FOUGHT NEAR THE BEAR PIT. Fistic Encounter a la Ruhlin and Jeffreys at Beacon Hill.

freys at Beacon Hill.

There was a fight at Beacon Hill park yesterday afternoon. Not a professional set-to in which the pugllists fanned each other with pillows tied on either hand, but a bare knuckle strenuous fight, in which the blood flew and one of the fighters was knocked out after five three-minute rounds had been fought. The combatants were two sealers, whose names can be given as Bob and Teddy. They are shipping together on the same schooner soon to leave, and were walking on Johnson street together on Friday night, when after an argument on sealing, they came to blows. Friends saparated them and they then agreed to meet at Beacon Hill park at 2.30 p. m. yesterday and fight to the finish.

Quietly the word was passed along the wharves and about the street. By noon 80 or 90 had been informed of the prospective "go," and when the two men stripped to their undershirts in the clump of trees near the bear pits, about 50 stood around the ring, and as many more were wandering through the thicket looking for the place without success. A referee was chosen on the ground.

success. A referee was chosen on the ground.

The two sealers, both husky looking men, shook hands and time was called. Teddy forced the fighting, and swung viciously when the round started, but he had not the reach to get in his blows on Bob's face, whom he punished about the body. Bob was acting on the defensive.

on Bob's face, whom he punished about the body. Bob was acting on the defensive.

Round two started with an interchange of body blows and there were several lively mix-ups. Teddy getting a blow on the nose which brought the "claret" and gave "first blood" to Bob. Both men were making desperate swings and landing now and then on the body.

Round three was lively, both men going at it hammer and tongs, give and take. It was Bob's round, he landing early a heavy blow on Teddy's left optic.

Round four was a repitition of the three-minute fighting which preceded it, and Teddy went down by a solar plexus blow, but he was on his feet again quickly and the round was well fought.

Round five was Bob's from the start. Friendly Help.—The committee in charge of the Christmas arrangements for the Friendly Help society wish to remind all visitors to have a complete list of their needy ones, specifying number of children in before the 20th inst., also they wish to ask them to be present at the rooms on Monday, the 23rd inst., at 11 o'clock a. m. to assort and divide new garments so that each may receive a fair share. Donors are again reminded that the rooms will be open during the week to receive girts.
