

Gradual recovery of economy under liberating influence of Liberal policies - despite adverse international situation - with growing menace of war.

United entry of Canada into war - a remarkable achievement - based on application of Liberal principles.

Electoral triumph of 1940 even more overwhelming.

Through five long years of war - confidence maintained throughout election called at close of Parliamentary term with no abridgment of people's rights.

Renewed mandate of 1945 - revelation that Liberal party alone enjoyed substantial support from end to end of Canada.
