

School Promotions

Scholars Released From Their Labors This Afternoon Until Monday, August 12th.

Some of the Lists of Pupils Who Have Been Advanced—Honor Rolls.

Today the doors of the city schools close, and some two thousand or more pupils will enter upon their summer vacation.

The summer respite from study is naturally the time of all times to which both teachers and pupils look with the fondest anticipation.

And the pupils. To them six weeks is the choicest blessing bestowed by fortune, the only bitter drop in the cup of delight being the unfortunate but recognized fact that there will be an end to it.

At the Girls' Central school the proceedings were of a similar character, the list of promotions being appended, North Ward and some of the other ward schools also closed their doors.

The high school closing exercises are being held in the Pemberton gymnasium this afternoon. An excellent programme has been arranged and doubtless the proceedings will be of a very interesting character.

By the time the next summer vacation is at hand these exercises will be held in a spacious assembly hall in the new structure on the upper portion of the grounds—a building to which the pupils and teachers will be proud to welcome their relatives and friends.

The honor list is as follows: Division II—Department, Miss Kristina Johnson; punctuality and regularity, Master Joseph Clearburn; proficiency, Miss Lou Brunton.

Division III—Department, Master Fred Hall; regularity and punctuality, Miss Margaret Moore; proficiency, Miss Ada Spencer.

Division IV—Department, Master Confield; regularity and punctuality, Miss May Henderson; proficiency, Miss Gertrude Shank.

The prize list is as follows: English Literature—Miss Lillian Mowat, Miss Tully, Miss Few and Master Marchant.

Proficiency prizes presented by S. Powell—Miss Brunton, Master Cleburne, Miss Shank and Miss MacNutt.

Canadian History—Intermediate prize, presented by Master Drury—Miss May Tully.

Junior prize, presented by Mrs. A. T. Watt—Miss Ellen Ohlson.

The results of the High school entrance and High school examinations will be published as soon as the board of examiners have completed the rather delicate task set before them.

In the appended lists of some schools are contained only the promotions from the junior to the intermediate and from the intermediate to the senior grades.

Sylvester, teacher—Herbert Richard Lawson, Robert Hugh Shanks, Howard Whitton Chambers, Horace Norris Walls, Albert Nelson Gowen.

From Third to Fourth Reader, Miss Sylvester, teacher—Norman L. Cameron, H. Baker, Edmund James Wall, George Stanley Creed, Walter H. Second Division—Proficiency, Frances Reid; regularity, Margaret Hodgson; department, Marie Casanabe.

First Division—Department, Josephine Wollaston; regularity, Charlotte Eades; proficiency, Violet Powell.

Miss Wollaston is eligible for all three rolls, but according to the rules and by one pupil. She was awarded the highest of these rolls, namely, that for department.

NATIVE SON DEAD. Edwin Caselton Passed Away This Morning—Funeral on Sunday.

The death occurred this morning at 2:30 at the residence of his father, Richard Caselton, No. 12 First street, of Edwin Caselton, a native son of the city, 35 years of age and was very well known in the city, having been born and brought up in Victoria.

The circumstances of his death were sad. Up till 11 o'clock last evening he was in his usual health. Shortly after that, however, an artery broke in his head, and the young man passed away at about 2 o'clock this morning. He distinguished himself when at school, being the holder of the St. Louis college in 1880, when he won the Governor-General's medal. Besides his father he leaves three brothers and four sisters.

CAMP NOTES. Gun Practice This Afternoon at Shoal Bay—Regimental Order.

At Shoal Bay this afternoon No. 1 and 2 companies, Fifth Regiment, are engaged in 15-pounder practice at targets placed on Trial Island. To-morrow will practice with the 6-inch guns at the fort, the object being a moving target towed through the Straits at the various ranges by a tug engaged for the purpose.

Regimental Headquarters. Camp Macaulay, June 27, 1901. Orderly office for Friday, June 28th, 2nd Lieut. Graham. Next for duty, 2nd Lieut. January.

The fort manning parade ordered for Friday evening is cancelled. Nos. 1 and 2 manning details will parade separately on the regimental parade ground on that day.

Maxim gun detail will parade at Fort Macaulay at 7:30 a. m. instead of 9 a. m. as previously ordered. Maxim practice will take place immediately on the conclusion of 9 a. m. B. L. practice.

The quart will be mounted at 9 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, 29th. There will be no evening drill, and there will be general leave until Monday, but every member of the regiment must sleep in camp; lights out at 12:15 a. m.

The band will play in camp on Saturday evening, the 29th, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Camp will be struck on Sunday morning; further details will be published in regimental orders.

By order. (Sgd.) ALENIS MARTIN, Capt. Actg. Regt. Adjutant.

To Be Opened To-Morrow

Swimming Bath on Arm Will Be Ready For Patronage on Saturday.

Series of Competitions to Be Held During the Season—Many Improvements.

To-morrow will be the opening of the swimming bath on the Arm, or more accurately at the foot of Pleasant street.

This institution last year was a great success, due to its capable management and the interest manifested by votaries of the natural science and novices as well.

