ROMAN CATHOLIC.

Invocation of the Saints.

Referring to this subject the New Freeman says:—"As a background to the scene of martyrdom there was that grand conception of the Communion of Saints. It is here, surely, that the starting point is to be found for the practice and the doctrine of the veneration of the saints."

While there were no saints, as we now understand them, in our Lord's time, who could be invoked, as Heaven was not yet opened for mankind, yet from His "exquisite words" we were taught that we could make friends with the angels. "There angels always see the face of my Father who is in Heaven," and that the saints "will be as the angels in Heaven." Hence follows the perfect accord of the present practice of the Church with the teachings of Christ.

Clippings

According to a transatlantic vessel Mr. William Campbell, K. C., who at the age of fifty-three succeeds Lord Stormont as a Scottish judge, is the first Catholic since the Reformation to attain the rank of judge in Scotland. Following right on the heels of the Eucharistic Congress comes word that London will have a Catholic lord mayor next November in the person of Sir John Stuart Knill.

German Catholics are showing their brethren how to fight fire with fire. The German Daily Catholic press is pouring shot and shell into the ranks of the defamers, in fact teaching them manners. A true miracle this.

We want somewhere a great and exclusively Catholic library—containing in popular form all Catholic literature of worth, and easily attainable by all the people.

THE ANGLICAN.

The Christian Guardian makes the statement that, "A Canadian Anglican minister, even though he were a bishop, could not legally preach in an Anglican church anywhere in England. In order to do so he would have to obtain a license and subscribe to the Thirty-Nine Articles. At the Synod recently held at Ottawa, it was decided to memorialize the Archbishop of Canterbury to have the disability removed in the case of Canadian bishops, but the ordinary clergyman will still be subjected to a fine of £5."

Declines a Bishopric

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Giving as a controlling reason that his work in Boston, Mass., is still unfinished, Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity (Episcopal) church, of that city, has declined the position of Bishop of Washington to succeed the late Right Rev. Henry V. Satterlee.

Why Worship Christ?

To this question Canon Holland replied in a recent sermon in St. Paul's Cathedral. Because He is absolutely unique, supreme, and can never stand in the same class as others. What you want explained is the vital difference by which the impression produced by Jesus Christ is utterly distinct from all others. It is childish to ignore or deny that the difference exists. That difference is itself the problem of the age. The challenge of Jesus Christ, Charles Lamb was perfectly right in signaling the essential character of that difference. If Shakespeare came into the room we should all rise. If that other one came in, we should all fall on our knees. There it is. That is what the companions of Jesus found themselves doing. "They fell at His feet and worshipped Him." They found themselves instinctively praying to Him in the subject most severely sacred by all Jews for God. "Thou Lord who knowest the hearts thou hast chosen."

THE PRESBYTERIAN

Liberal. The Presbyterians of France, for missionary and philanthropic purposes in their own land, give over $1,000,000 a year.

Jewish Mission

There are 15,000 Jews in Toronto, and among these a mission has recently been established. The outlook is very encouraging. The missionary is eminently fitted for the work, being himself a Jew, and is well received by all classes.

Deaconesses

It has just been announced that the presbytery of Chicago will establish and maintain a school for training women as deaconesses. The first school of this kind to be established by the Presbyterian church in America was opened about a year ago by the presbytery of Philadelphia. It does not now appear that the women who are trained in these institutions are to be regularly ordained, as are the deaconesses in the Lutheran, the Protestant Episcopal and the Methodist Episcopal churches, although the leaders of the movement say there is no reason why they should not be publicly set apart for the work. In the Presbyterian churches of Scotland deaconesses have been officially recognized for many years.

Rev. Dr. Falconer Retires

After a successful ministry of forty-six years this honored minister retires from active service. His last charge was Charlottetown, his latest Pastors. He is spoken of as a faithful pastor and effective preacher, and carries with him into private life the good wishes of a large number of friends.

THE BAPTISTS.

Ministers' Discounts

The custom of some merchants of giving discounts to ministers, and of railways and steamships giving them reduced rates, is commended by the Christian Register thus: "The minister is to their mind an unpaid servant of men in many directions, and it is acknowledgment of this that the merchant refuses to take profit from him. It is the world's generous and kindly way of treating a class of men who are looked upon as generous and kindly toward the world. Why should not the minister receive discounts made from this point of view? Surely, he is not a man whom it would be worth while to bribe." "All of which," says the Maritime Baptist, "is very true. But would it not be better to pay the ministers living salaries and let them pay their way the same as other men? They would feel better, and the people would be better."

