tually a Nation

The following are extracts from Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech before the Canadian Club at Ottawa, Mon-Jan. 18:

day, Jan. 18:

We are proud to call ourselves a nation, and it is a matter for pride that we have more population than many of the nations of Europe who that we have more population than many of the nations of Europe who have filled history with their fame and renown. We have more population than Switzerland, than Belgium, than Sweden, than Denmark, than Norway. Our population at this moment cannot be very far from six millions, and it is not presumptuous to expect that by the next census it may have reached eight millions. We have witnessed the happy phenomenon within recent years of the end of what we used to call the exedus. At all events, I think we can claim that at this moment Canadian children are staying on Canadian soil. For more than sixty years a current of population flowed from the north to the south, but now, happily, that has been stopped. We are not only keeping our own people within the Dominion, but are increasing our population by drawing upon the country to the south. There has been in certain quarters some misapprehension as to the regult of American immigration to Canada. I have, for my part, no such misapprehension at all. Whenever people live under good An Old School Sampler.

Mrs. A. H. Ordway of Barre, Vt., has sampler such as was used in schools sampler such as was used in schools. a sampler such as was used in schools a century or more ago in teaching needlework. The sampler was made by her great-great grandmother, Mary Lewis of Tunbridge, when she was fourteen years old, in the year 1791. It is hemstitched and worked in silk, the gration to Canada. I have, for my part, no such misapprehension at all. Whenever people live under good laws, well administered, and they are prosperous, they never resort to revolution. Whenever people are happy under free institutions, each succeeding decade only makes them more loyal and contented, and I have no doubt for my part that the American citizen who settles in the no doubt for my part that the American citizen who settles in the Northwest Territories and becomes a British subject under Canadian laws will in the course of time developinto a good Canadian, and his children turn out better Canadians than himself. But, sir, while we claim with pride that we are a nation, we claim with equal pride that we are subjects of the British Crown—(hear, hear)—with equal pride, I say, because our colonial status carries no inferiority with it; it is not subjection. We have found that our Canadian independence is quite compatible with our dependency as a colony. The relations which we have with the mother country produce this double likely to remain so for a long time, cannot always remain as they are. They shall and must improve as time develops, but they shall and will be improved after the British manner, gradually, without violence, and giving justice to everybody as justice is due to everybody.

For my part I ventured to express a few weeks ago the opinion that the time would come when we would require our own treaty-making power. I know too well the occasion of this gathering to enter into the discussions. Are altogether too numerous. Our schools are full of them. Chances aer your oen children are weaklings. I know too well the occasion of this gathering to enter into the discussion of such a topic. This is not a political organization, and if I were to discuss such a question I am inclined to think that my friend Mr. Borden would take the counterpart. I do not know that this is his idea upon this matter, but I am sure that we can both agree that we may well reserve the discussion for the House of Commons, which will meet in a few weeks from to-day. I referred to this matter, however, only to say that it has been asserted somewhere that the concession of the treaty-making power would mean the severance of the colonial tie. It is against that idea that I wish to protest. In aer your oen children are weaklings. It's a shame so many children grow up without health when they could be made strong by Ferrozone, the best tonic growing boys and girls can take. Ferrozone invigorates the entire body, helps digestion, makes the blood pure and rich. It supplies more nourishment than children can get in any other way and seen sector.

ance of the colonial tie. It is against that idea that I wish to protest. In my estimation, whenever the greating of power is necessary to such a colony as Canada, as Australia, as New Zealand, or any of the great self-governing colonies of the British Empire, to carry on their own laws for the development of their own interests, instead of lessening, it will simply strengthen the tie which binds us to the parent state. This has been the history of the past; it may be the history of the past; it may be the history of the future. No one could have supposed, for stance, in 1887, when there was a rebellou in my own Province of Lower Canada, when there was a rebeller Canada, when there was a rebel-lion in the Province of Upper Can-ada, that four years afterwards the same two provinces would have been same two provinces would have been entrusted with responsible Government; that the mother land would not hesitate to place in the hands of men who had been in rebellion the powers of self-Government. So she did, however, and the result was to convert men who had been rebellious into the most loyal subjects of the British Orown. Sir, in the past Canada has been the pioneer in what I deem to be the civilization of the world, which shall be based upon peace. I told you a moment ago what was the difference between the Roman Empire and the British Empire. The difference can be summed up in this statement: The Roman Empire meent war; the British Empire means peace and harmony among pire means peace and harmony among all the races which are subject to its The more I advance in life—and I am no longer a young man—the more I thank Providence that my birth took place in this fair land of Canada. Canada has been modest in its history, although its history is heroic in many ways. But its history, in my estimation, is only commencing. It is commencing in this century. The nineteenth century will prove to be the century of the United States. I think we can claim that it is Canada that shall fill the twentieth century. I cannot hope that I shall see much of the development which the future has in store for my country, but whenever my eyes shall close to the light it is my wish—nay, it is my hope—that they close upon a Canada united in all its elements, united in every particular, every element cherishing the tradition of its past, and all uniting in cherishing still more hope for the suture.

