GRANDMA'S STORY.

I am five years old, but I have a great deal of trouble. Papa pulls my ears and calls me a sad rogue; brother Tom asks me every night what new mischief I have been up to to-day, and poor mamma sighs, and says I am the most troublesome child she ever saw.

But dear good grandma looks up from her knitting, and smiles as she says:

"Tut, tut daughter! Our Amy isn't any worse than a little girl I knew some thirty years ago."

"O grandma!" cried I one day. " do please tell me about her; for I like to hear about naughty little girls. What was her name, grandma?"

Grandma looked over her spectacles at mamma and smiled, and mamma nodded and smiled back. Then grandma said:

" I think I will tell you of one of little Clara's capers; but mind, you are not to go and do the same thing the first chance you get."

This is the story as grandmother told . "Little Clara lived on a farm away out in the country. She was the youngest of seven children, and a great pet druggists. of course. But Clara's little restless feet and mischie vous fingers often led her into trouble and disgrace. " One day Clara's mother had occasion to go to the store, which was three miles away. Clara wanted to go too. Her mother feared she would be in the way, and looked doubtful; but big brother Ben said:

"Let her go, mother; she'll be good I know."

"'Yes, let her go,' said Susan, who was trying to net a bead purse, and keep Clara's fingers out of her box of beads at the same time.

"'Do let her go,' said Roger. 'I want to rig my ship this afternoon, and a fellow can't do much with her around.

"So it was decided that Clara should go; and it was the work of but a few moments to polish up the chubby face and brush the curly hair. The pink dress, red shoes, and white sunbonnet, were put on as quickly as possible, and Clara was ready.

"'Now, do try to behave yourself," said Susan, as Ben lifted the girl into

"Of course I will,' replied Clara, pouting her lips.

"'But did she behave herself?" you ask. Ah, I will tell you.

"When they reached the store Mr. Dale the storekeeper, came out to assist them; and as he helped Clara out of the wagon he called her a little lady, which made her feel all of two inches taller than usual. Then he gave her a stick of candy, and lifted her to a seat on the counter, close beside a dear old pussy cat, who purred loudly as the little girl smoothed her fur.

"Clara's mother had a good many things to buy, and very soon forgot all about her little daughter; but when Ben came in, half an hour later, his first question was,

"' Where's Clara, mother?'

"Sure enough, where was Clara?" Her seat was empty. She had disappeared.

"'Clara, Clara, called both her mother and Ben, but there was no answer. "'She's in some mischief,' said Ben; and as quick as thought he rushed into the back part of the store, followed by his mother and Mr. Dale. What a sight met their eyes! There stood streaming steadily from a hogshead in the corner, crept toward the toes of her little red shoes. Ben caught up little Clara as quick as a flash, and—"

"No, grandma," interrupted mamma, "it was Mr. Dale who did that," while Ben made haste to turn the faucet to prevent further mischief.

"Why mamma," said I, "how do you know? Were you there?"

"I heard about it," said she; and she and grandma both smiled. The little girl was just my age, and I knew her very well." .

"And your names were both said I. "How queer."

And mamma and grandma must have thought it queer too, for they both laughed heartily.—The Nursery.

Reminiscences of New Zealand was the subject of a lecture by the Rev. W. G. Lane, of Wentworth, before a large and appreciative audience, at Richmond, on Tuesday evening, The reverend lecturer's five years' residence in that colony enabled him to handle the subject in an able manner. He exhibited 26 dissolving views of New Zealand scenery, and his translations of the aboriginal language, in which the lecturer was very proficient, were very interesting, and met with well merited applause.-Herald

FOR SEVERE COUGHS and HOARSENESS.

Philadelphia, Jan. 1, 1876.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons: Oentlemen,-Miss S. Burns, of 17th and Coates streets, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly,

MONTREAL, March 1, 1877

MESSES. T. GRAHAM & SON. I had for several years been subject to severe attacks of Inflammatory Rheumatism from which I would suffer the most intense pain from four to eight weeks, although under the best treatment I could procure. About six weeks ago I had another attack coming on with its usual severity, when a customer recommended the use of your Pain Eradicator, which he had proven himself and found in a great many cases to be an effectual cure. I gave it a trial and its results exceeded my expectation. it soon relieved the pain reduced the sweling, and I was able to attend to my business as usual in three days, and have been completely cured by less than two 25 cent

For some years I had suffered with pain and swelling around the instep and ankle of one foot, the result of a bad sprain, this was also in a short time cured by it. It has been used in my family for Neuralgia and other forms of pain with simi-

The result of its use in my case has induced many others to try it, and all that use it are well pleased with it, and like myself are determined to keep it always in our houses.

Also excellent for beasts.

MESSES. C. GATES & Co :-GENTLEMEN-Mr. Daniel Alward, of Butternutt Ridge, N.B., appeared before me and made oath that in November, 1877, he was attacked with Diptheria in its worst form. The Doctor pronounced it a very bad case and gave him some medicine which appeared to ease him, but he took cold and his throat was fast filling up, so he could scarcely breathe. He applied Gate's Acadian Limment internally and externally with immediate relief. He feels confident that unless he had got re lief he could not have lived long.
