ed by the forms of those battling for life—the sole survivors of the pretty little schooner which only twenty minutes before floated bravely on the smooth sea.

As soon as the poor fellows were able to tell their story they astounded ask it the assortion that their vessel had been submerged by a gigantic cuttle fish or calamary, the animal which, in a smeller form, attracts so much attention in the Brighton Aquariam as the Octopus. Each narrator had his version of the story, but in the main all the narratives tallied so remarkably as to leave no doubt of the fact.

As soon as he was at leisure, I prevailed on the skipper of the disaster, and I have now much pleasure in sending you a copy of his narrative: 'I was lately the skipper of the Pearl school of the word of six men. We were beund from the Mauritias to Rangoon in ballast to return with paddy, and had put in at Gaile for water. Three days on the fall becalmed in the Bay (lat. 8,50 N, long, 84,5 £.;) on May 10, about 5 p.m. (elight bells I know had gone,) we sighted a two-masted screw on our port quarter, about five or six miles off; very soon after, as we lay motion less as great mass rose slowly out of the soa, about half a mile off on our larboard side, and remained spread out as it were and stallourcy; it looked like the back of a huge whale, but holory less, and was of a brownish tolory replied Tom Scott. 'And it ain't the sea screent,' said one of the rew, for he's too round for that exceed to be basking in the sun.

'Whet's that?' I sung out to the mate. 'Blest if I knows; barring it size, color and shape, it might be a whale,' replied Tom Scott. 'And it ain't the sea screent,' said one of the crew, for he's too round for that ere, Bill Darling, a Newfoundlander came on deek and looking at the monstice, and was at least that he shook, there was a great ripple all round him, and will capsize us if you hurt him. Smiling at the idea, I left ya and hill, and out at any part of it that comes aboard; look alive, and Lordhelp us.' Not aware of the danger, and never associated and the season's possible of the crew, for he's too round for that ere is a squilt, and out at any part of it that comes aboard; look alive, and Lordhelp us.' Not aware of the danger, and never having seen or heard of such a mon atter, i gave up orders, and lit was no make souching the he'more repeated by the control of such a mon atter, i gave up orders, and lit was no make souching the he'more repeated by the control of such inconvenience, check incipient inflammation of the air passages and prevent the accumulation of phlegm, so distressing to the patient. The hard, dry cough, so fatal to elderly people is safely and certainly relieved by the salutary effect of this balsam.

There are certain seasons in every year changes in the blood of every person; changes which may cause serious results; changes which may bring on serious diseases; changes which may lead to loss of life if not attended to at once. Take warning in time before it is too late. Purify your blood with Dr. Wilson's Family Antibilious and preserving Pills, the most life-invigorating medicine in the world.

Our experience of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment is that persons who use it once come back again for more, as it gives them (very satisfaction. It is every day becoming more and more popular.

We do not reccommend Clark's Derby Condition powders to cure a confirmed are of heaves, but they will relieve it, and recent cases effects a cure. Farmers, amsters, and those having charge of horses would save time and money by having these powders always on hand, to adminis-ter on the first symptoms of decline or dis-

To Lovers of Music.

COMPLETE REFUTATION of the statements made by certain interested parties, against the Estoy Organ, is based upon the fact, that at the Fair of the New York State Agricultural Society these Organs were awarded the GOLD MEDAL. This speaks for itself. An inspection of the Instruments by competent judges will convince them that the Estey is not even equalled, much less surpassed by any make of organ now being sold in this market.

Expected shortly, a splendid organ, style No. 21, lately impraved by the addition of two new stops, making 10 in all, without additional charge. This instrument has power enough for any of our medium sized churches. Will have in a few days, a supply of Patent Piano and Organ stools. JAMES J. ANSLOW,
