Old Man Coyote Tries To Rob Reddy Fox of a Good Dinner

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Reddy Fox was not the only one to lick lips hungrily at the news that there were two young Porcupines in the Green Forest. Old Man Coyote did the very same thing. So did Yowler the Bob Cat. Even little Shadow the Weasel licked his lips. Not one of them had ever seen a baby Porcupine. None could imagine such little fellows as being anything but helpless. Each felt that if he could get them away from Mrs. Porky there would be no trouble at all in getting a good dinner of tender young Porcupine.

So Reddy Fox had not long been in hiding where he could watch the Porcupine family when he saw Old Man Coyote approaching softly. The sight of him angered Reddy Fox. But he took care to keep perfectly still and not let Old Man Coyote know that he was there. The funny part is that Reddy Fox actually felt that Old Man Coyote had no right there. He actually felt that Old Man Coyote was there to try to rob him of something that wasn't his. Of course this wasn't so at all.

Old Man Coyote sat down and watched Prickly Porky's family for a while. Then he did exactly what Reddy Fox had done. Yes, sir, he did just that. He picked out a good hiding-place from which he could watch the Porcupine family, and there he made himself comfortable. It was quite clear to Reddy that Old Man Coyote had just the same idea that he had. He had made up his mind that those young Porcupines were harmless, and he intended to wait for them to come down out of that tree.

Now Reddy Fox is no match for either Old Man Coyote or Yowler the Bob Cat. He knows it. "I may as well move on and try to forget those young Porcupines," thought Reddy. "If they come down one of those fellows will get them. I haven't a chance. No, sir, I haven't a chance." Black anger filled Reddy's heart.

But still Reddy didn't go. Reddy has learned by experience that opportunity often comes in the most unexpected way. Old Man Coyote and Yowler might get tired and leave before those young Porcupines came over those young Porcupines and give him a chance to seize one of them. You know you never can tell what may happen.

As for Mrs. Porky and her two children, they appeared to have no thought of anything but filling their stomachs. They didn't even stop eating to now and then look around. They knew nothing of those hungry, hidden watchers. They acted just as if there was no one else in the Green Forest, and as if there was no such thing as danger in all the Great World. They were enjoying their meal of tender bark and young twigs and leaves. They were filling their stomachs with the food they liked best, and there was plenty of it. To see them doing this and to hear the little grunts of pleasure made the hungry, hidden watchers hungrier than ever.

Trap Shooting.

The hundred or more trap shooters from all parts of Canada and the United States, including yacht loads from Detroit and Amherstburg, and individuals or small parties from Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Cleveland and other places will be the first to get into action in their big trapshoot which opens at 9 o'clock on the beach. The clay pigeons will be sprung out over Lake Erie and before nightfall thousands of rounds will have been fired in competitions for rich trophies and other prizes. The trick of cracking the pigeons in the veering flights is not alone a good game for the trapshooter; it is a thrilling spectacle of never failing interest for the spectator as well.

In the afternoon the other big features of the day will enliven both beach and heights. The land sports will be run off on Invererie Heights while the First Hussars Band furnishes a carnival program from a nearby stand. Interest in the sports is certain to be greater than ever in view of the fact that numerous novelty comic events have been injected into the bill, every event of which is open to the world. The prizes this year are worthy of special mention. All are new and are articles of a type that will make the successful participants proud of their winnings.

The Baby Show.

News of the $500 baby show competition now in progress at Port Stanley has spread from one end of the country to the other, and large numbers of entries are being received from unusually distant places. The lure of winning a prize that will insure the lucky baby for twenty years and at the end of that time pay $500 in cash, all without any action to either child or parents, has been felt in all parts of the country. will prove one of the strongest attractions ever offered at the popular lakeside resort. The Cleveland girls will arrive on the S. S. Colonial and will spend the holiday and night in Port Stanley, returning Wednesday morning to the Ohio metropolis. This international match is to be played at 5 o'clock.

As a prelude to that struggle the London Molly-O's and St. Thomas girls are to meet in an inter-city championship match at 2:45.

The afternoon attractions will be capped with a magnificent display of new daylight fireworks.

Fun in Evening.

Early in the evening the fun resumes with a band concert on Invererie Heights by the G.W.V.A. band at 7:15. The beach movies with the thrilling melodramatic tale of love and pirates, "Strangers of the Night" and two laugh-makers commence at 8:30 in the new aerodrome.

Throughout the day and evening there will be the incessant amusements of the board walk concessionaires, the roller coaster, the big dancing pavilion, and the dozen and one games and rides that delight young and old. The whole park is in wonderful condition for Canada's national holiday.

The L. & P. S. has arranged a grand finale of dazzling fireworks. Fast electric trains will be operated on a regular hourly schedule in each direction with numerous specials to take care of the anticipated holiday crowds. A large number of steam road coaches have been procured to aid in handling the extra traffic.

WIFE WINS ACTION.

Special to The Advertiser.

Windsor, June 29.—A. R. Brown, at present working in Detroit, was the defendant in the local police court on Friday morning in a case brought by his wife for failing to support her, but did not appear. Having taken the evidence of Mrs. Brown, Magistrate A. B. Carscadden made an order in her favor for $8 and week and costs.
