Giuseppe Greco, sentenced to be hanged at Hamilton Aug. 21 by Justice Mulock for stabbing another Italian. The judge in his remarks said: "There is a lack of any evidence that you are of criminal instincts and a person to commit crimes from badness of heart; on the contrary, with this single exception, you have been a good citizen."

"You have proven yourself an affectionate and good son, adding to these you have scarcely reached manhood, being only 20 years of age."

"It is indeed sad, you must pay your debt to society by the forfeit of your life, and may your fate be a warning to others like you."

Greco's brother, in jail, dashed his head against the floor and bit a chunk from his wrist in his agony at the sentence.

DERRICKS GALORE

Few people realize the amount of machinery and steam power required to erect a large steel structure like the new store of the Robert Simpson Co., Limited.

Up to the present time there have been at work on it seven steam derricks, comprising one huge guy derrick, 30 feet in height, four stiff-legged derricks and two jenny derricks, all run by steam power.

By the end of this week there will be added no less than four steam hoists, three steam concrete mixers, two extra steam derricks and four electrical motors for drilling, boring and pumping. The power required to run these derricks, hoists, mixers and pumps is sufficient to keep going the gigantic task of erecting the mammoth new structure of the Robert Simpson Co., Limited.

And when completed it will be the strongest, safest and handsomest department store in the British Empire.

Refused $100, Gets $3000.

Justice MacMahon has given judgment for $3000 in favor of C. R. Lennox, a carpenter, against W. V. McAuliffe, a sawmill operator of Ottawa. Lennox lost his arm while running a "creeper" in the defendant's factory in November last and refused the defendant's offer to settle for $100 and employment of some kind.

TO MAKE CHARGE PUBLIC AT HIS NEXT MEETING

A. W. Wright Bids McPherson Prepare for the Worst—But All Halls Are Hired.

"At my very next meeting, whether Mr. McPherson is present or absent, I am going to make the charge which I said I intended to make. Then it will be for the Conservative party to decide whether it can support the man against whom such charges are made."

So said A. W. Wright at his meeting on Saturday night in the Buda-avenue Hall, after having expressed his disappointment that Mr. McPherson had not considered that his invitation to be present had been definite enough.

"I'll prove them," continued Mr. Wright, speaking of his charges. "They will not rest on my say-so. I will prove it by the word of a man whom he dare not deny," said, why he had not made these charges at the convention. There were others there, he explained, that knew the facts which he intended to make public. Hon. Dr. Fyfe, Hon. J. J. Foy and Hon. Thomas Crawford all knew them.

Mr. Wright went on to explain his platform of public ownership, the initiative and referendum in legislation, civil service reform and better protection of Ontario fisheries.

Fred G. McBrien, president of the West Toronto Conservative Association, who was chairman of the meeting, declared that the convention which had refused Mr. Wright the Conservative nomination was not a properly constituted one. The doctrine of the ward associations was that no one was a good Conservative unless he fell in behind the man who had been chosen candidate, in the choosing of whom he had had no part. J. H. Duthie, secretary of the Public Ownership League, and Mr. Saunders, vice-president of the West Toronto Conservative Association, all addressed the meeting.

Incidentally, Mr. Wright declared that Mr. McPherson had played a smart election trick on his rival candidate. All the halls in West Toronto, said Mr. Wright, had been engaged by Mr. McPherson up to election time. He hoped, however, to be able to get the West End Y.M.C.A. Hall for one night.

S.O.E. AT CHURCH.

Some 300 Members Listen to Inspiring Sermon at St. Philip's.

"Sons of England Benevolent Society. I like the ring of those last two words. They speak of helping others and doing good wherever possible," said Archdeacon Sweeney in the course of his sermon to the S.O.E. Society members yesterday afternoon at St. Philip's Anglican Church, Spadina-avenue.

He wanted all the members to feel that while they had left the land of their fathers, they had come to a young land, a great land that has a great future for it. Since the inception of the S.O.E. 31 years ago, the membership had increased to 30,000 and its lodges extended from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

"God has placed you in a great land and a good land, just as Israel was placed after coming out from the bondage of Egypt," he said. "As you, sons of the land, honor to-day the memory of the greatest Queen that ever lived, think and strive for the best ideals for this young country. Contend for purity in the home, purity in society and purity in the state, and there will go forth a heaven that makes traditions for Canada and makes this position favored of God, the envy of every nation."

About 25 members paraded, led by the G.B.B. band, and the Naval Brigade. The offering was devoted to the endowment fund of the Founders' Memorial Col. Sick Children's Hospital, and S.O.E. board.

Before the service a silk Union Jack was presented by Grand Marshal Bro. G. Baldwin, Ph.D.

Scotland Woolen Mills Co.

139 Yonge Street

EDITORIAL

We have been much impressed with one surprising thing which the placing of a Scotland Woolen Mills Store in Toronto has brought about—namely, and unprecedented drop in the price of made-to-order clothing, along the entire street. The tailors of other cities in which branches were opened did not exhibit any such marked unrest, and we are therefore forced to the startling conclusion that the price of clothing in Toronto before our advent here was too high.

We came to Toronto with a simple mill-to-man, one-price-one-profit proposition—a suit of clothes, made to order, for fifteen dollars, no more, no less. We expected to do as good business as has come our way elsewhere, but we have been absolutely deluged with orders. If it were not for the elastic capacity of the company's big organization it is a question if the work could have been handled. Trade has recently been increasing at a splendid rate. Many people who ordered from us two months ago are back for their summer suits.

Personally, I do not think the Scotland Woolen Mills could have any competition in Toronto or elsewhere. The buyers are always drawn to us more by seeing the clothes on their friends than by advertising. In fact, we have done very little advertising anywhere. The Scotland Woolen Mills clothes advertise the business.

