

It's all part of being part of a modern state with a human face; implementing a new philosophy of government that emphasizes flexible co-operation and innovation throughout Canada and around the world.