Rev. Theobald Spetz, C.M., D.D.,
St. Mary's Church Rectory,
64 Young Street,
Kitchener, Ontario.

My dear Father Spetz:

It is exceedingly kind of you to have sent me the appreciative letter I have just received, referring to my book, "Industry and Humanity". It gives me the utmost pleasure to know that you feel as you do about its presentation of the industrial problem. I value your words both because of the regard I have for your judgment and also because of the friendship I have been permitted to share with you over a period of so many years.

I am writing the Boston publishers, the Houghton Mifflin Company, asking that a copy of "Industry and Humanity" be sent to "The Ecclesiastical Review", and am requesting that a personal letter be sent to the Editor asking that, if possible, a review be given in some subsequent issue of that publication. I thank you for suggesting this step.

With kindest personal regards, Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,
