however, and in the meantime the people might starve. fort, makes nice clean goods, soft yarus, pink borders, pure wool or union make, size 60 x 80 in., 6 lbs, regular $3 value,

DEATH'S CALL

The death of an old resident occurred yesterday afternoon in the person of Mrs. Ann Robinson, relict of the late Frederick Robinson, who died Sept. 13th, 1903, at her home, corner of Stanley avenue and Adelaide street, at the age of 64 years, 4 months and 18 days.

Deceased was sitting talking to a friend when she was suddenly taken ill and expired in a short time, heart failure being the cause. She had not been feeling very well for a few days, yet was able to do her housework up until her dem'se. She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving mother and sister, three sons, W. H., ex. Ald. Henry, and James A., all of Chatham. Three sisters, are Mrs. R. H. Jarvis, of Hamilton; Mrs. A. E. Knechtel, of Berlin; and Miss Mary Taylor, of Hamilton, Deceased was born at Port Dalhouse, being a daughter of the late Capt, Wm. Taylor. She, along with her parents, came to this section when a young girl and had lived here ever since. She was a prominent member of the Park street Methodist church. The funeral will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 1st, at three o'clock.
