

DAYLIGHT BILL BEFORE HOUSE.

Mr. Lewis Introduces Measure to Move Clock Ahead.

Sir Wilfrid's Statement on Waterways Treaty.

Will Require Time to Consider St. Mary's River Case.

Ottawa, March 12.—An hour of miscellaneous business, another hour in committee on private bills, and the remainder of the session in supply sums up the day's work in the Commons. Mr. E. N. Lewis introduced a measure similar to that which has recently caused so much comment in the old country, and which seeks to put forward the clock an hour during the summer months. The bill, which is called the daylight saving bill, provides for the adoption of local time one hour in advance of the standard time throughout Canada. Mr. Lewis' proposal being that the change should take effect at 2 a. m. on the last day of April, and continue until the last day of October.

The members did not seem to take Mr. Lewis' scheme very seriously, but the bill was read a first time. In reply to a suggestion by Mr. Borden that the Government should take the House into their confidence as to their attitude towards the changes effected in the waterways treaty by the United States Senate, Sir Wilfrid Lawton stated that the Government had been prepared to adopt the treaty as it was concluded, but that as the changes seemed to affect the waters of St. Mary's River, it was intended to obtain some local information with regard to that matter before they made up their minds. Sir Wilfrid announced that the treaty would be laid on the table on Monday.

The House enjoyed a laugh at the expense of Mr. Foster, who complained that certain returns which he had asked for had not been brought down.

"One of the returns to which the hon. member refers," replied Mr. Oliver, "was brought down as far back as February 12."

Dr. Edwards, of Frontenac, without giving notice, which is usually expected, took occasion on motion to go into supply to make an attack on the Minister of Public Works, who, he alleged, had treated him discourteously by giving satisfactory replies to certain questions which he had put regarding the construction of military cottages at Kingston.

A charge of discourtesy against Dr. Pugsley, who is a model of good Parliamentary manners, rather tickled the House, which listened with amused interest to the explanation, which was simply that Dr. Edwards had so framed his questions as to leave them open to misinterpretation. The Minister of Public Works had placed his own interpretation upon them, and answered them accordingly.

In committee on private bills there was an interesting discussion on the possibilities of railway construction from Prince Albert to Hudson's Bay. Mr. Lennox took the view that if the Government were going to construct a road to Hudson's Bay they should be careful about granting charters to promoters of other railways in that direction. Hon. Mr. Graham said he was a little sceptical as to a number of railways running to Hudson's Bay. His opinion was that the country would be satisfied if one road was constructed in the near future. As to whether Fort Churchill or Port Nelson had the better harbor facilities there was a difference of opinion. Mr. Armstrong, the engineer who had conducted the Government survey to Fort Churchill, had reported rather in favor of Port Nelson, but in order to obtain more definite information it was intended to send out Mr. Armstrong to view the coast to that point. Pressure had been brought to bear upon the Government to start the railway at Prince Albert, but their idea was to have the most direct connection with existing railways.

Dr. Chisholm hoped to see three or four railways to Hudson's Bay, and Dr. Neely also took an optimistic view of the future in those northern parts. Major Currie introduced and had read a first time a bill to facilitate the operation of the adulteration of foods act by simplifying the procedure in abolishing the deposits required in connection with prosecutions.

In Committee of Supply on the harbors and rivers estimates, Mr. Gordon, of Nipissing, asked if the Dominion Government proposed to provide piers on the Lake Temiskaming at New Liskard. He understood the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway proposed to build a line to the water side, and facilities would be required.

Dr. Pugsley understood that the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway was handling a large traffic and carrying an enormous revenue. There was no doubt the northern Ontario country about Lake Temiskaming, Lake Gougen and the Montreal River was developing and would require facilities. He thought the T. & N. O. should do as the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. frequently did where they touched water routes, and provide the facilities. He suggested that application should be made to the Ontario Government for the terminal facilities. Mr. Gordon asked for.

Items amounting to $150,000, chiefly for harbor and river improvements in the Province of Quebec, were passed before adjournment.

