

Leatrice Joy, the picture star, wearing a "Napoleon chain hat" from Paris

Riding the elephants is popular sport at Old London's Zoo

Impressive clock tower in Delhi, India

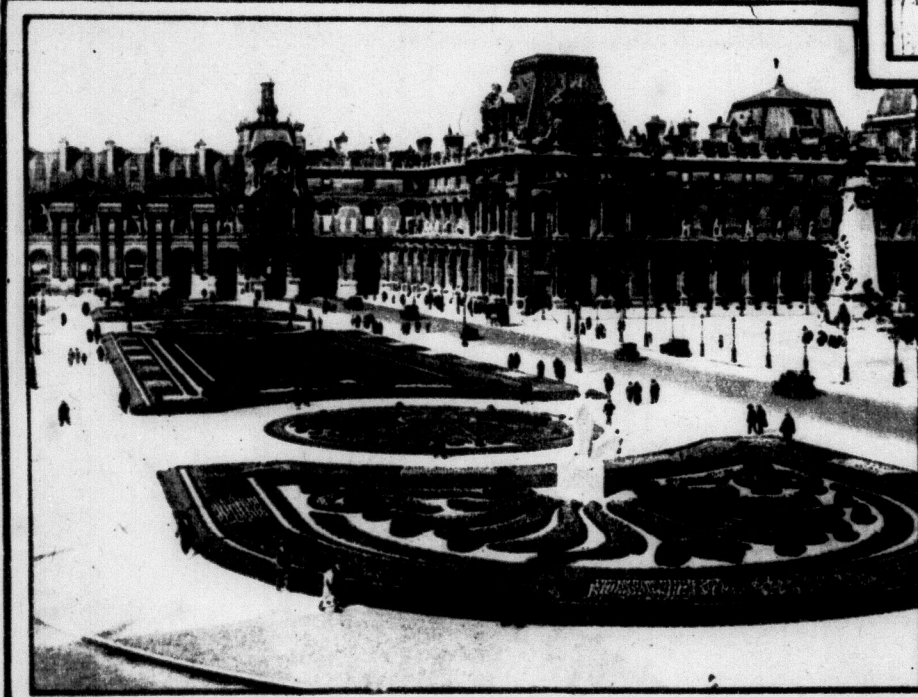

The King and Queen of Rumania and Princess Ileana out for a morning ride, the royal ladies wearing native dress

Falcon hunting revived in Europe. The falcon, after bringing down its quarry, returns to his master's wrist

War veterans in Berlin celebrating the election of their former commander, von Hindenburg, as president of Germany

Spectacular display of tulips in the Tuilleries gardens in Paris

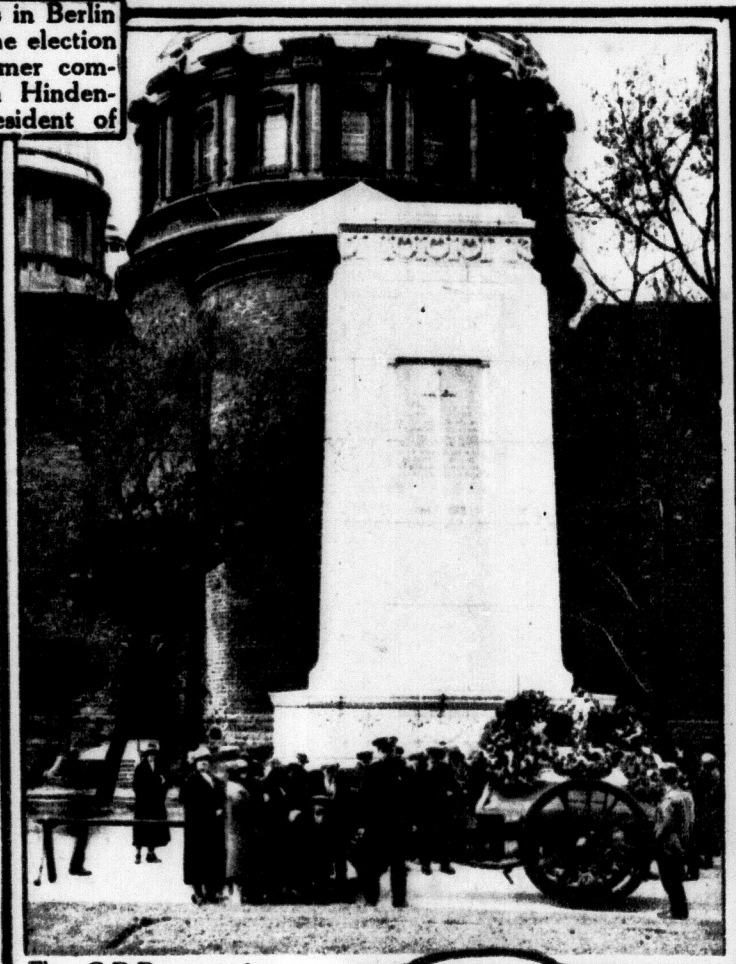

Mr. Thomas H. Wood of Toronto, vice-president of the Standard Bank, sailing from New York for Europe

A typical example of the Riffian cavalymen, who are giving the French and Spanish forces in Morocco so much trouble

The main fragment of the recent important discovery at Ur of the Chaldees, Mesopotamia, showing the Moon God commanding the building of the Temple to Ur-Engur

The C.P.R. wreath, a feature of the Last Post Fund for the Cenotaph, Dominion Square, Montreal

Lady Drummond-Hay, British newspaper correspondent, who claims the Spaniards have violated treaties in the Tangier neutral zone in their campaign against the Moorish rebels

The Bishop of Bruges, Belgium, in the annual procession of the Sant Sang

All ready for trip by elephant power. A scene in front of Ombar Palace, Jaipur, India

Marion Davies as she appears in 'Yolanda'