

THE BRITISH CABLE.

Now that the Canadians have accomplished the truly wonderful feat of bringing to pass poor man's postage between all parts of the empire, there does seem to be some hope for the long-mooted all-British cable that is to bind the outlying links of empire with lightning and steel.

Marsh Bray, government agent at Nanaimo, testified before the court in 1889 that the application for the cable was made in 1882 for lands in question. I did not allow him to preempt. I did not accept any pre-emption; it was just an informal application to preempt or purchase.
