

Order Paper Questions

what was the total dollar value of each contract and what was the actual amount paid (c) in each case, did Loto Canada purchase, lease or rent, and if leased or rented, what were the terms and length of the lease or rental (d) did Loto Canada use the service or advice of any government department, agency, subsidiary or agent in its employ for negotiation of any of the contracts and, if so, for which contracts (e) in each case, was the contract finalized by a negotiated settlement and, if not, for what length of time will the contract run?

9. Did Loto Canada in preparation for its lottery system (or Loto Select), hire employees for the servicing, maintenance, operation and administration of the lottery game and, if so (a) how many and in what classifications (b) on what date (c) at what annual rates of pay (d) in which cities were they to be located?

10. Was Loto Select Loto Canada's first experience with operating a computer lottery gaming system and, if so, how did Loto Canada determine the rate of pay of each classification group to be employed by Loto Select?

11. Did Loto Canada pay for the training of its employees for Loto Select over and above their regular salaries and, if so (a) in what locations were they trained and on what dates (b) what expenses were paid for hotel accommodations, meals, transportation, entertainment, telecommunications with their home centre and other services?

12. Did Loto Canada in preparation for its entry into a computer lottery gaming system (or Loto Select), enter into any contract with telecommunications networks between (a) cities in Canada (b) Canada and any other country and, if so, between which cities and/or countries and at what cost?

Return tabled.

Question No. 326—Mr. Dick:

1. Was a decision made by Loto Canada to remove itself from a computer lottery gaming system (or Loto Select) and, if so (a) on what date (b) who made the decision?

2. Were employees hired for Loto Select or by any companies under Loto Canada's direct control laid off by Loto Canada after the decision to remove itself from the computer lottery and, if so, how many and on what dates?

3. (a) By category or classification, what amount in salaries did Loto Canada pay to employees hired for the servicing, maintenance, operation and administration of Loto Select (b) how many received severance pay and what was the total amount?

4. Was a dismissed or laid-off employee of Loto Select required to sign any agreement or oath of secrecy that he/she would not divulge, discuss or disclose any information that he/she had acquired regarding Loto Select while in the employ of Loto Canada or of any company under its direction or control in order to collect his/her severance pay?

5. Prior to the decision by Loto Canada to remove itself from a computer lottery gaming system (or Loto Select), did the cabinet pass orders in council which in any way affected or touched upon any of the contracts or employees of Loto Canada involved or relating to its entrance into or removal from the lottery system and, if so, which ones were passed and on what dates?

[Mr. Dick.]

6. Were there any clauses in the contract with General Instruments for the provision of a computer lottery gaming system (or Loto Select), stating a dollar figure for penalty or liquidated damages if Loto Canada were to back out of the contract and, if so, what were the terms of the clauses and the dollar figure?

7. Were there any clauses in the contract with General Instruments for the provision of equipment for a computer lottery gaming system (or Loto Select), stating a dollar figure for penalty or liquidated damages if General Instruments was unable to deliver the equipment contracted for by the date agreed on and, if so, what were the terms of the clauses and the dollar figure?

8. Did it become apparent to Loto Canada, the government or any subsidiary or agent in its employ, that General Instruments would be unable to meet the contracted date of delivery of equipment, terminals and computers for use in Loto Select?

9. Did Loto Canada, the government or any subsidiary or agent in its employ take into account or know that Consolidated Computer Incorporated and Digital Computers would be able to deliver equipment, terminals and computers prior to the date of delivery in its contract with the province of Ontario for a computer lottery gaming system and, if so, on what date was this taken into account or was such information known?

10. Did Loto Canada or the government in return for removing itself from a computer lottery gaming system, reach an agreement with the province of (a) Ontario (b) Quebec for the province to pay $500,000 towards costs incurred by Loto Canada in extricating itself from its commitments other than the General Instruments contract?

11. Did the province of Ontario and/or the province of Quebec receive, free of any further charge, any of the consulting services, furniture, office space, leasehold improvements, advertising, promotional materials, tickets or information pamphlets, display boards, or any other product, article or service acquired by Loto Canada for use in Loto Select in return for their commitment to contribute $500,000 each towards costs incurred by Loto Canada in extricating itself from contracts other than the General Instruments contract?

12. Did any other province contribute funds toward the costs incurred by Loto Canada in extricating itself from its contracts related to Loto Select and, if so, which provinces and what was their contribution?

13. Did Loto Canada, the government or any subsidiary, department or agent in their employ or on their behalf, enter into negotiations with General Instruments to extricate Loto Canada from its contract with General Instruments and, if so, on what date?

14. Did Loto Canada resolve and finalize its contract with General Instruments and, if so, on what date?