

SECTION SIXTH.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS AGENCIES	184-220
Supreme importance of such agencies.....	184
Great progress made in this direction	184
Sketch of this progress in English prisons	184-186
Fearful lack of religious and moral influences prior to Howard's time..	184
Latimer lifted up his voice against the unchecked heathenism of prisons	185
Earlier efforts in this direction by Bernard Gilpin and the non-conformist ministers	185
Later, Whitfield, the Wesleys and their followers preached much in prisons..	185
Pre-eminent devotion of Sarah Peters to this work.....	185
Labors of Silas Told in prisons for twenty-five years..	186
Act passed in 1773 authorising the appointment of chaplains in English jails,	186
English prisons now well supplied in this respect	186
History of religious instruction in American prisons	186-192
Religious condition of these prisons in 1826	186
Some little sums paid to religious teachers.....	186
Not a single resident prison chaplain then in the United States.....	187
Many prison officers made earnest efforts in this direction, and resident chaplains were appointed in 1827 in Auburn and Sing Sing.....	188
Decided and rapid progress made from that time	188
In 1833 every state prison cell in the country supplied with a bible	189
Bible much read by the prisoners at that time	189
Resident chaplaincies soon after established in many prisons.....	189
Flourishing Sabbath schools reported in ten prisons in 1833	190
Morning and evening prayers established in some prisons.....	191
Immense good accomplished through chaplains and Sabbath schools...	192
Present state of religious instruction in the prisons of the United States and
Canada	192
Much attention given to this subject in the provincial penitentiary.....	193
Zealous labors of Chaplain Mulkins	193
View held by the Canadian inspectors of the value of religion as an agency of reformation.....	195
General view of the provision made for religious instruction in the prisons of the United States at the present time	196
Prisons in which Sabbath schools are established.....	196
Daily religious services held in prisons of Massachusetts and Connecticut, but in no others.....	198
One service and sermon on Sunday in all.....	198
A prison choir and melodeon in most prisons	198
The service of song found to have a good effect	198
The Lord's supper never administered, but baptism occasionally	198
Convicts' prayer meetings.....	199
Testimony to the interest taken by convicts in the religious services	202
Religious offices to the sick and the dying	202
Disposition made of the bodies of deceased prisoners.....	203
A burial service performed in some prisons, in others not.....	203
A copy of the bible placed in every cell	204
The bible in general much read by convicts.....	204
Religious tracts and papers freely distributed.....	205
Pastoral labor performed by chaplains	206
As a class, prison chaplains earnest, devoted men.....	206
Hampered in their work, especially by the contract system	206
Conversation with convicts on their entrance, how far practiced and how far neglected by chaplains	206
How far volunteer workers are admitted.....	207
Importance and value of such labors.....	208