Baptist Union

At the annual meeting of the Maine State Free Baptist Association, held a few days ago, the question of chief interest was Baptist Union. The basis was adopted. The Baptist Associations of the State have also decided in favor of union.

Sabbath Desecration

Speaking of the harmful effect upon our people of the desecration of the Lord's Day by our summer visitors, the Maritime Baptist says:—"In not a few places, the residents have, during the stay of these visitors, accustomed themselves to irregular attendance at the house of God, some cease to attend altogether. To give variety and zest to unoccupied times, the holding of social functions on the Lord's Day, at homes, etc., has become a feature of the social life. Week-end excursions, with hops, etc., on Saturday evening, in many cases extending far into the morning of the Lord's Day, have had a demoralizing effect. The inevitable result is, that those who have adopted this mode of life for the summer months, ere long carry it over into the other months of the year, and pastors in Canada have the American question of non-church attendance just before them."

THE METHODISTS

Dr. Osborn once said to a young minister, "Always be picking up facts about Methodism, you never know when they will be useful to you." Commenting on this an exchange remarks, "It is surprising how little many of us know of our own Church—we are either careless or indifferent about it."

In Memoriam

The Globe furnishes the following: The late Rev. Wm. Dobson, D.D., died October 27, 1903. He was then in charge of the First Methodist church, Charlottetown. In that church on Sunday last there was an exchange of remarks between Rev. Wm. Dobson and Rev. H. B. Thomas in his sermon, paid a glowing tribute to the ability, eloquence and virtues of his predecessor.

MR. DOWLING LECTURES
ON "TO HELL AND BACK"

Before a large audience in the Christadelphian Hall last evening, B. J. Dowling delivered a very interesting lecture, taking for his subject "To Hell and Return." Mr. Dowling dealt with his subject in a very able manner and was closely followed by his audience. In his opening remarks Mr. Dowling said that the title of the lecture might appear to some to have a sensational aspect and that therefore something like an apology ought to be forthcoming for dealing with so solemn and important a subject. He assured the audience, however, that he intended to deal with the subject most seriously and would prove conclusively that the wording of the title was in perfect accord with Bible teaching.

In concluding, the speaker said: "We find by the Bible that hell is a place of unconsciousness and death. When the last enemy death shall be destroyed, hell will be included in the work of destruction."

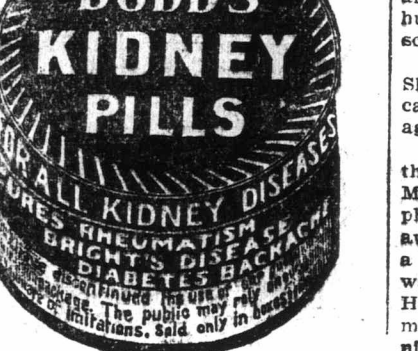

THREE HANG SAME DAY

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1.—Lee Chung, a Chinaman, was sentenced Saturday to be hanged December 18th, for the murder of Yung Hing, his partner, in July last.

Three murderers will die the same day, Portella, negro, for murdering Mrs. Jenkins, and Jenkins, another negro, for murdering Mrs. Morrison.

INGERSOLL, Nov. 1.—A young Italian named Constantine was murdered this afternoon by a fellow countryman, said to be Ponji, for whom police are searching. He threw a stone and hit his victim on the temple. Ponji disappeared shortly after the tragedy, and although immediate efforts were put forth he could not be located.

The affair was the culmination of a quarrel between the two men, who, along with other sons of Italy who have been working on the C. P. R. here for a few days, were playing some game for money.

REV. J. W. KEIRSTEAD
SCORES SELFISH MEN

Interesting Lecture Delivered at Every Day Club Last Evening

The rule of life which prompts a man to thrust as much of the burden upon other shoulders and bear as little as possible himself, was vigorously condemned by Rev. J. W. Keirstead at the Every Day Club last evening.

A man's aim, the speaker said, should not be to see how much he could selfishly get out of life for his own pleasure and satisfaction, but how much he could put into life, and in real and permanent good, the more he put in the more he would get out of it.

