Captain of German Cruiser Expects Defeat.

Honolulu, Sept. 1.—The German cruiser Nurnberg will leave port this evening, cleared for action, to meet the Australian warships Australia and Warrego. The two British men-of-war to-day accompanied the British collier Strathadle to the three-mile limit here, and are reported waiting outside.

Captain Schoenburg, of the Nurnberg, said to-day that the Nurnberg would not surrender, and that he expected the ship to be the coffin for himself and his crew.

"Teach Them to Shoot" Says Kitchener.

London, Sept. 3.—"Never mind whether they know anything about drill. It does not matter if they don't know their right foot from their left. Teach them how to shoot and do it quickly."

These are instructions which Lord Kitchener gave the officers who are engaged in the work of getting his second army light on the situation. It's a race against time.

British Labor Men Urge Recruting

London, Sept. 3.—The Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Congress has issued a manifesto expressing approval of the efforts which the Labor members in the House of Commons are making, in conjunction with the representatives of other parties, to stimulate recruiting.

The manifesto states that in the event of the voluntary system of military service proving inadequate at the present time, the need would result in greatly strengthening the advocacy of compulsory service. Accordingly, the manhood of the nation should rally to the defence of the country in such numbers as "will demonstrate to the world that a free people can rise to the supreme height of great sacrifice without the whip of conscription."

Trading with the Enemy.

The meaning of the proclamation against trading with the enemy is officially explained as follows:

The important thing is where the foreign trader lives and not his nationality. There is no objection to trade with German or Austrian firms in neutral or British territory. Trade with the branch of a hostile firm in neutral or British territory is permissible so long as its head office is not involved.

Contracts with firms in hostile countries cannot be performed and payments ought not to be made during the war. There is no objection to paying for goods delivered or services rendered before the war.—Daily Mail.

The Other Kitchener.

Lord Kitchener, our new War Minister, has a brother—General Walter Kitchener, acting as Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Bermuda. When in South Africa he had occasion to rebuke two Canadians, and the men seemed to resent the interference.

"Perhaps you do not know who I am?" said Walter Kitchener, who was in mufti.

"No; who are you?" asked one of the Colonials.

"General Kitchener, and I shall expect you to report yourselves at my tent in the morning."

One of the Colonials laughed scoffingly at this.

"Why, we have had old Kitchener's picture on the wood-shed at home ever since he whacked the niggers at Omdurman, and you are as much like him as I am!" he said.

"The wood-shed saved him," General Kitchener remarked at the end of the tale.

Brave Deed of Duke of Westminster.

London, Sept. 3.—The Duke of Westminster has distinguished himself on the battlefield. He was in a company with Captain Grenfell and Lieutenant Percy Wyndham, son of Countess Grosvenor, during a hot engagement when Grenfell fell wounded. At great personal risk, amid a galling fire, the Duke rushed through the battle zone and carried Grenfell to safety.

Latest of all is the circular skirt, trimmed with velvet or satin ribbon Collars include the military, the medici and the hood collar.

War Notes.

Mrs. Collis, a widow, of Epsom, whose husband was a soldier, has seven sons on active service.

In response to Mr. Bramwell Booth's appeal, 500 officers of the Salvation Army have volunteered for Red Cross work. Miss Murray, brigadier in the Salvation Army, will have charge of the foreign service contingent.

From a return made to the Church Lads' Brigade headquarters, it appears that over 3,000 officers, warrant officers, and elder lads have been called to the colours, and are now serving in the Army, the Navy, or the Territorial Force.

A Marching Hint.—I have done a good deal of walking, and have discovered that a simple remedy which prevents one's feet from getting tired and soothes them very considerably is to soap thoroughly the inside of one's stockings or socks before putting them on. It is almost certain that soap can be obtained where probably ointment could not, and it is easy to carry about. I would ask any of your readers who see this letter, or are able to get into touch with the soldiers at the front, to mention this to them, as it may save them perhaps some pain on their weary marches.—Joyce M. Gibson.

T. P. O'Connor, M.P., says: "It is evident now that Germany has to count on a war which will not be finished by any coups, however successful, on French soil, and that England, as in the days of Pitt's struggle with Napoleon, will go on and yet on, forming combinations until German militarism and overlordship of Europe are brought to the end. It is possible that in the meantime English army after army may have to dash itself against German guns, but another army will follow, until they have finally exhausted the foe."

The Boston Herald says: "The week which has just closed witnessed an extraordinary change in American sentiment toward the combatants, if the press of the country affords any test. There was a good measure of neutrality at the start, in the shape of a judicious attitude of mind, reinforced by the President's proclamation. But Germany's course in Belgium has powerfully affected American sentiment until to-day the great newspapers of cosmopolitan New York are speaking out with an emphasis that cannot be misunderstood.

Belgium is the first country to make a wide use of the services of the Boy Scouts in time of war. In Brussels they are employed as despatch riders between the various departments of the State; as orderlies at the numerous depots of the Red Cross organization; as "policemen" they patrol the streets during the day and in case of any disturbance can at once summon assistance; and upward of a hundred are daily collecting money for the Red Cross Society, and for the various funds started for the relief of the families of the men at the front. There are to-day some 4,500 Boy Scouts in Belgium—3,000 in the organization based on the lines of the English Boy Scouts, and 1,500 belonging to the Catholic Brigade.

The Boston Transcript says: "Outside of Germany and Austria the war seems to have come with the swiftness of a cloudburst and even less warning. Yet within the jurisdiction of the dual monarchies all was preparation many days before the storm burst. Here is an interesting bit of testimony to this effect from an American lady who was spending the summer at Bad Nauheim : 'On July 2nd my doctor told me he had orders to make the big Kursaal ready for a hospital, and that his two sons— officers in the army—had already received sealed orders.' And this is the war which we are assured was forced upon Germany at the end of July."

Where Responsibility Lies.

No matter how large, or how small, a business may be, nobody can deny that its Office is the nerve centre of the firm. Every transaction, important or trivial, must be recorded at the Office. An order is received at the Office,—its history is recorded at the Office, and finally payment is received at the Office. If the Office makes an error the firm stands the loss. That's why you must be sure that your office is modernly and dependably equipped for the care of all important papers. To do this effectively you need the up-to-date equipment of the "GLOBE-WERNICKE CO." When sixty offices in St. John's have found this necessity this equipment can surely be of use to you. Mr. Percie Johnson represents this world known firm in Newfoundland. — ap17,tf
