The Detroit Conference of Accident Underwriters has been convening at the Clifton Hotel, Niagara Falls, Ont., this week. Among the papers read were:—The history of Accident and health insurance; Industrial accident insurance in its relation to the states; The banker versus the barber as a collector.

A pioneer insurance man in the western provinces, died at Prince Albert, Sask., recently, in the person of Mr. Louis St. Louis, manager of the Federal Life Insurance Company, for Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The deceased had been travelling through his territory on an inspection tour when he was suddenly taken ill and removed to the hospital where he died shortly afterwards. Mr. St. Louis was fifty years of age and had come to the west 37 years ago after receiving the degree of M.D., at Laval University, Montreal. He had been a free-lance fur trader in opposition to the Hudson Bay Company and went through the Riel trouble. He was well known throughout Canada in life insurance circles and will be greatly missed by the company he so faithfully served.
