

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 30, 1896.

Editorial Chat.

Rev. F. E. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor Society, has requested that all Societies devote the second week in November to prayer for Armenia.

Our lawmakers at Ottawa during the recent session of Parliament received for their services twenty dollars per day. Who would not be an M. P. under like circumstances?

Roseberry expresses his agreement with the policy of Salisbury on the Armenian question. The concurrence of these two rival statesmen on this policy is strong testimony in its favor.

It is now generally understood that Hon. Clifford Sifton, of Manitoba, is to be the next Minister of Interior. It is reported that such intelligence is not agreeable to Mr. Martin who, it is said as a consequence, will accept with a position of the liberal party of Manitoba.

Dr. Temple, the recent Bishop of London, has been appointed to the vacant Archbishopric of Canterbury and the Legateship of all England. Thirty years ago as the author of "Tease and Review" and other articles antagonistic to some of the established beliefs of the day, he was considered by the Church to be an unsafe spiritual guide and for nine years was deprived of a bishopric. His appointment to the highest ecclesiastical position in Great Britain is a triumph for modern theology.

The question of how our people are to be kept at home is in our mind one of the greatest problems facing the people of this province to-day. The putting of the blame upon the government is the greatest of nonsense, and is calculated to do nothing but harm. The number of those who leave our shores every year is entirely too large, and it behoves all who are interested in the welfare of the Province to use their influence to bring about a different state of affairs. There must be a cause and a remedy. Let our wise heads consider and discuss the problem, and devise if possible some way by which our people shall be kept at home to develop and build up our own country. The ACADIAN's columns are gladly thrown open for a free discussion of the subject, and we hope that some of our many readers will take advantage of their use in behalf of the land we all hold so dear.

Observations.

The sidewalks in many parts of the town are in a wretched condition. The ruts and hollows should be filled up and levelled off. It is almost as much as one's life is worth now to attempt to pass over them on dark nights.

We wonder why so many of our merchants allow the lights in their stores to be left turned on Sunday evenings. It does not give the town a good appearance. Let the lights be out and the blinds down on Sunday, and our town will appear to better advantage in the eyes of visitors.

We notice that the nuisance of having all kinds of advertising fixed on the poles of the telephone and electric light companies still continues. What a unwholesome appearance they present. Old battered tin signs and torn and spitting card and paper notices. They should be all cleared off; and the poles neatly painted.

Is the Town Improvement Society past recovery? There is surely much work in our town for such an organization. We wonder if there is not enough public-spiritedness among our citizens to do something in this line. We have a number of suggestions to make as soon as the society is in a position to take hold of them.

Now that we have a representative at Ottawa who is in a position to do something for us, we should make a move to secure some of the favors that other towns in the Province have received. The old scheme of a wharf at the mouth of the creek should be revived. If we do not get a grant for this and other needs it will be our own fault this time.

The appearance of the old cemetery is a blot on the reputation of our town. For a comparatively small sum it could be put in a condition that would be creditable to us. If those who are directly interested will not act the town should take hold.

We clip the following from Truro's bright new paper, The Three P's, and thank our contemporary for his kind remarks:

We are pleased to have the Wolfville Acadian on our exchange list. The paper is new and sensible, which latter feature at once gains our respect and admiration. There is much need now-a-days for a revival of thought and common sense throughout the whole world of journalism.

The Acadian is of further interest to us owing to the fact that for about five months during our second vacation while pursuing our college course in Montreal we published in the Congregational church at Kingsport, just opposite Wolfville, and we do not forget the beautiful Cornwallis Valley, the Cape Bretonian and the Land of Nova Scotia.

The Cold Storage Project.

The cold storage project on which Dairy Commissioner Robertson has been at work during the past two years is calculated to be of immense benefit to the general farming interests of the country provided the farmers give it a fair trial and the project does not fall into the hands of speculators. In the past our farmers have had the advantage of a local market for everything produced upon the farm and which could be sold in either a raw or finished state. But the opening up of new agricultural areas and the great transportation facilities that have been perfected of late years have brought the farmers of other sections into close competition with our own and the effect has been that in many lines our markets have been captured by the producers living at a distance. To relieve the depression that has been brought about by this trade condition the government has made provision for the shipment of certain lines of farm produce which the older sections of the country can best produce and for which there is a good market across the Atlantic and elsewhere. Butter, cheese, eggs, fruit and certain kinds of meats may be shipped to central points and placed in cold storage until the steamers arrive to carry the goods to market. By means of these cold storage facilities the farmers will be able to turn their attention to new lines of production whenever the old ones become unprofitable and retain the profitable practice of tilling the soil. In dealing with agricultural problems governmental assistance has resulted highly satisfactorily in the past. Ten years ago our dairy products were almost unknown in Great Britain. Prof. Robertson sent an exhibit of creamery butter and cheese to the Intercolonial Exposition at London and distributed samples to the patrons of the great fair. He succeeded in having factories established throughout Ontario, and inspectors appointed, and by giving an official oversight to all the operations entering into the production of dairy goods he was able to secure from that province an article that was uniformly high class. It captured the palates of the British epicures, and from a small beginning it reached an export figure of $17,000,000. There is a development, though not so great, in other lines, and there is reason for hoping that the Maritime Provinces will share more in the benefits that they have in the case of dairy goods.

