THE SPICE OF LIFE.

Keep your head cool, your feet warm, your heart clean and your conscience clear, and there is no difficulty in life that you will not be able to overcome.

COLLEGE CHAFF.

The following specimen witticisms are taken from the O. A. C. Review:
A public-school magazine contains this announcement: "The editor will be very pleased to hear of the deaths of any of the old boys." No doubt the old boys will oblige the editor from time to time.

Lady B—once told Lord Palmerston that her maid, who had been with her to the Isle of Wight, objected to going thither again, because the climate was not "embracing" enough.

"What am I to do with such a woman?" she asked.
"You had better take her to the Isle of Man next time," said Lord Palmerston.

The judge's little daughter, although she had talked several times through the telephone to her father, had never called him up. The first time she tried it she took the receiver off the hook, as she had seen others do, placed her lips to the transmitter, and said: "Hello! I want to talk to papa." "Number, please?" said Central. "Singular," she answered, surprised at the question, but proud that she knew something of grammar.

A colored clergyman in Georgia was performing the service of baptism recently, says Success Magazine, when he paused in the midst of the service to inquire the name of the infant. With a pleased smile, the proud mother replied: "We is goin' to call de child Shady." "Shady!" repeated the minister. "Oh, I see. It's a boy, and his name is to be Shadrach."

"No, sah, it ain't no boy. It's a girl."
"It's dis way, sah. Our name's Bower, an' mah husband thought it would be a fine thing to call her Shady. 'Shady Bower' sounds kinder pretty."

A city gentleman was recently invited down to the country for "a day with the birds." His aim was not remarkable for its accuracy, to the great disgust of the man in attendance, whose tip was generally regulated by the size of the bag.

"Dear me!" at last exclaimed the sportsman, "but the birds seem exceptionally strong on the wing this year."
"Not all of 'em, sir," was the answer. "You've shot at the same bird about a dozen times. 'Tis a-follerin' you about, sir."

"Following me about? Nonsense! Why should a bird do that?"
"Well, sir," came the reply. "I dunno. I'm sure, unless it's 'angin' round you for safety."

Prof. G. A. Hill, of the National Observatory, was describing the duties of an astronomical corps during an eclipse, says The New York Tribune.

"The eclipse," he said, "may last only five minutes. Each man in the party has a certain line of work mapped out for him during those precious minutes. One man makes hurried pencil sketches, another man photographs, a third takes observations, while a fourth jots down his remarks."

"And so it goes. An astronomical corps during an eclipse is a very busy body. An interruption would be as unwelcome to it as—"

Prof. Hill smiled.

"An interruption would be as unwelcome to it as it once was to a young friend of mine in Elizabeth."

"My friend, according to the story, was calling on his sweetheart who lived on Elizabeth's outskirts."

"As the young man was taking leave for the night, his voice, as he stood on the piazza, rose passionately in the still air."

"Just one," he said. "Just one."

"Then the young girl's mother interrupted, calling from her bedroom window:

"Just 1? No, it ain't quite that yet. But it's close on to 12, so I think we'd better be goin' just the same."

COSSIP.

The grand object of system is the saving of time, which represents the most valuable asset a business can have.

An Irishman slept in the same room one night with a negro. His face was blackened during the night by a practical joker. Starting off in a hurry in the morning, he caught sight of himself in a mirror. Puzzled, he stopped and gazed, and finally exclaimed:

"Begorra, they've woke the wrong man!"

The story is told of a Congressman that he once declared in an address to the House, "As Daniel Webster says in his dictionary." "It was Noah who wrote the dictionary," whispered a colleague, who sat at the next desk. "Noah nothing," replied the speaker. "Noah built the ark."

WHITE HALL SHORTHORNS.

About two miles from either Meadowvale or Streetsville Stations, on the C. P. R., Peel Co., Ont., lies White Hall Stock Farm, the property of Mr. N. A. Steen, breeder of Shorthorn cattle, whose splendid herd of 27 head of Missies, Cecillas and Lady Victorias at the time of our visit were in grand condition, showing the result of rich breeding and good care. The foundation Missie cow was Mellerstam 6th, by Lord Durham 20610, dam Mellerstam (imp.). Her descendants now in the herd number 6 head, the get of Royal Scott (imp. in dam), Trout Creek Banff, son of the $5,000 Lord Banff, and Aberdeen Statesman 24878, a son of Imp. British Statesman. The foundation Cecilia cow was Cecilia 17th, by Imp. British Statesman, dam Cecilia 6th, by Imp. Baron Lenton, also a full sister of hers, Cecilia 18th. Of this strain in the herd are 18 head, the get of the above mentioned bulls. The foundation Lady Victoria cow was Lady Victoria, Vol. 17, by Scotland's Fame (imp.), dam Mabel, by Sherbrooke Chief 16796. Of this family there are only three. Among the young bulls for sale is the two-year-old roan Missie-bred bull, Banff Boy—55572—, by Trout Creek Banff, dam Miss Mellerstam, by Aberdeen Statesman. He is a low-down, thick, mellow fellow, and being so richly bred should prove a sire of worth. There are three others from six to eleven months of age, all Cecilia-bred, and got by Royal Scott (imp. in dam). These youngsters should be a very profitable investment at the prices asked, as their breeding and form leave little to be desired. In young females are seven heifers from 12 to 20 months of age, the get of Trout Creek Banff and Royal Scott, and belonging to the three above mentioned families. These are very desirable heifers, and Mr. Steen is not looking for any fancy prices. Their breeding is gilt-edged. Their individuality will compare favorably with the rank and file of heifers anywhere in the country, consequently anyone wanting foundation heifers or a young bull, would do well to look after these, as they will certainly soon go at the prices asked. Write Mr. Steen, to Meadowvale P. O., Ontario.