PRISONER CLIMBS WALL AND ESCAPE IS EASY

Cornwall Jail Couldn't Hold Man Just Given a Six Months' Sentence for Theft.

CORNWALL, May 24.—(Special.)—Frank Carter, who on Friday was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison, for the theft of a diamond ring, escaped from the county jail Saturday afternoon, and is still at large.

The escape was made in clear daylight, and was so simple that it is a wonder other prisoners have not taken their discharge in the same way. Carter climbed on the kitchen and thence to the top of a cross wall, where he left his prison garb, having conveniently provided himself with other clothes. He then ran along the top of this wall to the outer wall, and dropping into a back yard took a short cut for the jail timber.

His escape was discovered within an hour, but so far he has not been recaptured. After a day's search, a prisoner climbed to the top of the wall and took down the clothes left there.

It is likely that the escape and the capture of the prisoner will be looked into by the department.

NEW FERRY IS HERE.

"Woodbine" Arrived Last Night and Will Be in Commission To-day.

The new ferry steamer Woodbine arrived last night at 9 o'clock in charge of Captain James McLaughlin, who went to Kingston to meet her. The Woodbine will go into commission this morning. This addition to the ferry fleet will enable the company to give a five minutes' service to Hanlan's Point. The new boat and the overhead bridges will be the means of giving rapid transportation and avoiding delays. As the Woodbine steamed across the bay to Hanlan's she was saluted by her companions.

Considerable anxiety was manifested yesterday amongst those who were looking forward to fine weather for their holiday outing, many fearing that the fine warm spell might not continue.

It will be consoling to those anxious ones to know that the day will be fine and bright, and an ideal opportunity for an outing. To give good accommodation to its patrons, the Hamilton Steamboat Co. will run the steamers Modjeska and Macassa on a schedule of six trips between Toronto and Hamilton to-day, leaving Toronto at 7.30 and 11 a.m., 2.15, 5.15 and 11 p.m., and leaving Hamilton at 7.45, 10.45, 1.15, 4.15, 7.15 and 11 p.m. A 50-cent return fare is in force, good on all trips and valid for stop-over until Tuesday, the 26th. On Tuesday the Modjeska makes a special trip back to Hamilton, leaving Toronto at 9 a.m., the Macassa leaving at 4.30 p.m.

Democrats Helping Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—John Shero Williams, minority leader of the house, announced last night after a recess had been taken until Monday, that the democracy proposed to continue its filibustering until such legislation as President Roosevelt had recommended should receive consideration or final adjournment had been ordered by a vote of the majority. In his view adjournment of congress will not be reached before the latter part of next week.

OBITUARY

The many friends of the late Jessie Irene Harris, beloved wife of James Harris, who miss her from their social gatherings, have prepared a memorial to the deceased. Mrs. Harris died a year ago, and those who were intimately associated with her in church and charitable work have felt that her memory should be kept green. She was a loving woman and a most energetic worker in the cause of Christ. In the walks in which she moved her name is mentioned with love and reverence, and the memorial her associates have prepared is a just testimonial to her good work.

At Picton—J. F. Beringer, aged 70.

John Leitch, who had been a member of Brantford school board seven years and on the city council for a like term, died suddenly of heart failure Saturday night, at the age of 65 years. He was born in Dutton and was well known in the insurance business. At one time he was president of the trustees section of the Ontario Educational Association.

With the death of Allan McLean Howard, at his residence, Jameson-avenue, Friday night, one of Toronto's oldest and best-known citizens is removed. Mr. Howard was born in this city, May 7, 1825. He was educated at the old district grammar school, and while a youth assisted his father in the Toronto postoffice, of which he was then postmaster. He was appointed division court clerk more than half a century ago, holding the position until his death.

Mr. Howard was a member of the Church of England. He was also a York Pioneer and took a lively interest in the affairs of the society. He married Miss Macdonald, who survives him. His family surviving him are three sons, Allan McLean Howard, Jr., who is the present acting clerk; Rev. James Scott Howard of Newcastle, and Inspector D. M. Howard of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, formerly of the Royal Grenadiers. There are two daughters at home.

TRIBUTE TO DR. BAIN.

Public Library Board Grieve at Death of Chief Librarian.

On Saturday the library board decided to attend the funeral to-morrow of Dr. James Bain in a body, and the central libraries and all branch libraries will be closed at 1 p.m. The following resolution of condolence was passed:

Moved by A. E. Huestis and seconded by T. W. Banton:

That the members of the board of management of the Toronto Public Library desire to place on record their very deep and heartfelt sorrow at the irreparable loss they have sustained in the removal by death of James Bain, D.C.L., chief librarian of this library for the past twenty-five years. During this long period his devotion to the interests of the library, zeal for the spread of good and pure books, his counsel and encouragement to all engaged in literary research, together with his kindness of heart and uniform courtesy commanded the high respect and admiration of all who visited the library.

His loss will also be keenly felt at this time of building the new public reference library and branch libraries in the erection of which he took such pleasure and pride.

The fact that during his term of office the number of books has grown from 24,834 to 149,801, and the annual circulation from 179,506 to 358,726 will be a lasting memorial to Dr. Bain. The members of the board desire to express to the widow and son of the deceased their kindest sympathy in their heavy affliction and pray that our Heavenly Father may sustain and comfort them.

The above cut is a reproduction of Mr. J. A. Goddard's pneumatic-tired piano-moving motor. This is a new addition to Toronto's numerous motors business conducted by Mr. Goddard at 282-291 Arthur Street. This method of moving pianos will no doubt be looked upon favorably by the general public as it prevents the jarring and strain on the strings. Mr. Goddard has also informed us that an expert holder is always in attendance and that his personal attention will be given all work handled by the old-style piano trucks.