The Presidential Election.

There are six tickets in the field for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency of the United States. They are: Republican—William McKinley and Garret A. Hobart. Democratic—William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall. National Democratic—John H. Palmer and Simon B. Buckner. Prohibition—Joshua Levery and Hale Johnson. Socialist Labor—Charles H. Metchett and Matthew Maguire. People's—William J. Bryan and Thomas E. Watson. Mr. Bryan, it will be observed, on two tickets for President, but he has a different colleague on each for Vice-President. It is not supposed that any of these tickets, except the first two, will carry a single state, but the National Democratic ticket—which represents the Gold Democrats of the straight party—may do so. These National Democrats are, however, working with vigor. They hope to show when the silver crisis is over that there is in the Democratic party a strong leaven of common sense, and that the party was not wholly committed to the "ism" of which Mr. Bryan is now the representative. They think it better that Republicans should triumph for the moment than that the country should be a victim to the ideas which Mr. Bryan represents, hoping that in due time the sound principles of the democracy will again assert themselves in the national councils.

Publications To Hand.

The Student, a school paper, published by the pupils of Truro Academy, is the latest addition to our exchange list. It is published monthly, and is a very interesting and readable little journal. John F. Smith directs its policy. The November Ladies Home Journal, of Philadelphia, is a Thanksgiving number, replete with interesting matter and is artistically most attractive. This publication is one of the very best we know, being first class in every particular, and is well worthy of a place in every home. Besides articles of particular interest to woman-kind, the Journal contains each month a fund of interesting and instructive reading for every member of the family. The issue for November of The Delinquent, called the Thanksgiving number, contains many beautiful plates which display to perfection the Handsome Styles and Fabrics of the season, and a large amount of general reading on interesting subjects. The fiction has become a very popular feature of the magazine, and the story for the month is "Rosemary," a tale of Washington life, by Harriet Siddie Davis, well-known as the author of "A Chapel of Ease" and "In Sight of the Goddess."

WHITSON & FRASER'S College—the largest, oldest, and best Commercial College in Nova Scotia—has a staff of seven skilled instructors. A Diploma from this college gives the best chance for a good situation. More applications are received by the college for first-class positions than can be filled. Time lost during Xmas holidays is made up to the student. Send for catalogue to S. E. Whitson, principal, 95 Barrington St., Halifax, N. S.

The post office department will put a stop to private post cards which contain advertising matter on address side. No such cards or devices must appear on the front of the cards.

Personal Mention.

(Contributions to this department will be gladly received.) Mr. A. M. Hoyle, of Halifax, was in town this week, and paid the ACADIAN a call. Mr. Wiley Churchill, of the Commercial Bank, Windsor, spent Sunday in Wolfville. Prof. Faville arrived home from his lecture tour through Cape Breton, on Saturday last. We are sorry to hear that Mr. Avard Bishop, of Lawrencetown, who has just entered college, has to leave on account of ill-health. Mr. R. E. Pines, of whom reference was made in last issue, is visiting in Wolfville, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. R. V. Jones. Miss Bessie Carter, a bright lady teacher of Canaan, Kings Co., attended the teachers' convention last week. The News was pleased to have had a call from her.—Truro Weekly News. Miss Nense Calder, of this town, last week completed a course in type writing and shorthand at Whitson & Fraser's Commercial College, Halifax, and was awarded a diploma with the highest grade certificate. Finnan McClure, M. P. P., of Colchester, formerly of the Truro Guardian, was married at Lunenburg on Wednesday to Miss Dora Inglis. The happy couple are now touring through the Province. The ACADIAN extends congratulations. Previous to his departure from Kentville last week Rev. Dr. Begg was the recipient of many tokens of regard and esteem from members of his congregation. Among others, Mr. James McLeod, jeweller, presented the Dr. with a valuable gold watch and chain, and Mrs. Begg with a solid gold English brooch, set with pearls.

Violin Recital.