Mr. St. Clair, under whose efficient presidency the bath was conducted, was very successful with his pupils. Scores were taught the apparently simple process of swimming, and many more were comparatively at home in the water were instructed in the grand method of life saving in a series of lessons that possibly will never be forgotten.

Naturally the premises suffered somewhat during the inclement weather in the winter, but the necessary repairs have been made and everything is in readiness for a very busy season. Many improvements have been effected including the addition of a number of dressing-rooms, while a diving platform, with several spring boards attached, has been constructed. But the greatest improvement of all is the installation of sea-water baths in a room especially adapted for the purpose.

The swimming class apparatus is so large enough to teach a class of sixty pupils per hour, while the capacity of the bath itself, is, of course, very much greater. A new ferry and landing have been inaugurated, and every step taken to conduce to the comfort and convenience of those patronizing the institution.

At the opening of the season, a number of competitions open to those who are anxious to display their prowess in the water. The prizes and medals will be presented at the conclusion of the season for the following competitions:

1. School boy in a rowing race; best distance in one hour's continuous swimming. A Clegg won this event last year with one mile, 1:306 yards, and was presented with a very handsome prize by Sir Henri Joly.

2. School girl's competition. Best distance in half an hour's continuous swimming. This was won last year by a young lady attending the Girls' Central school, with the creditable record of nearly half a mile. The prize was presented by Col. Beaton, C. O.

3. School team competition to consist of seven boys or girls as follows: (a) Life saving drill. (b) Half an hour swim. Teams will only be permitted to compete if they have passed through the drill in the tank, as the rescues will be made in open water.

4. Best girl under twelve, in quarter-mile swim. This was won last year by a South Park school girl, the prize being presented by Mr. Soule.

5. Best boy under twelve, in a quarter-mile swim.

6. The open competitions will be as follows: (a) One length dash. (b) Three lengths. (c) Best life buoy throw.

It may be noted that those desiring swimming instruction should register as soon as possible. Ladies and girls will receive instruction in the forenoon, and gentlemen and boys in the afternoon.

Ladies and their escorts may be instructed at any time. The school children's hours will be from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. The establishment will be closed on Sunday. Mr. St. Clair will also give instruction in rowing in ordinary boats and outriggers.

This establishment fills a long-felt want in this neighborhood. Despite the fact that Victoria is eminently a seaport town and great attention is given to aquatic sports, until last year there was no swimming bath in existence. The majority of the coast cities have them, and they are always extensively patronized. It is an education in itself to visit the famous Suro baths in San Francisco, established through the princely munificence of the Bay City's former mayor. Naturally so magnificent an affair produces great results, but the elements of swimming cannot be acquired more readily there than at the unpretentious institution at the foot of Pleasant street along the Arm.

"EXCELSIOR." Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, the daughter of Julia Ward Howe, and the playmate of the Longfellow children in childhood, tells many stories of the poet. Among others she relates the contents of a letter which Mr. Longfellow wrote to her father, Dr. Samuel G. Howe, telling how "Excelsior" came to be written.

It was a cold winter night, and the poet had gone to bed when the idea of the poem popped into his mind. He tried to put it aside, but the idea kept haunting him until he arose and jotted down the verses as they came quickly to him.

"The result," he added, "is that I have a severe cold and an attack of rheumatism, but my best friends find less in the poem to criticize than usual."

In the early days before Longfellow's name and fame were national, he went into a bank to get a cheque cashed. The teller looked at the name and said: "Henry Longfellow? I never heard of any such person. Then turning it over, and seeing the endorsement by Lewis Sumner on the back, he paid it with no further protest.

SINKING INTO A SALT LAKE. English Towns Being Engulfed in a Subterranean Abyss.

The Pennsylvania coal region is not the only part of the world in which towns are being undermined and where houses topple from their foundations and disappear from sight as if swallowed up by an earthquake. England has at least one parallel, for Norwich, the centre of the salt industry of the country, is slowly, but surely, sinking beneath the surface of the earth.

The product of the salt mines of Norwich is obtained by two methods—quarrying and brine-pumping. In the former case, which is the method generally adopted, a shaft is sunk about 300 feet and the salt rock blasted and excavated in the usual manner. The brine-pumping although it is still continued upon a large scale, is gradually falling into disuse. When the industry was started it was considered that only one stratum of salt existed, and that was only a few feet below the surface. Fresh water found its way to this extensive salt deposit, with the result that the salt dissolved like snow.

A large subterranean lake of water, charged with 30 per cent of salt, was thus formed. Pumping engines were then installed to convey this brine to the surface to large evaporating pans, in which a heavy deposit of salt was left after the water had evaporated. The result of this extensive pumping is that a Norwich now rests, as it were, upon a shell of earth, which at times proves insufficient to support the weight of the houses, with the inevitable consequence that the buildings are constantly sliding and collapsing in every direction.

