Notes From Nipper's Hr.

Morris Sent Our Volunteers—Who Went Home to Say the Last Farewell—in the Steerage of the Prospero

NIPPER'S HR., Oct. 11.—Two schooners arrived here from Gloucester looking for herring; but herring hasn't put in appearance on this coast yet.

Old fishermen expect poor fishery this Fall. Some boats are doing well with codfish this last week, some of them securing as much as three barrels.

S.S. Prospero arrived here from North with four hundred passengers on board, mostly shore fishermen from Battle Hr. and Treaty Shore.

When the Prospero sailed from St. John's Oct. 1st I noticed that several Volunteers going home to see their parents before going to the battlefield, were sent on board with second class tickets. Upon being ordered down below they were surprised, and some of them who had money paid the difference and travelled first class. I should think, sir, that those noble men who are satisfied to lay down their lives that the Old Flag of England should never lose its glory, should have had at least first preference on board the Prospero. More shame on the authorities to allow such a thing to be done.—Cor.

[Our correspondent very properly draws public attention to the insult offered our Volunteers who paid a short visit to friends North by last Prospero. A first class ticket on the Prospero is none too good for the brave lads who are willing to give up life for King and Country.

The Bowings who are such patriots might have given them a first class ticket, even if the Morris Government were ready to insult those brave men. There are no Bowings at the front fighting for Empire and Liberty. There are no Keans there, although Abram boasts of the gallant (?) team of sons.

Such men are the ones that attempt to hoodwink the public into a belief that they are patriots. One who took $8.50 for a $5.00 barrel

Resent Action of One Philpot who Wanted to Tear Down the F.P.U. Flag Which Was Flying in Honour of Bishop March

(Editor Mail and Advocate)
DEAR SIR.—Please grant me space in your highly esteemed paper to make a few remarks.

On Tuesday night a meeting of our Local Council was held, and the case of Philpot, who threatened to haul down the Union flag of St. Brendan's Council this summer, was discussed.

During the summer when His Lordship Bishop March arrived here, among the other flags flying in honour of the Bishop was an F.P.U. flag, kindly lent for the occasion, and Philpot said he was going to haul the flag down if he could get permission; but it would have been a sorrowful day for him if he had meddled with it.

of flour, the other who went to the seal fishery to show all the ships how to get seals and returned with hardly enough to feed a dozen cats one month.—Editor.]

Come now, Philpot, what did you think the Union men of St. Brendan's are? Did you think they were a crowd of school children, a crowd of fools, or a gas bag like Philpot? You knew that all our Union men were away fishing, and for that reason you were going to do wonders. If you had tried to haul it down it would have been your first and last time to haul down a Union flag in St. Brendan's.

Come now, Philpot, the Council is anxious for you to come over here any Saturday after two o'clock, when the flag will be flying for our meeting, when your chances will be lovely to try your hand. We ask you again to come over. You well earned your title by your vapourings.

Signed on behalf of St. Brendan's Local Council.
