

Utah.

A Presbyterian Church a short time ago was organized in the Salt Lake City under favourable auspices. A vigorous Sabbath School has also been established, and the Presbyterian Board of Publication have presented them with a Library.

Turkey.

At the end of eleven years from the commencement of the Church at Harpoot, the work had so extended, that there was connected with it thirteen churches; four hundred and eighteen church members; eleven native pastors, more than half of them supported by their own people; twelve licensed native preachers; twenty-one native teachers, and forty-one other helpers. Of pupils there were two thousand and forty-one, and scores of unpaid laborers went spontaneously forth every Sabbath day as missionaries into the harvest fields around. This was the growth of a single station, and a single church, in less than twelve years.

It is not twenty years since the first missionary sent to Aintab was stoned, and driven away by the people. Eight years after Dr. Anderson, visiting Aintab, was met by a cavalcade of Christian men several miles from Aintab, who escorted him into the very heart of the city, and he saw not even a look of disapprobation.

It is fourteen years since the mission station was begun at Marash. In 1861 Dr. Dwight had the joy of addressing at a communion season an orderly assembly of 1200 people. Among the Armenians there are sixty-three Protestant churches containing two thousand seven hundred and sixty-six members. Of native pastors there are thirty-six, nearly all supported by the people; forty licensed preachers; nearly three hundred native helpers; of pupils in the schools, 6000; and of acknowledged Protestants about 14,000, but the number is really greater.

The Queen and Mr. Moffatt.

While the Queen was at Gosport last week, en route to Windsor, the Rev. Robert Moffatt was presented to Her Majesty by Colonel Ponsonby, Equerry-in-Waiting. The Queen graciously received the celebrated missionary, evinced much interest in the work in which he has for so many years been engaged in South Africa, and asked several questions with reference to his son-in-law (Dr. Livingstone.) In the course of an address in the Independent Chapel in the evening, Mr. Moffatt expressed his gratification at having seen Her Majesty for the first time in his life, and at having spoken to her.—Edinburgh Scotsman.