As the result of a subsidence one building fell over upon its back in the course of a single night, and it is noteworthy that the house, owing to the care observed in its construction, fell over intact, not a crack being produced in the walls nor even a pane of glass being broken. There is scarcely a perpendicular wall to be seen in the town; in numerous cases the doors and window frames of the houses are awry; the roads are extremely uneven and are often closed, owing to the falling in of portions. Houses are being continually condemned as unsafe for human habitation and demolished. In some cases the sinking is very gradual, while in others it is unexpected and instantaneous.

One of the principal thoroughfares took forty years to sink fifteen feet, while another grew appreciably wider every day. Examination proved that one side of the street was slipping completely away. The shop of a dry goods merchant sank one-fifth of its height in ten years and in the subsequent seven years subsided another fifth. Several houses may be seen, the windows of the ground floor of which are level with the roadway.

TELEGRAPH IN BRITAIN. Immense Development of Business in Past Twenty Years.

Speaking at the dinner of the Newspaper Society in London, Lord Londonderry said the development of newspaper enterprise was very remarkable, and it was partly due to the taking over by the state in 1870 of the telegraph companies. Under the telegraphic companies only certain newspapers having contracts with the companies were allowed to receive newspaper messages at a reduction in the rates. Newspaper messages were sent, except under extraordinary circumstances, at the ordinary rates by telegraph, and there were many other grievous restrictions. After the acquisition of the telegraphs by the state the reduced rates for the transmission of press telegrams soon brought about a great increase in the number of such telegrams. In 1871 the number of words handed in for transmission amounted to about 22,000,000. In the following year the number increased to 26,000,000, and in 1873, to 38,000,000. During the past year the number of words exceeded 83,000,000. As an instance of the extent to which the press recognized and made use of the special telegraphic facilities afforded to them in connection with such events as important football matches, he might mention that, on the occasion of the England vs. Scotland Association match, played at the Crystal Palace this year, no fewer than 61,193 words of press matter were transmitted at the temporary office on the ground. A great quantity of this work was telegraphed direct from the Crystal Palace to the principal towns in the United Kingdom. The increase of telegraphic business at race meetings was witnessed by the fact that the total number of telegrams of all kinds was only 1,051. He thought that, as representing a great department, it was his duty to put before them what was done to conduce to the convenience of the press. He ventured to say that the press of this country enjoyed greater advantages with regard to telegrams than that of any other country.

Lord Londonderry proceeded to quote figures as to the press rates for telegrams in England and in other countries, which he contended fully bore out his assertion. The result of the policy of ministering to the wants and requirements of the press had been an enormous increase in the number of papers published. In 1838 there were in England and Wales 334 newspapers, the number in 1900 being 1,994; in London in the former year the number was 85, in the latter year 456; in Scotland the numbers were respectively 64 and 225, and in Ireland, 84 and 181. He believed that this multiplication of newspapers was exceedingly useful as a means of educating the people, and it was for this reason that he was anxious to promote as far as he could the welfare and prosperity of the press.

Burghers Surrender

Several Boers Killed by Armored Train—Prisoners at Darrel's Island.

London, June 29.—Lord Kitchener's dispatch from Pretoria, dated to-day, says: "The Boers attacked two block houses on the Delagoa line near Brugspruit on June 28th. An armored train arrived and scattered the Boers, killing four. It is reported that twenty casualties were carried off.

"Field Cornet Depreuz has surrendered at Pietersburg with 64 men."

The Boer Prisoners. Hamilton, Jamaica, June 29.—The British transport Armeian, which arrived in these waters yesterday, brought 40 Boer prisoners. She anchored in the bay, a half mile west of Darrel's Island, as gunboats, the Armeian and the other side of the transport. Crowds of people in boats sailed round the transport, and were allowed on board.

The Boers of 17, swarmed the forward deck, laughed and lifted and waved the hats to the passers by. Several of the prisoners inquired eagerly for fruit, rice and grog. They say they have come to complain of their treatment.

Prisoners in Camp. Hamilton, Bermuda, July 1.—The Boer prisoners, who arrived here on the 28th on the British transport Armeian, were today moved into the camp in the island of Darrel's and Tuckers Islands. These Boers are part of Cronjé's army and were captured at Paardeburg.

The prisoners are pleased with Bermuda and its bathing. They express themselves as grateful for the treatment accorded them by Great Britain. Some of the more wealthy prisoners have been sent to Bermuda. The gunboats Medina and Medway are guarding the islands.

DOMINION DAY. The Celebrations at Ottawa, Toronto and Winnipeg.

Ottawa, Ont., July 1.—Dominion Day passed off quietly, for although the holiday was generally observed, there was no special celebration, the citizens contenting themselves with jaunts to nearby pleasure resorts, or to the country.

At Toronto. Toronto, July 1.—The thermometer maintained its high level to-day, reaching during the afternoon, in London, 97°. It did not, however, interfere with the successful celebration of Dominion Day.

There were over 2,000 at the base camp this morning and 6,000 at the parade, partly because of the late afternoon. The regatta also drew a crowd. The smaller sports drew proportionately.

The parade and celebration were held as successful, few ladies turning out to the parade, partly because of the late afternoon. The regatta also drew a crowd. The smaller sports drew proportionately.
