ALLIES SUPERIOR IN GAS WARFARE

Enemy is Getting an Overdose of His Own Medicine Today

Correspondence of The Associated Press London, May 11. — Gas warfare has developed to a very considerable extent since its first use as a surprise weapon by the Germans at the second battle of Ypres.

Though entirely surprised by the British gas attack, the British and French quickly devised measures and every soldier was supplied with a gas mask.

But it is very difficult to fight their effect without removing the respirator. There can be little speech, and a man can neither eat, drink, nor smoke.

NEW YORK CLUB OF 1890 WAS ONE THAT MADE A COMEBACK

Champions 1888-1889 Broken Up, But Were Able to Build up Again

While the weakening of many baseball teams due to the necessities of the present war will upset the prophets, yet it is questionable if any major league organization will be so thoroughly disintegrated as was the New York pennant winning nine of the National League of 1888-89.

At the first base was the gigantic Roger Connor, one of the heaviest hitters of the time, while at second was Danny Richardson, an excellent heady infielder and a fair batsman.

John Montgomery Ward, the failure of whose pitching arm compelled him to take an infield position, covered short field and greatly aided the Giants with his brainy work.

BOXING FOR ARMY CHAMPIONSHIP

Men, Women and Children Attended Big Bout at Aldershot

Aldershot, England, April 13. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press) — A big boxing match was held in this district had an object lesson in the conduct of a big boxing match here a few days ago when they were invited to be the guests of the British soldiers at a program of fourteen contests between representatives of the Aldershot Command and the Southern Command of the British army.

The headlines of the tournament included about half of the best boxers in England now all in khaki.

There were no purses, the prizes being simple silver and bronze medals worth about $5 each.

Two of the players, Mickey Welch and Mike Tierman, remained loyal to the Giants, and in this pair, a nucleus Day and Muttie set about getting a team to represent New York in the National League for the season of 1890.

But there was a rift in the clouds and the management had the opportunity presented of purchasing the entire Indianapolis club, which withdrew from the National league agents.

In this deal the Giants secured the great Amos Rusie, who was a power in the pitching department
