

RUFF SOON
SETS YOUR HAIR

underline" check nasty and stop hair falling out.

falling hair at once and rid of every particle of dandruff.
A bottle of "Dandurine" at or toilet counter for a few cents will save you a lot of trouble. After several uses the hair usually stops falling out and you can't find any soon every hair on your new life, vigor, brightness and more color.

Enough
move. It is persuade liver, bowels to act instinct self-poisefavorably upon d-digestion and love causes

PILLS
in a box.
In boxes, 25c., 50c.

Words in
Sup-

in One

in This Book

OUR LANGUAGE GREW.

ation, and Syntax, or Up-to-Date tion by Variations.

of Names, Adjectives, Ad-

States:

of the Resonant Representation.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

of the States.

Motto: Kindly Deeds Make Happy Lives

Weekly Chat

Dear Boys and Girls—A few lines of chat today about our contest seem in order. For number four I had a great many correct answers, probably because the puzzle was such an easy one, but as it was mentioned as being particularly for the younger members I intended that they should win the points if they were successful at all. Now in regard to sending the answers, all the method of working out the puzzle must be shown. For instance many wrote the word "fox" as the answer which was quite correct, but they did not show the plus and minus method just how they obtained the word "fox".
This is absolutely necessary, so when sitting out your coupon use the dot and line for that purpose, if it is not long enough to enclose a separate piece of paper showing what method you have adopted to obtain the answer.
Some of you may understand how why you are not among the successful winners of points for number four. One real good feature about this contest is that you can start in at any time to work and win. There are so many more puzzles to come and so few ahead of any that really have the same chance so far. If you keep each puzzle until the answer is shown, I am sure you will get many ideas about working others which will follow. I am sorry to hear of some of our little friends being ill, and I hope you will be very submissive to the kind care and treatment which older ones are bestowing upon you. No one is very fond of taking medicine, of being rubbed with some nasty stuff or of being nearly roasted with hot baths and applications, but what do all those unpleasant things amount to in comparison to weeks of illness and being in doors for many days. The medicine is very soon forgotten once it is swallowed just so with the other things which some little and big folks as well, so strongly object to. Keep in mind the good old saying kiddies that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and then you may escape the disagreeable doses and treatment.

So often I see kiddies wading through water even though they have good rubbers on, it seems to be sort of a trick to try and go in just a little deeper splash and water, than the height of the rubbers permit. Of course the water over so little, works its way right through to the skin and sometimes so gradually that one does not realize it, nevertheless it does, and that is where the good old proverb should be put "faster, faster, faster" of keeping quiet about the damp feet, for fear of punishment, many a severe cold and illness would have been avoided if the wet clothes were removed immediately. So when you get heavy colds after this kiddies, just think back a little and see just who is to blame. Were your feet not wet and left that summer? Did you not get other parts of your clothing wet and neglect to change for dry ones? Did you leave your coat unbuttoned or go out without any hat for a few minutes, maybe? Did you feel too warm while at play and discard some of the coverings? Of course you all do some of these things at some time. Well, then, that is the proper time to think of the horrid tasting medicines and the nasty smelling applications and the thoughts should teach you of the proper care these precious bodies require. You know health is not a matter of good luck, but it is often a matter of good management. Sometimes we barter it for a mess of later, and sometimes we ruin it by neglect, carelessness and ignorance, and much less often we preserve it by wise and careful living.
Let us all try to do the latter, especially at this time of year. Hoping all sick are better and all the well remain well.

UNCLE DICK.

The Minister's Cat.
This is a good quiet game for sitting down especially before an open fire. Why it is called the minister's cat I know not, but it can be as much fun as you wish to make it; all depends upon how fast the group of folks can think and how long they can make one letter last.
One begins by saying "the minister's cat is ambitious," the next one states "the minister's cat is anxious," and so on until all the a's are exhausted, then the next letter is taken up until all the b's are exhausted, and so on until all the letters are exhausted.
This is very much like the old game beginning "I love by love with an A" and some one says "apple," and then it is taken and so on right through all the letters.

CONTEST COUPON

"Brain Test."