NOT AN OLD MAID IN TOWN

No Bachelors Either, but There Are Ninety Rich Widows.

Ninety widows in a town of 2,500 population, every one good looking, all of them rich and not one that wants to marry again—that is part of the census record of Crownpoint, Ind.

At the intersection of two streets, making four corners, are two squares, making four corners, are two squares, called Quality corners, and at these corners are four widows whose aggregate wealth is more than $800,000, and in two blocks there are eight widows who can draw their checks for at least $200,000 more. In the vicinity of Quality corners are eleven widows, all handsome, all well to do. The rest of the ninety widows are scattered over town. These widows enjoy themselves and are noted for their acts of charity, and many of the poor people of the city can thank them for good dinners and warm clothing in winter. It was once reported that the widows of Crownpoint were going to organize a union but the man who started the report mysteriously disappeared and has never been heard of but once, and then he was living the life of a hermit in a cave of the Rocky mountains. Another peculiarity of the census in Crownpoint is the fact that there is not an aged spinster in the town, not a bachelor and only one widower. "Old and only one widower. bacheror and only one widower. One maids" do not grow well, and bache-lors are considered a disgrace. The one widower has been showing signs of matrimony lately, and there is no telling what is going to happen.

The matrimonial sharks of the large cities have heard about the wealthy widows who grace Crownpoint with there to get a list of names. Several of the widows have received offers of marriage, but they have turned them all down. If any of them should get married again it is declared that the happy bridegroom will be one of Crownpoint's noblemen. — Indianapolis

The Reason For $4.98 and $9.98. Very few people know why it is that department stores mark goods 2 cents below the dollar mark in so many cases. The general opinion is that 2 cents off is a catch. To many women bargain hunters $4.98 looks much less than $5, and $9.98 seems to mean a saving on a $10 bill. The real reason is very different from what might be upposed, and was thus explained by buyer in a large department store:

"We used to have bargains at $5 and at $10, but we found it a very expensive racket. It sounded nice to adver tise 'what $5 will do' and all that, but we lost money right along when we had these sales.

"Investigation proved that many customers would pay for such goods with the exact change, and the clerk would simply hand up the goods to be wrap-ped and fall to send down the check. The money went into the clerk's pock et. With 2 cents change coming, most women will wait, and there is no opportunity for 'knocking down.' "-New York Mail and Express.

Statistics compiled by Secretary But-ler of the state board of charities show that there has been a decrease in vagrancy in Indiana. In the last fiscal year 1,042 fewer tramps were cared for than in 1902. Twenty counties, how ever, show an increase in the number of tramps detained in the jails.

In the year, 3,008 men and 51 women vagrants were admitted to the jails, a number which Secretary Butler says is far too large. Of this number 119 ne groes were admitted, one of whom wa woman.
The tramps cared for cost the taxpayers $5,242.52, of which $376.82 was paid to the sheriffs for board, and $1,-481.70 went for the "in and out" i The average expense for each tramp was $1.71. The total cost for fees and board is $1,045.10 less than in 1902.—

Vine Trimming Clerks.

The Trimming Clerks.

In May of every year the vineries in the neighborhood of East Finchley and Barnet, England, give employment to hundreds of unemployed clerks and salesmen who go out from London. They are engaged in trimming the clusters of vines, removing all rasged edges and tainted fruit. For this labor, which is done in a high temperature the men receive about $6.75 a week, out of which they pay their own board and lodging. The vine growers prefer unemployed clerks for this work, which is of a nature too delicate to be undertaken by "kol-sy handed" help.

Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, has its own charm and beauty. Many women dread that and beauty. Many women dread that period when they must experience change of life. They fear that face and form may suffer by the change, and that they may fail to please whom they love. The value of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have express powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical extensive.
