AROUND THE CITY

Alteration to Market Building. A meeting of the Market Committee was held yesterday afternoon and the question of altering the market building according to plans of the architect was again discussed.

Police Called In. There was considerable disturbance in the household of Mrs. Bucharra at 173 Erin street yesterday afternoon and Police-Constable Shortleiff and Goshue were called in to the place, and as a result Leo Smith was ejected from the premises.

Life in The Klondike. There was a large attendance in the vestry of the Fairville Methodist church last night, and all listened with rapt attention to a lecture given by Rev. W. H. Barradough, B. A., of Sarnia, Ont. His subject was "The Edge of the Arctic Circle, or Life in The Klondike." The lecture was illustrated by 125 lantern slides. Many of the views were taken by the lecturer himself during his three years' pastorate in Dawson, and comprised views of Dawson, White Horse, and other mining centres along the Klondike and Yukon rivers.

E. L. Jewett Injured. Yesterday afternoon E. L. Jewett of Queen Square was quite severely injured by falling down a few steps of the stairs at the rear of his residence. Mr. Jewett had been joking with some members of the household and as he turned quickly he slipped and fell down the stairs. The fall rendered him unconscious and he received a couple of cuts on the head. He was carried into the house and Dr. Bentley was summoned and the injured man was quickly revived. Mr. Jewett is suffering mostly from the shock and no bones were broken. He is expected to be about in a couple of days and his many friends will be pleased to learn that his injuries are not of a serious nature.

Officers Installed. There was a large gathering in the rooms of Thorne lodge I. O. G. T., Haymarket square, last evening when a fraternal visit was paid by No. 198 surrender lodge No. 198 of Fairville. The following officers of Thorne lodge were installed by E. M. Stockford, D. C. T.: Harry Blair, C. T.; Miss M. Adams, W. T.; Miss B. Campbell, S. J. T.; H. McEachron, secy.; Miss I. M. White, asst secy.; Thos. Mullett, D. M.; Edgar Campbell, chaplain; R. McEachron, F. C. T.; James Clayton, guard; M. A. Thorne, lodge deputy; Miss N. Bullock, fin. secy.; George A. Chamberlain, treasurer. After the installation refreshments were served and there was a musical and literary entertainment that was most pleasing. Thorne lodge will pay a visit to No. 198 in the near future.

THE GREEN GOODS MEN NEARLY FOOLED FARMERS

Some Farmers Using City Market at First Inclined to Favor Reciprocity, but Now Know it is Goldbrick.

That the farmers who sell their produce in the city market are dead opposed to the reciprocity pact was the statement made to a Standard reporter by a man who does business in the market, and has dealings with nearly all the farmers who dispose of their products there. "At first," he added, "many of the farmers who come to the city market were inclined to be in favor of reciprocity, but now I find in talking over the question with them that they are practically all strongly opposed to it. And those who are now most decided in their expressions of opposition to the pact are those who were at first inclined to think it would be a good thing for them. "No doubt they have been studying the question and figuring out the effect reciprocity would have upon them, and have come to the conclusion that it is not going to be any benefit to them and may very well hurt them.

"Of late I have not run across a single farmer who is not strongly outspoken in his opposition to reciprocity and I suspect the Liberal candidates are going to find themselves up against it pretty hard in the farming districts, especially where the farmers make a specialty of market gardening. "The dealers are generally favorable to the idea of reciprocity, be-

PREMIER HAZEN RECEIVES HEARTY WELCOME HOME

Large Crowd of Fellow Citizens Met Him at the Station -- Escorted to His Home by the Carleton Cornet Band -- Premier Responds to Compliments.

HON. J. D. HAZEN.

A large crowd assembled at the Union depot last evening to welcome Premier Hazen home from England. As he swung off the train, accompanied by Mrs. Hazen and his two daughters, he was greeted with ringing cheers and his friends besieged him and his family in a furor of enthusiasm. The Premier was looking well and evidently in excellent spirits, and was more than delighted at the warmth of his greeting. As he shook hands with the crowd around him the Carleton Cornet band, without the station, played an appropriate selection and presently he and his family were conducted to the carriage in waiting, decorated with patriotic flags and with the band in the lead they drove to their residence, followed by the crowds. In a second carriage were W. H. Thorne and Hon. Robt. Maxwell, M. P., John E. Wilson, M. P., and W. Frank Hatheway, M. P. Upon arriving at Hazen Castle, the Premier made a brief speech to the crowd that followed him inside the gate, cheering lustily. He spoke of his pleasure at the warmth of his reception and at being back in the old city of St. John. Although he had, he said, looked forward with a great deal of emotion to his visit to London to attend the coronation of the King and Queen, and witness the historic ceremonies in connection therewith, it was with even more pleasure that he had looked forward to his return to his home and he could assure his many friends that he was more than glad to be back among them again. In England he had had the pleasure of listening to the music of many famous bands, but he had never felt such pleasure as in listening to the strains of the Carleton Cornet band which had played him to his home. The Premier closed his remarks by again thanking his friends on behalf of himself and his family, for the warmth of their welcome home. Amid more cheering a selection was then played and the band and presently the crowd dispersed.

DIED FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN A FALL

Charles McCrackin Fell From His Team, on Red Head Road, Yesterday Afternoon -- Died in Hospital.

Charles McCrackin a man about 50 years of age, received injuries on the Red Head Road yesterday afternoon which, a couple of hours afterwards resulted in his death. McCrackin was driving along the road on a load of firewood and in some manner fell to the road alighting on his head. He was found unconscious by a man named Stephenson, who summoned the ambulance and the injured man was hastened to the general public hospital. He never regained consciousness, and died about 4 o'clock. The deceased is a widower and is well known in the North End of the city. He had for a long time been employed in hauling wood from the mills. A few years ago it is said that the deceased's brother met death in a similar fashion. He was employed as a teamster of a dump cart and the catch on the front of the cart being unfastened, the box of the cart tipped up and he was thrown to the ground striking on his head, and he died shortly after as the result of the injuries received.

cause it would no doubt be to their advantage to buy produce across the border, but the farmers will prefer to keep their own markets. At the present time about one hundred cart-loads of meat from Ontario are being imported into St. John every week, and there is also some garden truck brought in from Quebec. That competition is enough for the New Brunswick farmers, and they won't want their markets opened to the Americans, more particularly the beef market which could be flooded by the American beef trust.

BOARD OF WORKS AND MILL STREET CHANGES

Widening of Mill Street Considered at Private Meeting of Board of Works, Held Yesterday Afternoon.

A private meeting of the board of works was held yesterday, at which the question of widening Mill street was discussed. It is understood the board is to be made to the C. P. R., but a committee was appointed to discuss the matter with Mr. Downie and see what arrangements could be made. The C. P. R. intends to leave a strip 25 or 30 feet in width along the Mill street face of their property for the use of their teams, and the city authorities hope to acquire public rights in this strip. The engineer reported that the car of oil recently ordered had arrived, and a sub-committee was appointed to confer with him in regard to the streets upon which the oil should be used.
