

GUARDS' BAND FAREWELL AT BELLE ISLE LIGHT

Lonely Colony at Gateway of Canada Honored by Impromptu Concert for Their Benefit.

A maroon telegram from the S.S. "Royal Edward" eastward bound from Quebec, 750 miles, received in the city yesterday, read: "The Grenadier Guards Band, home-bound on board the Royal Edward, paid a unique farewell to Canada from the navigating deck of the 'Royal Edward' as she passed the Belle Isle light at 8:15 on Saturday. 'Captain Roberts, who, in common with all ocean navigators, appreciates the loneliness of the lighthouse keepers and the worth of their work, had suggested this impromptu concert to bid adieu to the light-keepers. The entire band soon assembled on the navigating deck of the steamer.

"As the steamer passed the light-keepers, the loneliness of the light-keepers, the entire band soon assembled on the navigating deck of the steamer. The passengers' attentions were centered upon the lonely few, who could be plainly discerned against the back ground of the little cluster of time washed buildings which mark the lighthouse and Marconi station perched on a terrace of the beetling cliff. Four numbers were played in all—'Rule Britannia,' 'Highland Laddie,' 'Auld Lang Syne' and 'God Save the King.'

"While the steamer was still within sighting distance of the island the Marconi instrument in the wireless tower of the 'Royal Edward' sputtered out a message of thanks and appreciation from the light-keepers. Their message added that they had never before heard a military band in such a lonely cove and they wished bon voyage to Bandmaster Williams and his band."

ARCHBISHOP MACLAGAN DEAD

Prelate Who Crowned Queen Alexandra is No More.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Dr. MacLagan, the former Archbishop of York, is dead.

Most Rev. Wm. Dalrymple MacLagan, B.C., D.D., D.C.L., LL.D., was born at Edinburgh in 1826, and was fifth son of David MacLagan, M.D. He served in the Indian army 1847-52, retiring as lieutenant. He left the army for the church, and was ordained a deacon in 1852. He became Bishop of Lichfield in 1878, and Archbishop of York in 1891. It was he who crowned Queen Alexandra in 1902. He retired from the archbishopric in 1909, and was succeeded by Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Bishop of Stepney, who had a short time before declined to become Bishop of Montreal.

BURGLAR GETS 18 MONTHS

Found Guilty of Forcing a Number of Over Sound Business Places.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 19.—A series of petty burglaries which have been perpetrated during the past fortnight, in which entrance was forced into several business houses and small stores of money taken, came to an end on Saturday night, when Sidney Hope, a young Englishman, was arrested. This morning he confessed to the burglaries, and was committed to the Owen Sound Jail. The prisoner is an under-sized man and was able to force his way through very small openings. Eighteen months in the Central Prison was the sentence he received.

FOUND WITH HER THROAT CUT

Man Lying by Her Side Bleeding From Several Wounds.

TRURO, N.S., Sept. 19.—A woman dead with her throat cut and a man lying by her side in an alcoholic stupor and bleeding from several wounds was the shocking discovery made in a house on Foundry Hill in Truro. The name of the woman was Mrs. Maud Wright, and of the man Stephen Perry. Both are of ill repute, and are said to have been living together for some time. Both were drunk on Saturday night. There are about all the facts so far known to the police, who have Perry under arrest.

Thief or Breach?

John V. Cole told Robert Hodgins to sell his mining claims and keep all over $500. Hodgins sold half the claims for that sum and kept the rest. He also kept the money. Charged with theft in court yesterday, J. V. Cole, his counsel, argued that this was not theft, but breach of contract. An adjournment was made for a decision on this point.

Threaten Big Lockout

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 19.—The Federation of master cotton spinners to-day decided on a general lockout on Oct. 1, unless the Fern mill dispute at Oldham is settled by that date.

In the event of a lockout 150,000 operatives will be affected directly.