For girls and boys under sixteen years.

My answer to Brain Test No. is ..... (when drawings are necessary enclose on separate paper).

Name

Address

Birthday and year of birth

Are you already a member or joining now?

This is to certify that the enclosed solution is the entire work of

Sender's name

Signed by parent or guardian

Date of mailing

Answers To Letters

EVELYN V.—We are very pleased to have you among the new friends and you are probably the youngest member too. As soon as you can print or write I will want to see what a nice letter you can produce yourself. In the meantime sister is very kind to write for you. Glad you are doing as well at school and also that you are enjoying it.

DORIS E.—You do not write too often Doris for I am always pleased to get your letters and also pleased to know you are so fond of the C. C. You must have good fun coasting and it surely is good fun. By the quantities of snow you will have a long time yet to enjoy the sport. How nice to correspond with a member, especially if you have never seen her.

DOROTHY L.—So sorry to hear of your illness, but trust you have fully recovered by now.

STANLEY C.—Glad you are an honest boy and you are quite right about not sending in answers to Brain Test, when you have received help. That is why I have them signed by another person, though I would really rather leave it to the honor of the members.
Of course after you have been shown how to work out some of them I think you get ideas to keep in solving them later yourselves.

JOHN LESLIE H.—We are very pleased to have you join our Club.
The time of making maple sugar will soon be here, won't it? Too bad you have no school to attend though it must be a hard winter for the girls and boys who live some distance away.
C. LEWIS H.—Neither you nor your brother told me how old you were or in what year you were born, although you both sent the same date. Will you please give me the year so I can enroll you in our membership list. So glad to have you both join us and hope you enjoy our page. Do you put some food out for those birds? They all have a hard time to get enough to eat in the winter and this has been a very severe one you know.

HAROLD M.—We are very pleased to have you join our C. C. and hope to have a letter telling all about your self and your doings so that we may become better acquainted.

CLARENCE R. S.—When you wrote "no" as the answer to the question on the coupon, I could not tell whether you belong to our C. C. or wish to become a member. How about it? Glad to hear from you and to know of your doings.

JRAN C. D.—I might say the same you as to the above. "Yes" can not answer the two questions. "Are you a member or joining now? How about it?" You see with so many hundreds of members it is hard to know the old from the new friends. Hope to hear from you too.

JENNIE M. C.—Your letter with riddles received, but you did not enclose your answers to the riddles, so I could not publish them, but will have another week hoping to receive them by that time. Glad you take interest in our C. C. by contributing to it's puzzle column.

ARTHUR C. C.—Received your nice letter telling of the storms and conditions in the country district. It has indeed been severe everywhere, and I hope you are feeding those little birds who must have a hard time to secure enough food. There are pig-skins which come to my window each day to be fed and you will find they are all glad to have a friend to help them.

MARION S.—So pleased to get your interesting letter and now I know just how your time is occupied. It was good of you to express your appreciation of the musical chat, and I only hope you will find the practicing more of a pleasure now.

As promised to our youngest members the Brain Test Number Four was particularly for them, that means of course that age will be one of the considerations in awarding the points.
Number Four was not so hard as some of the others have been, but in case it appeared difficult to any, we will as usual show how the answer was obtained.
The first picture was the hardest to guess, as most of folks would think of hen or rooster, but after you discovered it must be called a "fox" the rest would be very simple. Take away "fox" left the letter "f" add to it "x" and have the word "fox" which was the correct answer.

The points were awarded to:
Alice M. Keswick, Harland.
Charles Wilbur Pallen, Dalhousie.
Laura M. Flewelling, Oak Point.

The Adams Boys
WHO ALWAYS GIVE THE SKIPPER A LOT OF TROUBLE DURING THE HOLIDAYS HAVE HIT UPON A WAY TO PULL THE TROLLEY OFF EVERY NOW AND THEN SO AS TO SLOW DOWN THE CAR WHEN IT'S GOING OVER ROUGH SLEDDING.

The Trolleyville Trolley that meets all the trains.

