Soon Discovered.—It is believed that the Wm. McGuan, who was killed at Gildorist station, Michigan, and information concerning whom was sought in last night's paper, is a son of the late Samuel McGuan, whose family reside on Elizabeth street in this city. His friends last heard from him at St. Ignace, Michigan, which place he intended to leave. St. Ignace was one of the places mentioned in the letter, and telegrams have been sent to McGuan's employers there to sacertain what they know about him. It seems most probable that this is the same man, and that his relatives will have to mourn his untimely end. mence in tearing it down.
