Widow Gets Grant.

The widow of the late William Roulstone ho was killed by the kick of a horse on August 29 last year, while in the employ of the city, appeared before the board and asked for a grant to cover expenses ir connection with her husband's death and funeral. The street cleaning department, she said, had paid $75 for funeral expenses, but the undertaking firm had furnished her with a bill for $39.50, of which she had paid $10.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Press Club, the members were greatly entertained by an exhibit of pictures, photographs and draperies and wall papers, illustrating different periods, which had been prepared by Miss Edith Macdonald and Miss Eleanor Stephens.
