"Until my boy was six years of age he was afflicted with a terrible sufferer from scrofula humor. Sores would appear on him and spread until as large as a dollar and then discharge, followed by others, so that the larger part of his body was one mass of sores all the time, especially severe on his legs and back from his neck down to his feet. The humor had a very offensive odor, and caused

Intense Itching

We cannot tell how that poor boy suffered in all those years. Physicians did not effect a cure. At last I decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla, as my druggist recommended it. In about two weeks the Sarsaparilla began to work. The sores commenced to heal and the itching ceased. Then the sores came off and over his body new and healthy flesh and skin formed. When he had taken two bottles he was entirely free from sores, having only the scars to show where they had been. There have been no relapses. We are unable to express our thanks for the good.

DAN DONOVAN DEAD!

Tragic Sequel to a Syracuse Glove Fight.

Sam Crane's Observations on the Effect of the New Baseball Rules.

ATHLETICS.

DAN DONOVAN KILLED.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 5.—Dan Donovan, of Syracuse, who was defeated in his mill with Geo. Dunfee, of this city, at Maple Bay last night, died at 4:50 o'clock this afternoon. The defeated pugilist recovered consciousness after the last and decisive blow was struck in the seventh round, although a score of physicians worked over him all night. The sheriff, who was not at the fight, woke to a realization of his duty this morning, and on warrants issued by the district attorney, arrested Dunfee, who won the fight, and E. J. Donohue, of New York, who acted as referee. The latter was admitted to bail. Dunfee probably will not be bailed. He has the sympathy of the public, and is much affected by the unfortunate ending of his first fight. Donovan's two brothers are in the city. His mother has been sent for. She has not yet been told of her son's death. Donovan's second, "Tom" King and "Pat" Hussey, of Cleveland, are blamed for not throwing up the sponge before the last blow. Donovan was plainly knocked out, but was allowed to rise to his feet and receive another terrific blow behind the right ear. The doctor says that the death was caused by concussion of the brain. Other arrests are liable to follow, many of those who participated in the affair being prominent politicians. Several hundred witnessed the fight.

A TRAVELING COMPANY OF COMPETITORS. Kathie Kerr, the heavy-weight athlete and manager, originally from Lucknow, Canada, has organized the International Scottish and Amateur Athletic Combination, and will make a tour of the United States and Canada, giving a series of athletic games every day in the principal towns and cities. The tour is to begin on May 1 in Connecticut and continue until Sept. 15. The programme will consist of 25 professional and ten local events, and will include all styles of outdoor athletic games. It will not be an exhibition of paid athletes, but a series of competitions by the best men available. Competitions will be open to all.

Cash prizes will be given in all professional competitions. Local and amateur athletes will receive prizes in medals and jewelry.

The following athletes have sent in their entries: Chas. Currie, champion shot-putter; Archie and Walter Scott, all-round athletes; Gideon Perry, Sam McLean, Jas. Grant, Peter Priddy, E. C. McLellan, Steve Farrell, Tom Burrows and Collins. Albert H. Dohm, of No. 32 Church street, New York, is the backer and business manager.

FOOTBALL.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 5.—Yale defeated Pennsylvania at football this afternoon by a score of 8 to 7.

BASEBALL.

HUNTING WILL ROOM.
Sam Crane's observant eye has been watching the games down South. According to his view the new rule retreating the pitcher five feet has not accomplished the purpose intended by the all-wise magnates. Indeed, the games in the South go to show that the very opposite is the truth. The change, as a general thing, are pleased with the change. They say that some pitchers will be even more effective than under last season's rules. The additional five feet gives the pitcher increased power and control over his curves, shots and drops, and makes him more predominant in the game than ever. With the pitcher even more effective than formerly, as the experiment conclusively proves, hunting will be indulged in by batters more than ever, and the five feet further from the plate, where the twister is now placed, will make it extremely difficult for him to cover many of the balls that drop in front of the plate which he was enabled to do last season. In fact the pitchers threw out more men last season at first base on bunt hits than did the third baseman. Bunting will be diminished under the new rule rather than increased.

NEVER TOO OLD TO ELOPE.

Proof of It Shown in a Brooklyn Police Court.

NEW YORK, April 5.—An old man wept and unburdened himself of a tale of woe in the Lee Avenue Police Court in Brooklyn. He was John Rosenberg, 65 years old, of 38 Montrose avenue.

Two years ago, he said, he married Anna Friedenberg, a widow 53 years old. The aged groom provided a home for his gray-headed spouse and child by a former husband, and the honeymoon lasted until two weeks ago, when the bride was visited by a Frenchman, one of her old friends.

The Frenchman, who was himself over 60 years old, proved an obtrusive guest, and after lavishing many attentions on Mrs. Rosenberg before the eyes of her husband, he was ordered to leave, and left.

The venerable bride demurred, but finally acquiesced, and a new era of good feeling set in.