Miss Fitch's recital in College Hall last Friday evening was well attended. A high-class entertainment in every respect was given. Miss Fitch has few equals in the country as a violinist, and her selections were generally applauded. She was encored twice. Miss Barker has a sweet, clear voice, and is especially at home in the high notes. Her first selection, "Nita Gitana," was given an enthusiastic encore, to which she graciously responded. The Misses O'Key are both accomplished musicians, and their piano duet was brilliantly executed. Mr. B. W. Wallace's song, "Saint Anthony's Sermon" was rendered in so pleasing a manner that he was called upon to give something else. He responded with a humorous selection. The Wolfville Orchestra's numbers were delightfully rendered, and were well worth the price of admission. Every member of the Orchestra is an artist, and wherever they are gathered together, there will be found music. The concert was enjoyed by all.

As It Should Always Be.

The following taken from a Waverly, Mass., paper will be read with interest by many. We are glad to see our boys ahead, even in a game of tennis. Both the victors are well-known here and graduates of Acadia: The challenge to play a game of tennis which was recently sent out by two members of the British Lions, mentioned in last week's issue of the Bulletin, was misconstrued by many as applicable to two of the American Eagles only. But as it has been learned that it was an error and was to be interpreted as an open challenge, it was accepted and was played on the hospital court Thursday afternoon, and was watched by many interested spectators. Mr. John E. Homer and Mr. A. C. Deekman were the challengers, and Mr. Eliza Cohoon and Mr. F. A. Caldwell were their opponents. It was seen from the very beginning that Messrs. Homer and Deekman were no match for their opponents, the latter playing a very weak game. The terrific drives of Mr. Cohoon and the skillful returns of Mr. Caldwell were the feature of the game, both of them demonstrating that they were not novices at all. Messrs. Homer and Deekman on the other hand played a very slow game, occasionally however, making some brilliant plays which were their only redeeming feature, and altogether there was an element of love running through it, due no doubt to lack of practice. The result is appended: 6-9, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1, in favor of Cohoon and Caldwell.

Hantsport.

Mr and Mrs. Eaton, of Estonsville, spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs. J. B. North. Miss Bessie Brown, of Halifax, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Brown, returned home last week. A lecture under the auspices of the B. Y. P. U. was delivered last evening in the Baptist church. Subject: "The Book of Ages." H. G. Harris, barrister, of Wolfville, was the guest of Dr. Margeson on Thursday last.

IN purchasing a winter dress it is always well to have as many patterns to select from as possible, especially if it costs you nothing. Send us a post card and get a full line of our new samples—not an old-fashioned piece in the lot. These goods are all imported direct from England, thereby saving the Canadian wholesaler's profit. We are not afraid to have our prices compared with any goods shown in Canada. We merely ask you to give us the chance of the comparison. All our dress goods will be found to be double fold—about 42 inches wide. We might mention as of particularly good value our tweed dress goods at 42, 65 and 80 cents. These are altogether different style from those shown last year.

We also wish to say a few words about our new fall jackets. These are bought by us in Germany and are unsurpassed for good value. We have a special line of black jackets at $2.25, $3.25, $4.25 and $5.25. Our $5.25 jacket comes in black, brown and blue. If you wish higher priced garments we have them at $6.00, $8.00, $9.25, $10.75 and $14.00. Our best one is black heaver cloth, trimmed with real sable and is worth $16.00. We will send you any of these on approbation and will prepay the express charges. It will cost you nothing to see them.

BY RYCKMAN'S KOOTENAY CURE THE KING OF MEDICINE.

One of Many Testimonials. Mr. R. J. Logan, of St. John, N. B., writes us that he had Rheumatism for 15 years, and during that time used barrels of liniment and spent many dollars without getting cured; that the pain was so severe 'at times in his shoulders that he walked the floor all night. He took two bottles of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, and was completely restored to health. He says that life at the present time is worth living, owing to Kootenay Cure, and he recommends the medicine to all Rheumatism sufferers.

BIRMTOWN.

W. C. Bill, Esq., has been recently in delicate health. His many friends will be glad to hear of his improvement. Mrs. Bill is expected home from her visit to her daughter Rose, in England, early in November. Mr. H. H. Rose paid a brief visit to the parsonage last week. He hopes to return to Acadia in the near future. Mr. Jno. Lantz moved into his new house this week. The Division of the S. of T. has been flourishing through the summer months, and is still adding to its membership. Deputy J. Dunham attended the session of the Grand Division at Halifax on the 27th and 28th.

A surprise party was made to the parsonage last Monday evening by members of the Division bringing to the delight of the minister, a valuable fur coat, a present from the society. Deputy Dunham made the presentation with a neat address. Mr. Freeman spoke a few words of grateful acknowledgement of the kind thoughtfulness of the young people for his comfort.