The thought which Mr. Keirstead impressed upon his hearers was that we should help others to bear their burdens. This was the Christian spirit. But before a man is able to share the burdens of others he must learn to bear the burden of his own infirmities, and of the temptations that come to him, and that he may possess a strong, Christian manhood to enable him to be of real service to others.

Making a local application of the thought the speaker referred to the Every Day Club and its motto "To help men to be men," and made a plea for earnest work by men for the good of their men in the city of St. John.

The musical programme included a solo by Master Harold Colwell and a trio by Mrs. Colther and Messrs. Colwell and Neal.

TWO FREDERICTON
MINISTERS HERE

Among the visiting preachers in the city yesterday were the Rev. W. C. Keirstead, Ph. D., of the U. N. B., and Rev. A. A. Ridout of Fredericton. The former preached at both morning and evening services in the Victoria street Baptist Church and was heard by large congregations on both occasions.

The Victoria street church has been extended in the rear, until it now occupies the entire Sunday school lot. The vestry and Sunday school have been moved back. These changes were made to accommodate the increasing number of pupils in the Sunday school.

EXPIRES ATTENDING
ANOTHER'S FUNERAL

CHATHAM, N. B., Nov. 1.—While attending the funeral service of Mrs. Dr. J. R. McKenzie of Loggieville, Saturday evening, Mrs. Wm. R. Gillis, wife of a well-known Loggieville citizen, dropped dead in the hall of the house. Her husband is said to have been the cause of death, but deceased was not known to have suffered previously from this complaint.

The circumstances surrounding Mrs. Gillis' death are exceptionally sad. Her husband was in Loggieville, Saturday, and he had left his wife in the best of health. The first news of his loss reached him by telegraph and the news almost prostrated him. He at once hurried to Loggieville and to his desolated home.

Mrs. Gillis leaves two young boys. She was formerly Miss Jones of Newcastle and was thirty-nine years of age.

WANTS NO MORE YANKEE
WARSHIPS ON THE LAKES

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 1.—A Washington special to the Herald today says: "Somewhat to the chagrin of the navy department, Great Britain has asked that no more warships be sent to the great lakes. The request, which was made in the quietest possible manner and in amiable terms, applies to navy vessels sent to the lakes for use of the naval militia forces of the middle western States."

By the terms of the treaty of 1818 the United States is restricted as to the number of warships on the great lakes. That treaty allows one vessel on Lake Ontario and two on the upper lakes, each of not more than 100 tons burden and armed with one 18-pound cannon.

As a matter of fact the United States has had larger ships than the treaty authorized in service on the lakes. It is understood that protests against these ships have been coming in first instance from Canadians. Only recently did the London foreign office take any formal notice of these protests. The navy department, of course, will comply with the request. It is not regarded here as an evidence of any unfriendliness on the part of Great Britain, but simply a recognition of complaints that Canadians are making.

MAINE WOMAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ARSON

OLDTOWN, Me., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Bina Tourtellotte, aged 50 years, who came here some eight years ago to work in the woolen mills, was arrested tonight on the charge of arson, the warrant alleging the woman set fire to the summer cottage of Chas. H. Dray, of this place, at Northport Camp Grounds, last Thursday, causing the destruction of five buildings and a loss of $15,000.

Mrs. Tourtellotte occupied apartments in this city in a block owned by Mr. Dray and spent last summer at Northport Camp Grounds.

The arrest was made tonight in the Oldtown postoffice by City Marshal Fernaday and the woman will be taken to Belfast tomorrow to be arraigned in the municipal court.

CHANCELLOR VON BUELOW
IS BITTERLY ASSAILED

People are Amazed at Government's Explanation of Kaiser's Utterances

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Chancellor Von Buelow's position appears to be almost untenable. Far and wide throughout the Empire the newspapers of all parties discuss with varying degrees of mockery, amazement and regret, the government's explanation of how, what purported to be an enormous important utterance of the emperor, affecting three great powers, passed through the hands of the chancellor and a long line of foreign office officials, without seemingly having been considered by any of them or even read by most of those responsible for the delicate foreign relations.

The Emperor fully condones Prince Von Buelow's part in the affair, but the chancellor's authority and prestige with the country have been so shaken that he may again ask the Emperor to relieve him.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—It is reported that Herr Von Schoen, secretary of foreign affairs, has also tendered his resignation, in connection with the recent publication in a London newspaper of the emperor's interview.