The insurance bill was read a second time, and referred to the Committee on Banking and Commerce.

CAISTORVILLE LITERARY.

The Caistorville Literary Society held its annual meeting on Monday evening. The meeting opened with a song, after which the following numbers were given: Reading, Arthur Bennett; solo, Gertrude Grant; reading, Dr. McLellan; solo, Mr. H. Asher; mouth-organ solo, Arthur Swick; reading, Wm. Munn; solo, Mr. J. Grant; recitation, Paul Shuter; song, Mr. H. Asher; reading, Dr. McLellan. The debate was, "Resolved, that married life is more ideal than single life." Affirmative, Mrs. P. Park, Mr. T. Price and Mr. J. D. Park; negative, Miss Eberington, Mr. A. W. Edwards and Mr. Arvey Grant. The decision was given in favor of the affirmative. Then followed a solo by Mr. T. Price. The remarks of the critic, H. Asher, were of great benefit.

The Model Literary Society of Abingdon will supply the programme for next Monday night. There will be a challenge debate, "Resolved, that intermarriage has caused more misery to mankind than war."

DANISH WOMEN

Exercise Dual Privilege of Voting and Being Voted For.

Copenhagen, March 12.—Danish women here to-day for the first time exercised the dual privilege of voting and being voted for, and their triumph after 25 years' agitation greatly excited them. The city was excited all day. The contest was a municipal one, but the main issue being Socialism against an alliance of the various grades of Conservatism, the interest was to a great extent national. Half the city's voters under the new franchise are women and they seemed to dominate the election.

There were crowds of women around the polling booths before they opened, eager as theatre first-nighters. Shellers were specially provided for children-laden perambulators while the mothers of the children voted. They were largely patronized.

GRAND RIVER.

A Series of Storage Reservoirs is Suggested to Stop Flow.

Meeting of Galt Board of Trade Held With Outside Delegates.

Galt, Ont., March 12.—There was an important meeting of the Board of Trade to-night in the council chamber, at which the matter of the conservation of the waters of the River Grand was discussed at some length. Delegates from Preston, Berlin and Galt were present.

Mr. L. Breithaupt, of Berlin, gave his views on the subject, which briefly were as follows: Regulation of river flow by means of large storage reservoirs is a method that has been extensively and successfully adopted in older countries, in the United States, and even to some extent in Canada. This method appears to be comparatively easily practicable on the Grand River. The result would be that destructive floods would no more occur, and that a steady and very much increased flow would extend throughout the low water months of the year.

Of the total drainage area of the river, approximately one-half is above Galt, including the Speed and the Mustang areas. The storage and husbanding of the precipitation rainfall and snowfall of even one-half of the drainage area above Galt would accomplish the purpose in view and this means that storage basins, with the full required effect for regulation, could be located well up the river and at those places where there appear to be the most promising sites for such work. Reservoirs would be preferably few in number and of large extent. It is probable that the Speed and the Mustang Valleys would also afford desirable reservoir sites.

The work of investigation to determine how the entire problem could most efficiently be treated should preferably be entrusted to a continuing commission. There would be questions of land valuations, prevention of stream pollution, and many other questions, including gain in water power already established in Galt, Paris, Brantford, Dunnville, gain of new water powers, saving in the prevention of floods, sanitation, water supply and waste removal, and a gain in having a good flow throughout the summer months.

The following resolution, proposed by C. R. Hanning, Preston, and seconded by Hugh Cant, Galt, was passed unanimously: "That this meeting of delegates from the Boards of Trade of Preston, Berlin and Galt, respectfully urge on the Government the appointment of a commission on Grand River conservation, along the lines suggested by the Brantford Board of Trade."

LOAN TO G. T. P.

Advance of Ten Millions, Secured by Mortgage.

Ottawa, March 12.—Hon. W. S. Fielding has given notice of the expected Government resolution, providing for temporary financial assistance to the G. T. P. to aid in the completion of the railway section of the road.

