Rebuff to the Governor.

It will be remembered that the day before the Governor gave his decision on the Morison Memorials for publication, he left the city and only returned on Saturday last.

It seems to us, therefore, that now His Excellency is present in the city again, the time is opportune for renewing the comments which were in a large measure kept in abeyance during his absence.

Yesterday we drew attention to the conduct of the Government in taking the Flona off her proper work to provide the Governor with a yachting trip, and recorded a fresh protest against the Flona being converted into a pleasure yacht for the convenience of the Governor at a time when there was work for her to do in connection with the revenue protection.

Although we laid the blame in the main on the Ministry, who are officially responsible for trifling with the serious interests of the Colony, we pointed out that a measure of blame should be laid on the Governor for taking advantage of the compliance of weak, thoughtless and reckless Ministers, the conduct of one of whom he had under review at the time the Flona was being specially prepared for his reception.

To-day we turn to another topic, the rebuff His Excellency received from the Secretary of the Colonies.

It may be remembered that after the presentation of the first Memorial to the Governor, His Excellency insisted that the Memorialist asked for the matter to be referred to the Secretary of State for the Colonies. He sent for him and endeavored to obtain his compliance with what was wholly the Governor's own suggestion, and which was in no way the desire of the Memorialist. Mr. Coaker declined to fall in with the Governor's suggestion, and in the second Memorial pointed out in definite words that the Memorial was addressed to him, that his attention was drawn to the facts recited, his own deliberations were sought, and his own decision was required. It was made clear to the Governor that there was nothing in the first Memorial which warranted His Excellency's suggestion, and that if he referred the matter to the Secretary of the Colonies it was entirely at his own initiative and wholly on his own responsibility.

The second Memorial, while raising no objection to any course the Governor should decide to pursue in the matter of reference, sets this matter in clear relief—disavowed the Governor's suggestion, and disowned any responsibility for the course which he had taken. The Governor's suggestion, and disowned any responsibility for the course

Personal.

Messrs. Hilary, Carey, and E. O'Neill, who were up fishing on the Southern Shore last week returned yesterday with good catches of trout. Mr. Coaker of the "Advocate," who had been north for some time past, arrived here by the Bruce express yesterday.

Hon. John Harris and Messrs. T. J. Edens and C. Hutton, arrived here by last night's train. These gentlemen with their families spent a holiday at Placentia and fished the S. E. Arm. They secured good catches of trout and salmon. They say all the rivers in that section are much swollen after the rain storm of Friday night last.

For those who are about to make beer for the Regatta we have a suggestion. We have Ginger Beer Essence, and an Essence for making Herb Beer. If these be used they will simplify the making of these non-alcoholic drinks to a very great extent. The method of making Ginger and Herb Beers from these Essences is very easy; and they make very palatable and wholesome beers at an extremely low price. We recommend these essences for the purpose for which they are sold, and are sure that they will give the utmost satisfaction. Price (each) 25c a bottle. Have you yet tried Rat Corn? If you have not, and are bothered with rats or mice, by all means procure and use a tin. The result will be most pleasing to you. Price 15, 25 and 50c a tin.

America's Most Popular Writer.

"More than two hundred American papers with a combined circulation of over 10,000,000, print daily the 'Lineless Rhymes' of Walt Mason, so that he, without doubt, has the largest reading public of any writer in the country."

So says the 'American Magazine,' and quotes this as a sample of the most popular reading in the U. S. A. In lineless rhymes Mr. Mason tells of a conversation between Charles I. and the headman on the scaffold:—

"Charles the first, with stately walk, made the journey to the block. As he paced the street along, silence fell upon the throng; from that throng there burst a sigh, for the king was come to die!"

"Charles upon the scaffold stood, in his veins no craven blood; calm, serene, he viewed the crowd, while the headman said, aloud:—

"Cheer up, Charlie! Smile and sing! Death's a most delightful thing! I will cure your hacking cough when I chop your headpiece off! Headache, toothache—they're a bore. You will never have them more! Cheer up, Charlie, don't you yell! Here's the axe and all is well!"

"I thought but a humble dub, represent the Sunshine Club, and our motto is worth while: 'Do not worry—sing and smile!'"

"Therefore let us both be gay, as we do our stunt to-day; I to swing the shining axe, you to take a few swift whacks."

"Lumpy-doodle, lumpy-ding; do not worry, smile and sing!"
