The contents of the shed, a carload each of lime and cement, and a couple of tons of soft coal, belonging to Al derman Gillespie were completely ruined, the lime becoming slaked with the deluge of water. The roof of the shed was thoroughly gutted and the walls and doors, though left standing, were badly scorched. As to the origin of the fire there is little doubt that owing to the recent heavy rains the lime became more or less slaked and giving out considerable heat spontaneous combustion ensued. Curiously enough, the Prairie Lumber company have recently been in negotiation for the sale of the shed and had there not been such probable that the shed would have is one of the best yet published in Canalready passed out of their hands. At the recent annual conference of the German Naval League at Cologne, it was plainly shown that it means ittle or nothing that Germany is represented at the peace conference at The Hague

The Kaiser not only sent a message to the 300 delegates present at the conference, but he also sent a special representative, who at length told the conference what the Emperor actually thought, although he could not officially let his thoughts become known. Addressing the conference, the imperial messenger, General von Hahnke said: "I am commanded to convey the Kaiser's greetings to the delegates present. His majesty desires me to thank all those who are carrying on the good work of the Navy League,

"The Kaiser hopes that the league will remain strong and united, showing the German nation an example of patriotism and spirit, which ought to revail in public life.

To please their imperial master the conference then adopted a resolution calling for a quicker construction of new battleships than Germany had seen ough money necessary to give the country a navy equal to that of France Dry Goods and Shoe Bills within the next decade.
