

the simplicity with which they disclaim all credit for their heroism. Donna Teresa's dark shadow stalks everywhere, mostly in the distant background, but latterly she steps into the front line where our heroes drink in silence the toast "To the Vengeance of Teresa Saumarez!" The suspense at Chateau Lignac is intense, and at times really terrible, but it is everywhere perfectly sustained. Mr. Drummond will probably never be able to excel some of the pages in the last chapters of the book. Claire de Lignac is as fair a heroine as

Eleanor

Mrs. Humphry Ward's Greatest Novel.

The most important literary event of the year is generally conceded to be this latest novel from the pen of Mrs. Ward, whose eminence in the field of fiction is a truism. The scenes of "Eleanor" are laid in mellow and beautiful Italy. Its characters are English and American people, and the two heroines are an English woman, Eleanor, and Lucy, a New England girl. These two women are in love with one man—an Englishman, Manly. At the same time, the women love each other devotedly. Here at once is a situation which only a master of fiction would dare attempt or could successfully carry through to a triumphant artistic climax. But this complex problem Mrs. Ward presents and solves with consummate ability and charm. She reveals with vivid power the love and tenderness, the questioning, the cruelty, the hope and despair of one woman's heart. Everybody will read and discuss "Eleanor."

Popular Edition, 1 vol., cloth, with frontispiece, $1.50. Holiday Edition, 2 vols., cloth, illustrated by A. E. Sterner, Dark, Blue and Gold, gilt tops (in a box), net, $3.00.

THE CANADIAN ANIMAL BOOK. AND OTHERS OF Mooswa THE BOUNDARIES

By W. A. Fraser With 12 Illustrations by Arthur Heming.

CLOTH, NET, - - - - $1.50.

Author and Illustrator have co-operated in making this story of the woods and their chief denizens a book of imaginative interest and romantic realism. Each knows the Canadian wilderness with the thoroughness of long familiarity, and together they have vividly portrayed the world of the trackless Northern forest. Carcajou, the Wolverine, Mooswa, the Moose, Muskwa, the Bear, Black Fox, the King, and the various other fur-bearing animals, are the dramatic personae of a fascinating story which depicts animal life from the inside. The greatest animal story book yet produced. Specially adapted for a Christmas gift.

Quisante

By Anthony Hope, author of "The Prisoner of Zenda."

PAPER, 75c.; - CLOTH, $1.25.

"Quisante is a political adventurer, a man of no family and no wealth, who forges to the front by his verbal brilliance and innate astuteness.

"The book has a hard, gem-like brilliancy of dialogue, very different from the tender sentiment of his romances. Few authors can handle two styles so acceptably."—The Star.

The Master Christian

By Marie Corelli.

"Marie Corelli's latest book is a daring and uncompromising attack upon ecclesiasticism. She sees the failure of ecclesiasticism is due to the inability or unwillingness of the clerical mind to understand the New Testament ideal of the Church. The gifted authoress is daringly outspoken in her exposure of the hollowness of modern conventional Christianity.

A good many people will be shocked, no doubt, by Marie Corelli's outspokenness. But multitudes of others will applaud the courage which so boldly challenges the hypocrisy, coyness, neia, pride and sin so thinly veiled by a conventional religion. No one can doubt the burning sincerity of the writer who longs to see the 'Living Christ' once more enthroned in the heart of humanity. We advise all who are interested in the religious and social problems of the day to read this strenuous book. THE MASTER CHRISTIAN is a powerful sermon for the times, and deserves to be widely read by members of all Christian communions who believe that God's Kingdom is to come to this earth in the fullness of its glory."—The Methodist Times.
