n below 353	To werry hearts, to mourning homes 430
. 44	'Twas a beautiful night on a beautiful deep 87
. 330	'Twas a summery day in the last of May 413
. 383	'Twas midnight dark 252
gray 384	'Twas late in the autumn of '53 187
. 480	'Twas only a wandering pilgrim 249
stain 116	'Twas on the shores that round the coast 232
ely isle 462	'Twas post meridian, half-past four 146
a? 27	'Twas the day beside the Pyramids 277
. 357	'Twas twilight and the sunless day went down 150
. 473	Twilight shade is calmly falling 163
n 459	Two little ones grown tired of play 152
. 460	Two little squirrels out in the sun 364
damp 242	Two spiders, so the story goes 326
y 56	Two thousand years have rolled around 466
. 33	Two voices are there—one is of the sea 347
e 444	Unanswered yet! the prayer your lips have
t skies 399	pleaded 462
r him 183	Unhappy life, while life was in its spring 395
. 553	Unto me glad summer 116
. 392	Up in early morning light 304
d 178	Up in the garret the grandmother sits 25
. 145	Up! Quit thy bower! Late wears the hour 178
. 71	Up springs the lark 78
ul gone 362	Up the dale and down the bourne 56
. 232	Up with the starry banners 378
. 118	Voice of summer, keen and shrill 40
ea 148	Wake, awake, for night is flying 584
w 85	Wait not the morrow, but forgive me now 434
. 305	War's fiery hand scales down the walls 281
. 252	We are up and away ere the sunrise hath
. 99	kissed 319
wer 30	We count the broken lyres that rest 456
. 159	We gathered round the festive board 220
. 181	We have boiled the hydrant water 494
. 180	We have a weapon firmer set 273
. 198	We left behind the painted buoy 153
. 198	We miss her footfall on the floor 42
. 498	We sat within the farmhouse old 40
. 407	We wandered to the Pine Forest 83
s latest 428	We stood upon the ragged rocks 61
. 32	We were not many, we who stood 230
wn 283	We were on picket, sir, he and I 220
ing 200	We would meet and welcome thee 392
. 140	Weep not for him! the Thracians wisely gain 397
. 240	Wee, sleekit, cow'ring, tim'rous beastie 80
. 94	We'll not weep for summer over 74
. 197	Welcome, pale primrose 106
. 478	Well, why don't you say it, husband 314
. 116	Were half the power that fills the world 288
. 451	Werther had a love for Charlotte 493
. 503	What shall I do with all the days and hours 36
he ques- 172	What, wakest thou, spring? 107
. 113	What a symbol of love is that circle of gold 23
mer 299	What do you think of my youngster 255
nt 29	What, was it a dream? Am I all alone? 292

What telegraphed war! 264	When Maria Jane's elected 492
What care we for skies that are snowing? 369	When midnight o'er the moonless skies 253
What power is this that me—a timid maid 580	When morning broke and baby came 37
What great improvements now-a-days 486	When on the fragrant sandal-tree 459
What was it that I loved so well 134	When should lovers breathe their vows 176
What songster wakens when across the snow 125	When the British warrior queen 232
What though you tell each gay little rover 77	When the dying flame of day 264
When all the tiny wheeling stars 478	When the frost is on the punkin 496
When banners are waving 287	When the merry lark doth gild 116
When breezes are soft and skies are fair 318	When the sunlight fell with radiant glory 374
When Delia on the plain appears 191	When thou art near me 187
When freedom from the land of Spain 260	When your beauty appears 181
When first the Friendship-flower is planted 442	Where art thou, O my beautiful 166
When God shall ope the gates of gold 471	Where is the German's fatherland 243
When in the storm on Albion's coast 134	Where mountains round a lonely day 321
When I write to you 164	Where olive leaves were twinkling 223
When leaves grow fear all things take sombre	Where, O where is winter? 124
hue 79	Where shall we make her grave? 447
When lessons and tasks are all ended 374	When spring to woods and wastes around 228
When Maria Jane's elected 492	Where sunless rivers weep 457
When midnight o'er the moonless skies 253	Where the pools are bright and deep 376
When morning broke and baby came 37	Which I wish to remark 219
When on the fragrant sandal-tree 459	While the moon with sudden gleam 100
When should lovers breathe their vows 176	White breakers foam upon the desolate sands 117
When the British warrior queen 232	Who has not dreamed a world of bliss 112
When the dying flame of day 264	Who has not heard of the Vale of Cashmere? 59
When the frost is on the punkin 496	Who murmurs that his heart is sick 39
When the merry lark doth gild 116	Who would be a mermaid fair 149
When the sunlight fell with radiant glory 374	Who would scorn his humble fellow 331
When thou art near me 187	Why don't you laugh, young man 488
When your beauty appears 181	Wildly round our woodland quarters 337
Where art thou, O my beautiful 166	Willfred has fallen, but o'er him stood 263
Where is the German's fatherland 243	Will you take a walk with me 368
Where mountains round a lonely day 321	Witch-hazel, dogwood, and the maple here 69
Where olive leaves were twinkling 223	With fingers weary and worn 339
Where, O where is winter? 124	Within a sheltered, mossy glade 225
Where shall we make her grave? 447	With little here to do or see 81
When spring to woods and wastes around 228	With nature's self 409
Where sunless rivers weep 457	With troubled face and neglected hair 472
Where the pools are bright and deep 376	Wo for my vine-clad home! 280
Which I wish to remark 219
While the moon with sudden gleam 100
White breakers foam upon the desolate sands 117
Who has not dreamed a world of bliss 112
Who has not heard of the Vale of Cashmere? 59
Who murmurs that his heart is sick 39
Who would be a mermaid fair 149
Who would scorn his humble fellow 331
Why don't you laugh, young man 488
Wildly round our woodland quarters 337
Willfred has fallen, but o'er him stood 263
Will you take a walk with me 368
Witch-hazel, dogwood, and the maple here 69
With fingers weary and worn 339
Within a sheltered, mossy glade 225
With little here to do or see 81
With nature's self 409
With troubled face and neglected hair 472
Wo for my vine-clad home! 280