THE HIDDEN POST OFFICE

"Come on, fellows," shouted Ralph as the crowd hurried away from the school house on a winter afternoon, "let's make two snow forts and have a battle!"
"And let's choose sides and have a real fight," added John, "not a little toss-a-ball affair but a real battle played with military rules and regulations so we can tell who really beats."
"Why do we waste time making forts," suggested Tom, "they all hurried out together. "You know the yard up at grandmother's? Remember the brick wall and how it's just about a throwing distance over to Jim's yard?"
"Well, what about it?" asked Ralph.
"We could use the brick wall for one fort and the board fence at Jim's for the other fort and that would give us all the time to make snowball ammunition. That would make a lot better battle than if we wasted a lot of time on forts and then had to grab for ammunition as we went along."
The boys thought that a very fine suggestion and they walked up the street, passed many a nice yard where the fresh snow was piled high, to the yard that belonged to Tom's grandmother. Fortunately grandmother was at home to give permission to play in her yard and fortunately too (though, of course, this has nothing to do with the story), she had just finished baking some of the best smelling cookies the boys ever heard of. And judging from the way those cookies vanished they must have tasted every bit as good as they smelled.

"Now," said Ralph, who seemed to be the natural general of the crowd, "let's get to work!" (Of course, he didn't say this till the last cookie was eaten up!)
The boys chose Tom for the general of the other side and he and Ralph chose sides just as they did in school for their baseball games. When the boys were all divided up then the two sides had to draw cuts to see which one would have the brick wall for the fort. Jim took two twigs, one smooth and straight and the other crooked at the end and he held them tightly in his closed fist. From the two bits of end that stuck out it was impossible to tell which was crooked and which straight.
"Now," said Ralph, "you both draw and the one who gets the crooked twig gets the brick wall."
In a breathless silence both generals began pulling out the straight twigs and Ralph the crooked one.
And then the silence was gone. With wild whoops that resembled Indian war cries more than a modern battle sounded the boys ran off each to his own place and snowball making began. They made big balls and little balls, hard balls and soft balls.
(That was the name they gave to the balls that were made up of several little snowballs grabbed together so ment enough, Tom's sister, who had been in at her grandmother's and had heard the shouts, came racing out instantly.

"You let my post office alone!" she shouted. "I don't want you to take all my things!"
And then the whole story came out. Ellen, who was the only girl in a family of four brothers had a hard time keeping her things to herself, for the boys, even when they didn't really mean to tease, often got in her way.
So she and her chum had discovered a hole in the brick wall and they had, for a long time, used that safe nook for their letters and treasures.
The boys apologized handsomely and Ellen, who realized that they had done no harm and hadn't meant to find her things, accepted their words very kindly.
But the battle ended in a truce for just then grandmother put a second plate of cookies and a pun of fragrant popcorn on the back steps—and who can fight battles or discuss hidden post offices with a popcorn smell in the air?

Birthday Greetings

A very happy day is the sincere wish of all to the members having a birthday during the coming week. On our list are the following: Helen Lawlor, Pitt St. City.
Kathleen Danton, Little River, Digby Co. N. B.
Herbert McMillen, Princess St.
City.
Vernon D. McDowell, Grand Harbor Light, Grand Manan.
Sarah Rosenthal, Paradise Row,
City.
Murray Morrison, Norton, Kings
Co. N. B.
Albert Edward Pearce, Petersville Church.
Jarvis Wilson, King St. East.
Aida Kewler, Upper West Horton.
Harry Lovelace, Rollingman, Char.
Co. N. B.
Viola Ramsay, Clementsport, Anna.
Co. N. S.
Vernon D. Breen, Moss Glen, Kings
Co. N. B.
Clemence Cairns, Waterside.
Vera Sypher, Newcastle Creek.
Augusta McDermott, Corn Hill.
Mildred A. Perry, Havelock, Kings County, N. B.
E. Weeks, Douglas Avenue.
P. Ward, St. James St.
Gordon Powell, Carleton Place.
Whidden Graham, Milltown.

A Popular Make.

"The officer says you used bad language."
"When you stop me I was a bad language."
"Never mind the make of the car."

A Horrible Hereafter.