On Monday Mrs. Rosenberg vanished with her child. On coming home that night from work, Mr. Rosenberg found the house deserted. On the table was a note from Mrs. Rosenberg saying she had gone to Anaconda, Mont., and would never come back.

Mr. Rosenberg located Anaconda, his wife, and the old Frenchman at 74 Johnson avenue, Brooklyn, and asked Mrs. Rosenberg to come back. She declined, and Mr. Rosenberg asked Police Justice Goetting to restore her by force. The judge said he could not interfere, and Mr. Rosenberg went off in a burst of grief and rage.

SHOT HIS SON.

Joseph Tye Goes to Jail for Three Years.

CORNWALL, Ont., April 5.—The case of Joseph Tye, of Cornwall township, charged with shooting and seriously wounding his son, resulted in a verdict of guilty. He was sentenced to three years in the Kingston Penitentiary. Tye's crime was shooting and badly wounding his 20-year-old son on the night of Feb. 6 last. The family lately had not lived on the best of terms. Tye and his oldest son being especially antagonistic. The old man came home on the evening in question in a rather intoxicated condition, and taking his shot gun, let loose a cow out of the stable and proceeded to drive it to Cornwall. The young man came in soon after, and started in pursuit. Words passed between the two, and finally the youth received 108 grains of shot in his body, from the old man's gun, his side from the shoulder to the thigh being completely riddled. He recovered, however, sufficiently to give evidence against his father.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

Presbyterian Representative Dropped from the I. S. S. Lesson Committee.

TORONTO, April 5.—The Presbyterian Sunday School Executive convened here to-day. Much indignation was expressed at the action of the international Sunday school lesson committee in dropping Dr. McVickers, the Presbyterian representative, from its number.

Various suggestions were considered—one that they ignore the committee lessons and adopt lessons of their own. There were serious objections, however, in all of the suggestions, and the perplexing subject of the outline of lessons selected by the next seven years.

ONLY TEN YEARS OLD!

Arrest of a Rochester Girl in the Act of Breaking Open a Safe.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 5.—Tina Renick, aged 10 years, was arrested at midnight Sunday night in the act of breaking into the safe in Henry Wahl's store, in the suburb of this city. She was in the police court to-day accused of burglary.

Patrolman Allen's attention was attracted by sounds of pounding in the store, and being convinced that a burglar was operating on the safe in the store, he forced his way in. What was his surprise to find instead of a burly burglar a young girl standing in front of the safe holding a hammer, with which she had been attempting to break the combination knob. She had only succeeded in battering it badly.

A glance about the store revealed the fact that the girl had been operating on the cash drawer with a can opener which lay near it. The child cried and begged the officer to let her go, as she had stolen nothing of the kind before. Patrolman Allen took the child to the home of her parents on Widman street and procured a warrant which was served yesterday.

The district attorney asked that the child be held for the grand jury, and that she be committed temporarily to the State Industrial School.

Humano Agent Groot asked that she be placed in the custody of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, pending the disposition of the case by the grand jury. The case was adjourned.

Runoff at Thorold.

THOROLD, Ont., April 5.—The passenger train of the Niagara Central run off the track a mile east of here this afternoon, supposed to have been caused by the spreading of the rails. The engine and two cars left the track. No person hurt.

Fortunate Miss Canfield.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Marguerite P. Canfield, the 22-year-old niece of James E. Canfield, of the Board of Trade, has just received news that she is heirless to a one-fourth interest in estates in the south and in Europe valued at something over $1,000,000. Miss Canfield has on three former occasions inherited an aggregate of $30,000.

She Had Pluck.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Mary Brady, housekeeper for Rev. Father Farrell, of St. Joseph's Church, in Tremont, found a man hiding under the bed in the priest's room yesterday forenoon. The plucky woman seized the man and shouted for help. The pastor went for a policeman while Mary held on to the thief, who was soon locked up in the Tremont station. He gave his name as Vincent Murray, and said he lived in Jersey City. It is thought he intended to steal the offerings of the church.

CRIME IN KENTUCKY.

A Young Girl and Her Father Assassinated in a Carriage.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 5.—Miss Abbie Oliver, of Sturgis, in Union county, was ruined about eight months ago. Henry Delaney, a young drug clerk of Sturgis, was charged with causing her downfall. Last night the mother of the girl entered Delaney's place of business in Sturgis, and at the point of her pistol forced him to accompany her to a carriage outside in which her husband and daughter were seated. The four armed men on horseback surrounded the carriage. Miss Oliver was shot, and died at 5 o'clock this morning. Mr. Oliver is fatally wounded. Mrs. Oliver recognized the party, and warrants for the arrest of four prominent young men have been issued.

SHOCKED AT SEA.

The Bark H. J. Libby Encountered a Submarine Earthquake.

BOSTON, April 5.—The bark H. J. Libby, of Portland, which has arrived for Melbourne, reports that on Jan. 11, at 8 a.m., when in latitude 54° 10' south, longitude 54° 40' west, she experienced a severe shock of submarine earthquake. It lasted fully ten seconds and caused the vessel to tremble from stem to stern as if she were passing over rough bottom.

