Oxen in Lumber Camps

After nearly fifty years' retirement from active service the ox has again come into recognition as a motive power in the lumbering industry of northern Minnesota. These animals proving in the cultivation of these states. The reason of this is the high price of feed for horses. There is little or no expense for the "keep" of oxen as compared with that of horses.—St. Paul Dispatch.

J. D. H. ANDERSON OF MUSQUASH WEDS MISS ADAMS OF COVERDALE

What has been described as the prettiest social event of recent years, took place at Coverdale, Albert County, on April 17 the marriage of Miss Emily Adams to J. D. H. Anderson, of Musquash. The marriage took place in the Methodist church, Coverdale, at noon. A large number of the residents of the district were present at the ceremony. The service was conducted by the Rev. John J. Pinkerton, of the Wesleyan Memorial Church, Moncton. Miss Orpah Wood, of Coverdale, presided at the organ.

The bride made a very charming picture, being handsomely attired in a dress of white tulle, trimmed with white satin and lace, a wreath of orange blossoms and veil adorning her head, and carrying a lovely bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses.

As the bride proceeded up the aisle of the church with her father, and attended by her maids, the organist played a wedding march. The service opened by the choir singing "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," and after the ceremony the husband and wife left the church by the joyful strains of the organ.

A reception was held at the bride's home, Coverdale, a large assembly of friends being present. Luncheon was served to more than forty guests. The wedding cake was cut by the bride, positioned by S. Holland of England. The groom of honor, Miss Ina V. Mitton. The toast to the bride and groom was ably proposed by Dr. J. C. Harris, of Moncton, supported by S. Holland of England. The groom suitably responded.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for Boston, where the honeymoon will be spent. After their departure a very enjoyable evening was spent by the guests. Valuable and useful presents were displayed, testifying to the respect in which the family is held in the district. On the return of the bride and groom they will reside at "Sunnyside," Musquash.

The bridesmaids were Ina V. Mitton, Ada L. Adams, and Doris R. Adams; the groomsmen were Harry L. Adams, others present were the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Adams, her sister, Mrs. B. E. Jones, her brothers, W. J. H. V. F. E. J. O. A. E. V. A., and S. V. Adams; her uncle, S. Holland, and Dr. J. C. Harris, Miss Rosalee, Mr. and Mrs. E. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith, Mrs. D. Smith, Miss N. Smith, Miss A. Severs, C. E. Smith, the Misses Orpah, Myrtle and Laura Wood, the Misses Jenny and Ivah Smith, V. Janoway, Miss S. Smith, D. P. Smith, D. Wood, W. Mitton, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mitton, Eva Atkinson, and Helen Whitton.

Every time a girl gets interested in a novel the heroine reminds her of herself.