After reading a fresh batch of spirit communications from "the other side," we are more than ever disposed to exclaim, "if this be immortality, give us death!"

A Regular Saturday Page for the Kiddies

David And The Giant

A TRUE STORY

I Samuel 17.

In the country where David lived, there were two high mountains with a valley between them. On one mountain were King Saul and all his army.
On the other mountain stood a great giant named Goliath and behind him was an army of men who hated King Saul, and wanted to kill him and all his soldiers.

Every day the giant stood up on the mountain where all could see him; he was so tall that you wouldn't have come as high as his knees. Upon his head was a helmet of brass, and his whole great body was covered with brass armour; even on his legs there were heavy brass pieces. In his hand he held a long staff with a sharp spear point at the end, by his side hung a sword, and a man went before him carrying a shield.

There on the mountain top he stood and shouted to the army of Saul's army: "Why have you come out to fight, you servants of Saul? Choose a man and let him come down to me; if he fight me and kill me then will we be your servants, but if I kill him you shall be our servants. I defy you this day!"

When Saul and his soldiers heard these words, and looked at the terrible giant, they trembled with fear.
No one dared go out and fight him.
Two of the soldiers were older brothers of David; they saw the giant every day and heard him, but they were as afraid of him as all the rest of the army.

Just as he reached there whom do you suppose he saw upon the mountain across the valley? The giant, and he called again the same words, daring any man to come down and fight him.
David listened to him, and saw Saul's soldiers running away to their tents in fear. That surprised him; he wondered how any giant, however big and strong, dared to come out against Saul's army, the army of the living God," David called it.

Then David spoke to King Saul and told him that he would go out to fight this giant. And the king said: "But you are only a boy, and this man is a warlike giant. You are not able to fight him." David answered, "Thy servant kept his father's sheep, and there came a lion and a bear and took a lamb out of the flock, and I went after them and killed them. I will kill this giant as I did the bear and the lion, since he has defied the army of the living God."

It was a wonderfully brave thing for a boy to say, wasn't it? Why do you suppose David dared fight the giant when all those strong men were afraid of him? Because they only trusted in themselves, and knew the giant was stronger than they were, but David trusted in some one stronger than the giant. He said: "The Lord, who delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear.
He will deliver me out of the hand of this giant."

And Saul said: "Go, and the Lord be with thee." First, Saul put his armour on David, and placed a helmet on his head and gave him his sword.
But David said: "I cannot go with these; I have never worn them." And he took them off. All he carried was his shepherd's staff and his sling, and from the brook near by he chose five smooth stones and put them in a shepherd's bag which he had hanging from his belt.

Down the mountain towards the giant he went. And down the mountain on the other side came the giant, but when he saw who had come to fight him, a boy with a bright fair face, he was angry.

"Am I a dog," he cried, "that you come to fight with a stick?" And he cursed David.

Then the giant called: "Come to me, and I will give thy flesh to the birds of the air and to the beasts of the field."

Do you suppose that frightened David?
Listen to what he answered. He said:
"Thou comest to me with a spear, and shield, but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of Saul's army, whom thou hast defied."

So down upon David came the giant, big and strong, and heavy in his brass armour, and David, light, and young and quick, ran to meet him. He put his hand in his bag, and taking a stone placed it in his sling, and straight at the giant's forehead he let it fly.
Deep into the giant's head it went,
and he fell upon his face to the earth.
But it hadn't killed him, and David had no sword, with a spear, and with a shield, and taking the giant's sword he killed him and cut off his head.

When the army of the giant saw that, they turned and ran away over the mountains, and with a shout of joy, Saul's soldiers ran after them and took them prisoners.

So the shepherd boy, with a sling and a stone and the help of God won a great battle.

NEW MEMBERS

Today we are pleased to welcome new members to our Club who have joined recently. We are always glad to have those new friends, as all under sixteen who wish may become a member and as usual I will publish the addresses and ages of each, so that the older members may write letters to the new friends if they wish and in that way begin a correspondence which many of you seem to desire:

Stanley Cassidy, age 8 years; address, Sussex.

