One more illustrious recruit has joined the shining talksmith band; the people heard his larynx toot across this sad talk--ridden land. He talked upon the eastern shore, he talked beside the western WOODROW sea, the prairie lands have heard him roar the platitudes that make men free. He talked so loudly as he went that people said: "This noisy man is just the stuff for president, and we'll elect him if we can." And I've no doubt that he will win if ever he should have the chance; for he who makes the loudest din is always certain to advance. I'd like to see before I croak one president of giant size; some man who left a trail of smoke and scrawled his name across the skies. Some builder who has laid his rails across the desert and the hills: some strong man who has filled the vales with clanging of a hundred mills. The labors of the builders can but little please the voting host; we Copyright, 1911, by George Matthew Adams Walk Mason

Such Enthusiasm Never Witnessed or the Iron Isle. At noonday on Thursday, July 27th the tooting of the whistles of the D. I. & S. C. and Nova Scotia Co. together with the loud reports of many firearms from crowds gathered on the Beach, and the blasting operations, specially arranged for the occasion on the cliff o'er looking the eastern end of the Island, announced that His Exwere nearing the Island on board the magnificent yacht Fife.

The Beach, hill, streets in vicinity and meadows were crowded, and fully 4.000 thousand people must have witnessed the landing of the Papal Delegate. As the yacht neared the wharf it was noticed that His Excellency was accompanied by His Grace Archbishop Howley, Bishops March and Power Monsignors Sinnott, Reardon and Veitch and several clergy including our esteemed pastor, Fr. McGrath, who had met the party at Portugal Cove. Cheers were given for His Excellency The Archbishop, both Bishops, the Clergy, His Majesty King George V. The party were met by the committee of Catholic citizens of the Island of which Magistrate Power was Chairman. A splendid double team was awaiting His Excellency, and accompanied by a huge procession including over 30 carriages and 4,000 people the party proceeded to St. Joseph's Hall amidst many salutes and loud cheers. Six arches suitably decorated had been erected for the occasion, and bunting was displayed everywhere On arrival at the terminus of Chapel and Main Streets the procession open ed ranks and His Excellency and party drove through accompanied by great cheers. Arriving before the Hall the were met by the Ladies' Committee of which Mrs. O'Donnell was Presi dent. The school children had assembled there, and robed in pure white, carrying baskets of flowers, the children strewed flowers comprising yellow and white and colours before His Excellency. On entering the Hall the party were escorted to the stage, Vidi Lake were whale and folly boats: and an address was presented to His the gigs built by Loveys and others Excellency by Magistrate Power, to and rowed in previous Regattas, havwhich His Excellency replied in a neat speech. At R. C. Cathedral.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche, V.G., preached at the Cathedral after Rosary last evening. Before beginning his sermon proper he spoke of the grand reception accorded to the Papal Delegate by the people of St. John's. He thanked them all. The magnificent demonstration was spontaneous and wholehearted, and the people showed their deep devotion and loyalty to the See of Peter and His Holiness Pious X. It was a grand exhibition of faith cellency Monsignor Stagni and party and love and showed that the old spirit of Catholicity that animated our forefathers was as strong as ever in their descendants: His Excellency the Papal Delegate was highly pleased and deeply touched by the reception > ness the Pope, of whom he was, as he said himself, "merely the shadow." Monsignor Roche then spoke of the generous help and sympathy given by the people of other denominations. It was one of the most pleasing features of the whole programme. He wished to thank all our separated brethren for their kindness and good feeling, and to emphasize the fact that the Roman Catholic people owed their Protestant friends an emulating debt of gratitude for co-operating with them in making the reception such a great success. He trusted that the good feeling would be always con tinued and increased and that amongst the many good results of His Excellency's visit would be a still closer bond of charity and love amongst our people and those of all other denominations. He also thanked the Press of the city for the kindness shown in giving so much space to the reports of the proceedings.