On Jan. 15, in latitude 50° 25' south, longitude 45° 8' west, seven large icebergs were sighted, two of which were flat on top and from two to three miles in length and about 250 feet high.

LABOR FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

[F. E. THUS, Toronto.]

How can we best care for that large and ever growing body of citizens who cannot find continuous employment? It is useless to shut our eyes and say they do not exist. It is criminal to sit idly by and see them through despair driven each year further into degradation. In a land which boasts of a Christianity whose underlying basis is the brotherhood of man, it is a strange anomaly that our system of government, which should be and is the ideal of the majority, should make no provision whatever to afford our unfortunate brothers and sisters the means of earning a subsistence.

In Toronto, one in every twenty of the inhabitants applies for charity. In the smaller cities and towns the same thing is true on a smaller scale. Toronto donates to the House of Industry each year from $10,000 to $15,000, and this is supplemented by private charity. On the whole it would not be an extravagant estimate to say that $50,000 is given annually in charity in that city, and with what result?

The recipient is degraded. His manhood is debased. His independence is weakened. His habits of industry are destroyed, and he is thus rendered comparatively useless to the community. The next winter the same process is repeated. Is it any wonder that the number of unemployed is each year augmented?

The amount expended annually in Toronto would, if capitalized, furnish a fund sufficient to furnish honest and remunerative employment to those who need it. Every man's labor, if properly directed, will produce more than sufficient to support him and yet honest workmen, anxious to find employment, walk the streets in vain.

Let us remember that, whether idle or employed, every one is and must be furnished the means of existence by the whole community, and as a fact they are, or else they die of hunger. Then, since the community must support its idle, whether they will or not, ordinary business habits of thought would suggest that it would be cheaper for every city and other municipality to provide employment of a kind which would reimburse the municipality and its outlay. In other words, furnish the means which will enable the idle to support themselves.

When we consider that there are some from every trade and occupation in the ranks of the unemployed and that in the community as a whole each trade and occupation serves to support and be supported by the others, it is not apparent that all that is necessary to do in order to solve the problem of the unemployed is for the community to direct the efforts and place the materials of labor in the hands of those who are idle? Furnish factories and farms under proper management; then say to any one who seeks assistance: "Then, since the community must support its idle, whether they will or not, ordinary business habits of thought would suggest that it would be cheaper for every city and other municipality to provide employment of a kind which would reimburse the municipality and its outlay. In other words, furnish the means which will enable the idle to support themselves."

Anyone in private life would adopt this method of providing for those for whom he was compelled to provide; yet so far as our Government from a business basis that not only is this not done, but municipalities are actually debared from having industries of this kind. It is time that our Legislative Assembly enacted some laws which would meet the necessities of our industrial situation.

"She Looketh Well"

to the ways of her household." Yes, Solomon is right; that's what the good housekeeper everywhere does, but particularly in Canada.

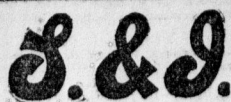

But her ways are not always old ways. In fact she has discarded many unsatisfactory old ways. For instance, to-day she is using the New Shortening, instead of lard. And this is in itself a reason why "she looketh well" in another sense, for she eats no lard to cause poor digestion and a worse complexion.

COTTONS is much better than lard for all cooking purposes, as every one who has tried it declares. Have you tried it? For sale everywhere.

THE CUMULATIVE VOTE.

(Toronto Daily Star.)
Gerrymandering and bribery are two great and acknowledged evils that cling to our present electoral system of small constituencies. It would be hard to find a more effectual remedy for these evils than is the cumulative vote in large constituencies.

Gerrymandering would be wiped out and no more heard of, simply because it would not pay. There would no longer be any political advantage to be gained from it. In any large constituency, returning, say, nine members, where each elector had nine votes, the nine members would truly represent the public opinion of the constituency; and no matter how the boundaries were changed or twisted, the result would be the same—a fair and true representation.

Bribery would have its effective force as an electoral factor so much weakened under the cumulative vote that it would hardly be worth while to practice it. It is well known that bribing is much more difficult to carry on where the constituency is large. Besides this, it would no longer be a question of "turning the scale," when a few voters going one way or the other will decide which party gets the member.

The farmers are beginning to appreciate the importance of this question. It is a proposed plank in the platform of the Farmers of Industry; and it is warmly advocated by the CANADA FARMERS' SUG, which speaks for 100,000 farmers.

ADVERTISEMENTS CHANGES.

It is necessary that copy for changes of advertisements (to be sure of insertion) must be handed in on the day previous to that on which their appearance is desired.

To nearly all men a good cigar is an invaluable companion, but a bad one is intolerable. The latter may be easily avoided by procuring a brand that is recognized by the smoking public as above reproach. The leading favorite in the race is the Highland Lassic, a 5-cent cigar, and one of the choicest makes on the market. H.
