YOUTHS IN CANOE PICKED UP

Weak and Exhausted With Waves Rolling High Appear -ance of Ship Was Welcome

Tried to Win Wager That. They Could Paddle From Windsor to Put-in-Bay

Windsor, August 27. - Exhausted from hunger and exposure, and their canoe in imminent danger of being capsized, Anderson McEwen, aged 16, of Windsor, and Hector Loranger, 15, of Detroit, were picked up by the steamer Frank E. Kirby in Lake Erie off Middle Sister Island Thursday.

In an attempt to win a bet that they could paddle to Put-in Bay, Ohio, the two young men left Belle Isle last Tuesday. They got no further than Middle Sister Island, where they spent Wednesday night. Without food, and already weak from hunger, they put off Thursday morning for Put-in Bay.

McEwen claimed they lost their compass and strayed from the course. Lor anger became exhausted and lay down in the bottom of the frail craft, while his companion tried to keep the canoe headed into the waves, which were running high. When McEwen was almost ready to give up the steamer Kirby was sighted, and fastening a towel to his paddle he signalled for Captain Paul, who was on the bridge, saw the signal of distress, and fearing the canoe would tip over, ordered full steam ahead. The waves were so high that when the canoe was in a trough it was completely lost sight of. Reaching the canoe containing the young men the Kirby was listed until the deck was level with the lake, when they were picked up safely.

THE WEST NEEDS 34,700

Everywhere throughout the city today the question is being asked where labor can be secured for the harvest fields and the proposals advanced are many and varied.

many and varied.

Immigration can do a lot towards helping out. About five hundred reach the city today and tomorrow they will be ushered out to the country, at least everyone of them who will accept the tempting offers of high reaches will be made to them. will accept the tempting offers of high wages which will be made to them. All railroad companies are wiring through the United States for men at special rates to come to this country and to take part in harvesting the crops here. The east and the south is being searched with the figurative fine tooth comb to secure all the labor available, yet the prospects are that the supply will still be very far short of the demand.

It is urged on western cities and municipalities that they release every man possible to save the western crops. Most public works can wait, it is urged.

Farmers Frantic.

J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration, is being deluged with applications for farm labor. "Farmers are becoming frantic for help and the situation is assuming serious propor-tions," he said. "If matters show no improvement, and I don't see much relief in sight, municipalities and public out to the fields and suspend tions on their works. Certainly the demand for harvest labor is more acute than the need for prosecuting public works not immediately pressing."

Great Falling Off in Numbers. Speaking on the unusual conditions in the west this year, and the small response from eastern Canada for men to take care of the harvest of the west, Assistant Passenger Agent Shaw of the Canadian Pacific railway said of the Canadian Pacific railway said this morning: 'Very few more than half the number of passengers arrived at our station this year than last. Last year we handled 30,000. This year so far we have only ticketed out of Winnipeg a matter of 13,000, that is on all railroads. There are two more excursions to come, and these will probably be small ones. At least they will go over the same territory again and the second response is generally much smaller than the first one.

"This morning we wired to our Montreal offices to send every avail-able man, and to keep the excursions coming just as long as it was possible to do so. However, supposing that we get three thousand from the two we will have very little more than half the number of men we had last year.

"The reason for this is not far to seek. The west is not the only part of Canada that feels prosperity at the present time. There is all kinds of present time. There is all kinds of work in the east, and men do not need to come west to get all the work they can do at high wages. The east has good crops and has very few men to spare for the western demands. Pros perity is apparent throughout the whole country, and is the prime cause of labor shortage.

"Again, we did not get as many people in Winnipeg as we got last year, and that is accentuating the d'ffi-culty." Farmers to Blame. "Farmers have themselves to blame for the present state of their labor market," said a man this morning, who declined to let his name appear who declined to let his name appear "A farmer is a mean man. Last year men came up from eastern Canada and went out to the farming districts. They had to lay around for a few days and pay their board. If farmers had had their eyes on the future they would not have done this. The men got heart'ly sick of laying around, and the least the farmers could have done would have been to take the men out to their farms and board them till the harvests were ready. narvests were ready.

High Rates Not Cause. "The talk of its being the railroads The talk of its being the railroads fault for increasing the fare to the west this year is all twaddle. The increase in wages will more than regay for any extra cost that the men may be up against to get to the harvest fields."

A prominent railroad official queted the case of a farmer near the the case of a farmer near Moose Jaw, who had driven up to the public water line tranches of the city and had hired the men right out of the ditch to go out to the farm with him at $3.50, the out to the farm with him at $3.50, the farmer to board them wet weather and dry. They were getting only $2.75 on the city works, board themselves, and he simply snapped them up by offering more. That kind of thing is going on throughout the west," he concluded.

The tremendous selling from the first day of our Final Summer Clearance has surpassed our most sanguine expectations—the greater portion of these sale goods has already been distributed where they can be of immediate sorvice and we are happy to announce that it will be possible to make a Preliminary Showing of some of the new Fall Merchandise a full week earlier than we hoped for. This will be particularly welcome news for those who expect to take part in the social activities of Stampede week, or any woman who is interested in the new things for Fall, for they have long since learned that our styles are authoritative, and always abreast of the World's

From our Window Displays in particular fashion devot ees can obtain quite a comprehensive idea of the "dernier cri" in Autumn apparel, and a tour through the store will reveal many attractive gatherings of newest merchandise. But keep a sharp look out for the Sale Specials, to-they'll be strongly in evidence in every section, and in the majority of instances you can save more than you spend-for prices have been cut without regard to cost or profit.

New Dress Goods and Cloakings

The first showing of dress fabrics and cloakings is a forerunner of what will be the finest showing this store has yet made. We have simply bought everything of merit and in all shades that will be desirable.

In these first arrivals note particularly:

New Chinchilla Velours—the "style" of all pile fabrics for Fall and Winter coats.

Exclusive Lengths—one only in each of the new colors. New Reversible Cloakings -- in browns, tans, new fawns, greys, navys, greens, etc., stripes and plain shades. These Reversible Cloakings are light weight, warm and exceedingly dressy.

Whipcoard Suitings-Striking individuality in costumes -what every smart dressing woman covets-will be easily secured this season by making a selection from these new whipcord weaves in two tone effects. Beautiful and exclusive colorings.

New Shot Silks—These handsome fabrics will enjoy an even greater popularity during the Fall and Winter season, than during the summer.

We have laid our plans accordingly, and a really magnificent collection awaits your inspection and choosing.
