"I wondered whether you'd come to lunch with us to-day," Eva said. She tried hard to make her voice friendly, but she was painfully conscious that t was not very successful.

Kitty looked taken aback for a moment; she had long since withdrawn her hand from Peter's.

"There's nothing I should have liked better," she declared then. "I'm longing to see the flat-Philip tells me it is wonderful!" There was a gleam of maliciousness in her eyes. "But I've got a tiresome engagement -that's the worst of staying with relations, they will insist on dragging you here, there and everywhere, and one must be civil . . ." She smiled at Peter. "Why didn't you let me know you were coming to town?" she asked sweetly. "Pool boy! I know I was cross with you last night, but I

MEANS BARGAIN PRICES FOR YOU.

Owing to changing and present conditions of business, we are considering this year running our merchandising and selling differently. Part of this change will be the cleaning up of goods of which we have an overstock, or goods the season of which is passing, at prices which will not necessarily mean any consideration of the cost of these goods. Customers will however note that all such prices can hardly be expected to be held indefinitely and they will do well to seek advantage of same early. In our "Different Selling" Campaign we also aim to achieve other results which will be unfolded later.

We open our "Different Selling" Campaign with the following Reductions and Bargains:
