The Little Arbutus.

Far up on the mountain a little arbutus bud was hiding away among the moss. She was very sleepy in the cold spring morning, and said to herself, "Nobody cares anything about me, and its too cold to creep out. I'll just go to sleep. But no, I wont, God cares; He will see me."

So, as the day passed, she pushed, and pushed, while the great sun shone down brightly to encourage her efforts, and before noon there lay a tiny star against the dark green moss, so sweet and so fragrant.

For hours nobody passed, and she felt a little lonely, until she remembered that God saw her, and admired her loveliness, and that the pure incense of her sweet breath was very pleasant to him.

About sundown, the little flower said, "I hoped that somebody would come for me, but never mind, God loves me. I shall be happy anyway."

Just then she heard a great noise, tramp, tramp, and in a minute a horse with a white spot on his forehead, came along drawing a buggy, in which sat a kind-faced man. As soon as he saw the arbutus he cried—

"I must have that!"

So he got out and gathered the tiny flower and as many sister buds as he could find and went on to his home far beyond the forest.

After a long time in the darkness, the little arbutus found herself by the study lamp, where she was packed in wet cotton in a box, and very early in the morning she went away in the big mail bag, on the fast express, to cheer and comfort a sick young lady in the great metropolis.

Perhaps you are lonely and discouraged, and fancy that your work and your life is of little moment. But the poet's fancy,

Full many a flower is born to blush unseen And waste its sweetness on the desert air, is all wrong. In God's creation there is no waste. He sees you, he loves you, he appreciates your every little effort, and he will tell you so some day, if you do your best.

"The Path of the Just."

"The path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

"Steadily and surely does the child of God make progress who 'comes up from the wilderness leaning upon His Beloved'; and by every step of his course he leaves more of that wilderness path behind, has less of it before, and moment by moment nears his Father's house."

—Love disappointed of a vent for its energies in one channel may yet find another and a truer exercise in other channels. If, for instance, thou canst not be a martyr in a foreign mission, thou canst be a patient bearer of the everyday trials at home; if not possessed of a large fortune, with great opportunities of blessing multitudes, thou canst always speak kind words, and continually intercede for the healing of some form of human misery.—Rev. T. T. Carter.

Riches in Heaven.

For those who are doing all they can to live righteously in this world, rest assured much good is waiting in the next world. However poor they may seem here, they are growing rich in Heaven. God our Father is a Banker who takes great care of all treasures, such as good actions, kindnesses, self-denial committed to His care.

—The California State Board of Health has sent out a circular entitled "The dangers arising from taking off the hat out of doors during funeral services." It attacks the custom strongly, and urges that one funeral is often the cause of many, because the friends of the dead stand around in the open air, even in winter, for many minutes, while the body is being carried from house to hearse, or while the ceremonies at the grave are taking place. The Board asks ministers and chiefs of lodges and others who may have charge at funerals to "give the beneficent advice to remain covered and avoid discomfort and danger." The point is made that remaining covered, when removing the hat means peril to the health, is no disrespect to the dead, but simply a wise and humane precaution.

Hints to Housekeepers.

Sickness among Children, especially infants, is prevalent more or less at all times, but it is largely avoided by giving proper nourishment and wholesome food. The most successful and reliable of all is the Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk. Your grocer and druggist keep it.

COTTAGE PUDDING.—One cup of sugar, one cup of milk, butter the size of an egg, three eggs—reserving the whites of two for frosting—one pint of flour, one teaspoonful cream tartar, one-half teaspoonful soda. When baked, frost at once, with a cup of sugar added to the whites of the two eggs.

A strong solution of alum, to which has been added a little glycerine and vinegar, is a cure for mosquito bites.

A Perfect Cook.—A perfect cook never presents us indigestible food. There are few perfect cooks and consequently indigestion is very prevalent. You can eat what you like and as much as you want after you use Burdock Blood Bitters, the natural specific for indigestion or dyspepsia in any form.

APPLE FRITTERS.—Quarter and slice your apples; make a batter of two eggs, one cup of milk, a little salt and flour, or the same as for fried oysters; put in your apples, and fry in hot fat the same as oysters. Very nice for breakfast.

Oxalic acid will remove iron-rust from all white goods without injury to the fabric. Wet the goods before applying.

DIARRHEA AND VOMITING.—Gentlemen,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhea and vomiting. This pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhea stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.

A layer of salt laid on the ink stain in a carpet will gradually absorb the ink. After the first layer becomes saturated with the ink it can be removed and a second and third layer applied, until the ink is all removed and the carpet fully restored to its original condition.

Baby was Sick.—Dear Sirs,—My baby was very sick with diarrhea, and everything we tried failed. But on trying Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry we found it gave prompt relief and very soon cured him completely.

Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont.

GREEN CUCUMBER PICKLES.—For a half bushel of cucumbers, take a pint of coarse salt; dissolve in water enough to cover the cucumbers; pour it boiling hot upon them; let them stand twentyfour hours; pour the brine off, and repeat two successive mornings. The fourth morning drain off the brine and pour on beiling water; let them stand twenty-four hours; then, if the cucumbers are not filled out plump, pour in boiling water again. When the cucumbers are all filled out plump they are ready for the vinegar. Place them in the jar in which they are to be kept, and as they are packed, place in little bags containing whole allspice, cloves, cinnamon, and mustard. Put a little horse-radish root among the cucumbers. Heat vinegar enough to cover the cucumbers, with a piece of alum dissolved in it, pour it over them boiling hot. Cover tight.

Business College Scholarships

Within the Power of Every Girl and Young Man.

A BUSINESS TRAINING WITHOUT COST.

THE great advantage in these Canadian Churchman offers is that there is no competitive element in them. Every girl or young man stands the same chance. It is not a question of who secures the largest number of subscriptions—the girl or young man in the smallest village has the same good chance as the one in the thickly populated city. Each can get precisely what he or she chooses to work for.

THE BUSINESS CENTRE SELECTED.

THE large Business Colleges selected by the Canadian Churchman to which to send our girls and young men are probably the best and most liberally equipped in the country. They are "The Toronto Business College" and "The British American Business College," both in Toronto. Girls and young men from all over the Dominion are within their walls, and the most skilled teachers preside over them.

WHY THE OFFERS ARE GENEROUS.

HE CANADIAN CHURCHMAN IS anxious that the largest possible number of girls and young men should take advantage of these offers for a Free Business College Commercial Training, not because of any pecuniary profit to itself, for there is none. The simplest calcula-tion will show, to any one who studies the offers, that we are not guided by any money consideration. On the other hand, each successful girl or young man whom we send to the Colleges means an actual financial outlay to the Churchman beyond the income. We have merely changed our methods of business. Instead of spending all on advertising and commission appropriation, we devote a portion of it to this idea, the girls and young men receiving the benefit, while we are satisfied to have the subscriptions which they secure on our books, feeling confident that we can hold the subscribers, in which lies our eventual profit Of course, in view of these facts, the offers cannot be continued indefinitely, as any one can easily see. It is important therefore that girls and young men should enroll themselves on our books as desirous of trying for the offers. Any girl or young man can learn all particulars by simply writing to the Canadian Churchman, and details will be forwarded. The offers are as fol-