Stanley Cassidy, age 6 years; address, Sussex.

Alice M. Keswick, age 8 years, address, Sussex.

Puzzles

Contest Puzzle No. 6.

Three neighbors who shared a small park, as shown in the picture, had a falling out. The owner of the large house at the top, complaining that his neighbors' chickens annoyed him, built an enclosed pathway from his door to the gate at the bottom of the picture. Then the man on the right built a path from his house to the gate on the left, and the man on the left built a path to the gate on the right.

The puzzling feature of the story is that in building their paths they were so laid out that no path crossed any other path.

Can you draw the paths on the above, and forward as your answer.
Or another drawing could be made of the park if necessary on other paper.

Missing Vowels.

See if you can simply add the proper vowels in the proper place and form the names of six animals in the following groups of letters:
1. NTLPI; 2. BVR; 3. CRCL; 4.
LPHNT; 5. TTR; 6. PSSM.

Word Square.

A short letter.
Above.
To read.
Makes mistakes.

Drop Puzzle.

A well-known proverb of five words:
M N H N S K I G T O K

All the answers are names of parts of our bodies. Can you rightly place them?

- 1.—A standard measure—foot
- 2.—Found in the schoolroom—
- 3.—Part of a ball—
- 4.—Domestic animals—
- 5.—What carpenters use—
- 6.—Means of defence—
- 7.—A kind of paper—
- 8.—A small fish—
- 9.—Tropical plants—
- 10.—Parts of a clock—
- 11.—Found in some mines—
- 12.—Plenty of assurance—

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLES.

Decapitations.
Van, Again, Lark, Eate, Near,
Till, Frate, Nest, Eate.

Diamond.
C
P
C
U
P
I
D
N
D

Proverbs.
Birds of a feather flock together.
It'd like to be a Savings Stamp And grow and swell and there Until my price of four-forteen Goes up to dollars five.
BUY U. S. S.

FEEDING BIRDS IN WINTER.

A very large number of game birds are killed every year by cold and starvation, especially in early spring, in summer and fall, the birds do their duty so thoroughly in devouring insects and farm pests, that there is nothing left for them to feed on when the winter comes, and the idea that they are all saved by migration is now proven a fallacy.

Hunters and farmers will be well repaid for putting out a few "bird lunches" for hard pressed birds, when snow and winter storms prevent them from foraging. Almost any box will serve the purpose. It should be mounted on a post several feet above the ground, so that the feeding birds will have some chance of escape from prey-ing animals, and so that cats and dogs will not find the food too easy.—E. A.
Ramsden, in Popular Mechanics.

dress, Harland, N. B.

Evelyn Voutour, age 6 years, address, Millstream, Kings Co. N. B.

John Leslie Bustard, age not sent;
address, Mechanic's Settlement, Kings
Co. N. B.

R. Lewis Bustard, age not sent;
address, Mechanic's Settlement, Kings
Co. N. B.

Find the Driver

$200.00 in Prizes

1st Prize, Photograph, and Prize, Write
Watch, and Prize, Tea Service. 4th Prize, Pen, 50 Prizes of Gold-filled Bracelets, and many consolation prizes. We are giving these splendid prizes to advertise our PRIZE GOLD NAME PINS, regular price 50c. Find the driver of the car and mark his face with an X and send it to us with 2 cents in stamps and we will make you name SOLID GOLD-FILLED, mounted on a lovely (diamond) Pearl Pin and you also have the privilege of winning FREE one of the lovely (diamond) Pearl Pins shown above. We pay as you can testify, send your answer at once with 2 cents and with a letter 7 lines 75c and a handsome Watch or other prize.

THE PRIZE GOLD PIN CO.

Dept. J., Toronto, Ont.

1st Prize, Photograph, and Prize, Write

Watch, and Prize, Tea Service. 4th Prize,

Pen, 50 Prizes of Gold-filled Bracelets,

and many consolation prizes. We are

giving these splendid prizes to advertise our

PRIZE GOLD NAME PINS, regular

price 50c. Find the driver of the car and

mark his face with an X and send it to us with

2 cents in stamps and we will make you