The Recommendation That the Delegates Decided to Indorse-Many Converts to Revision.

Philadelphia, May 26 .- In refusing to adopt the minority report by a vote of pire. The reconstruction policy is 271 to 234, the Presbyterian general assembly on Saturday took another step in favor of revising the confession of faith. The recommendation which the assembly thus indorsed is as follows:

"B-We recommend that a commitmovement under Gen. Bindon Blood against the Boers is proceeding in the Eastern Transvaal. Commandant Vil-joen has been trying to escape to the tee be instructed to prepare a brief summary of the reformed faith, bearing the same relation to the confession which the shorter catechism bears to the larger catechism, and formed on the general model of the concensus creed prepared for the general assembly in 1892, or the articles of faith of the Presbyterian Church of England, both of which documents are appended to the committee's report, and submitted to the assembly, to be referred to the committee appointed."

With the consent of the assembly the motion was changed so that the vote was changed so that the vote was taken on the question of striking out the recommendation from the majority report instead of accepting the minority report as a substitute.

MODERATOR'S VIEWS. During the discussion of the subject Moderator Minton gave the gavel to Vice-Moderator Pitcairn, while addressed the commissioners in favor of the amendment. Dr. Minton said the recommendation meant simply the establishment of a new creed. After the announcement of the vote, Rev. Dr. J. D. Moffitt informed the sesion that on Monday he would pre-that the recommendation might be sent to the Presbyteries. Rev. Dr Herrick Johnson presented a logical argument in favor of the retention of the recommendation analyzing the confession of faith, demonstrating the necessity for changes in certain clauses and showing the benefits to be derived therefrom. Numerous doubtful commissioners were brought ever to the ranks of the revisionists by Dr. Johnston's address. An effort was made to postpone the vote until Monday, but the commissioners were impatient, and insisted on the putting of the question. The moderator was unable to decide by a viva voce vote, and a division being called for, a rising vote was taken.

Des Moines, Ia., May 25.—The United Presbyterian Assembly of North America devoted two hours today to discussing whether the creed shall be changed to admit members of secret societies to the churches. As a result two amendments to the revision report were offered, and are now with the committee on judiciary. The first offered by Dr. A. G. Wallace, of Allegheny, is a compromise; which de-clares strongly against secret orders, but leaves discretionary power with the various sessions. An amendment to this is offered by Dr. J. M. Wallace of Pittsburg, declares strongly against all organizations which are anti-Christ. The judiciary committee will report on the two amendments Monday, at which time it is believed the questions will be finally settled. The committee on bills and overtures made a special report, stating that the overture to repeal that part of section 4, chapter 14, of the confession of faith, which reads: may not marry any of his wife's kindred nearer in blood than of his own," has received a clear constitutional majority of the votes of the church,

London, May 27.—The condition of Princess Victoria, the King's only unmarried daughter, is causing grave concern in court circles. All the outside world ever hears of the subject is an occasional official announcement that owing to her royal highness' indisposition she will be unable to accompany her mother on some partic-

THE KING AND QUEEN will spend Whitsuntide at Windsor, where their private apartment in the castle has been refurnished and decorated. The departure of the King and Queen for Windsor was witnessed by holiday throngs with the usual signs of popular enthusiasm. The King is not likely to attend any yacht trials in the future, though the danger to which he was exposed in the Shamrock II. accident has been exaggerated. It has been urged by the ministers that while the Duke of Cornwall is out of England he ought to be more sent an amendment with the object of prudent in accepting invitations. It is pointed out that there is no regency act by which emergencies can be met when the throne becomes vacant and the new sovereign is over seas.

STOPPED THE DANCING. The King's own dinner party is of more direct interest to the fashionable world, since it is a warrant of unrestricted dining during the remainder of the season. The dances have stopped almost as soon as begun, for the King has been reported as regarding them with disfavor this year. There can be dancing after dinner, but it must be an incident, not the main entertainment. This will not stand in the way of a good many dinners in different houses, with dancing at one of them.