BIG PARADE HELD

St. Martins Scene of Grand Celebration on Saturday

The Liberals of St. Martins held a grand celebration Saturday evening in honor of the great Liberal victory throughout Canada. The arrangements were in the hands of the Officers of the St. Martins Liberal Association, F. M. M. Cochrane, president; Robert Connolly, 1st vice-president; T. H. Nugent, 2nd vice-president; Robt. Skiller, secretary; Wm. J. Walsh, treasurer, and the following committee: John Boyer, John Howard and Wellington Vail.

At 8 o'clock a torchlight procession started from the Masonic Hall and made a tour of the village, going as far east as Vaughan Creek Hill and as far west as Omer P. Brown's. A large float handsomely decorated was drawn by white horses. The float was in charge of John Boyer, whose little daughter was enthroned in the centre. She was beautifully costumed and represented Canada. The float was followed by carriages containing prominent Liberals and by many torch bearers on foot. The dwellings of all the Liberals in the village as well as those along the line of march were illuminated with wax candles and Japanese lanterns, and the result was all that the promoters of the parade could desire.

A notable feature of the demonstration was the lighting of three large bonfires on Seminary Hill. Cheers for Laurier and Pugsley were heard in all quarters. The parade occupied over two hours.

BRIBERY CASES AT SUSSEX

SUSSEX, No. 2.—Four cases in which it was charged that the anti-bribery clauses of the election act had been violated in the recent election in Kings-Albert, came before Justice Hearnbrook here on Saturday. Herbert McKimmon, after examination, was released on $2,500 bail to appear before the supreme court in January.

The cases against Samuel McDonald and Charles Coates were dismissed as no evidence was produced against them.

There was a similar lack of evidence in the case against Clifford Keith and the magistrate postponed decision for a week.

150 PRIESTS IN LINE

Parade Reviewed by Highest Dignitaries of the Church

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—What was probably the greatest parade of a religious character in the history of Boston, that of any New England city, brought to a close today the centenary celebration of the foundation of the Roman Catholic diocese of Boston, which was begun on Wednesday last. It is estimated that fully 40,000 men, representing the Holy Name Societies of the Roman Catholic churches in the five counties which constitute the diocese, with over 150 priests, participated, marching to the music of 100 bands. The route taken was through the streets of the Back Bay section and thousands of spectators filled the sidewalks, rooftops, windows and every point of vantage along the line of march to witness the "almost endless line of men, carrying simply the stars and stripes and the banners of the Holy Name Societies of their respective churches, pass by. Starting shortly after noon, it was long after darkness before the last company had been disbanded.

Passing before the archiepiscopal residence on Bay State road, the parade was reviewed by the highest dignitary of the Catholic church in America, James Cardinal Gibbons, who arrived late yesterday to be present at the closing exercises today, and Archbishop O'Connell, together with a number of visiting prelates and missionaries.

THE GREATEST
INDISCRETION YET

Berlin Newspapers on the Kaiser's Interview.

Hardly a Point in the Whole Range of the Statement Escapes Severe Handling.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—If the interview with the Kaiser published by the London Telegraph is received with capital coolness in Great Britain, it is not too much to say that it has raised a storm of anger here. Germans have waited vainly for an official repudiation of the conversation, which it was not doubted would be forthcoming, and their disappointment at the non-appearance of such a repudiation is increased by the statement that it was the Kaiser's reign. Another says:—"It has united our foes, lowered our prestige, and shattered belief abroad in the sincerity, sanity and earnestness of our foreign policy."

The Taegteho Rundschau, which is commonly reported to be the Kaiser's favorite newspaper, laments it bitterly and with pungent reference to the Emperor's theatrical policy. It declares that this latest indiscretion is a severe blow to German interests.

There is hardly a point in the whole range of the Kaiser's statement that escapes severe handling. His admission that he prepared a war scheme against the Boers is denounced as a spectacle which centuries cannot erase. His reference to the future of the Pacific is condemned as a gratuitous menace to Japan. The censures are so general that it is needless to particularize the damning papers. There are a few exceptions, the most noteworthy being the newspapers known as "the vos Buelow press," whose comments on political matters are always more or less inspired by the government.

These put the best face they can on the situation, saying the Kaiser merely stated what he and the leading German statesmen have repeatedly declared in public speeches, but their isolated efforts to compose the tempest are lost in the general hurricane of reprobation.