The resolution provides for an advance, by way of loan, to the company, of a sum not exceeding ten million dollars, with four per cent. interest, payable half yearly, and repayable in ten years. Whether advanced in one or several instalments, the loan is to be secured by G. T. P. bonds, bearing the same rate of interest, the principal amount of the bonds received in pledge to equal the sum advanced, such bonds to be secured, subject to any prior lien or charge, by mortgage or deed of trust by way of mortgage on the prairie section, including equipment and property, tools, rights and franchises and to be guaranteed as to payment of principal and interest by the Grand Trunk Railway Company.

It is provided that in the event of default of interest payment or principal, in addition to any right of recovery against the company or on the bonds, the Government shall be deemed to be the holder of such bonds, and entitled to all the rights and remedies available to bondholders arising according to the terms of the mortgage, when default in payment of interest or principal is made. It is also provided that the Government may raise by way of loan, in accordance with the statute relating to the public debt and the raising of loans authorized by Parliament, a sum not exceeding ten million dollars to make the contemplated advance to the company.

BRITAIN IS WILLING

Will Ratify South African Union Act if States Accept It.

London, March 12.—It is learned that Lord Selborne has been instructed from Downing Street to communicate privately to the four Parliaments of South Africa, telling them that if they will accept the draft union constitution the Imperial Government will give them the necessary Act to ratify it.

CLIP POWERS OF AUDITOR.

Legislative Discussion on the Government Measure.

Liberal Leader and Labor Man Make Suggestions.

Motion to Abolish the Three-Fifths Clause—A Busy Sitting.

Toronto, March 13.—The Legislature made the amending of the Audit Act the feature of a busy Friday afternoon. The House went into committee on the draft bill presented by the Government, and emerged with a measure that bespoke the thoughtful handwork of the Liberal leader. Hon. Mr. MacKay secured two important amendments and the addition of a new clause. This is modelled on the Dominion statute, and provides that where the Treasury Board overrule the Auditor, that official shall prepare a statement containing all correspondence, legal opinions, reports of counsel, special warrants, cheques issued without his certificate, and all expenses in connection therewith, and the Provincial Treasurer shall present the same as a return to the House not later than the third day of the next succeeding session.

THE SUGAR-COATING. Hon. A. J. Matheson, the Provincial Treasurer, prefaced the consideration of the bill by his motion to increase the stipend of the Auditor from $3,000 to $3,500. Mr. Clancy had done excellent work, the Minister stated, and his salary was statutory.

Hon. A. G. MacKay asked as to justification for the increase. Was the work greater? Had the number of vouchers increased?

"I think they have doubled," quoth the Treasurer.

"Easily doubled," supplemented the Premier.

"Has he been given additional assistance?" queried the Opposition leader.

The Premier replied that the work had increased out of proportion to the assistance given, and added that the cost of living was higher. The motion passed.

In explaining the bill proper the Treasurer declared it was not, as had been alleged, an effort to "clip the wings" of the Auditor, but to make the Audit Act more workable.

Sir James Whitney characterized the Auditor as a "most efficient and capable official, so much so that he placed in warranted regard in his interpretation of the legal formula of the Act."

"I had a great deal of hesitation," said the Premier, "in consenting to the amendment, for I deem it necessary and urgent the present Act. It is simply framed to meet the interpretation of the Auditor."

It was proposed, the Premier pointed out, that in connection with accounts for transportation, travel and incidental expenses, in special cases, civil servants, the Minister might certify them up to $100, that certification being sufficient even if part of the accounts had no vouchers. The Auditor required a voucher for every expenditure of $1 or more, which in special cases was putting an official to the necessity of "going through a purgatory of inconvenience and humiliation."

Colonel Matheson instanced the cases of Provincial drainage referees and officers sent on detective duty to the north country.

A DANGEROUS AMENDMENT.

Mr. MacKay characterized the amendment as dangerous. It was patent consideration should be allowed, but $100 gave a large order of margin.

"I think so, too," put in Sir James, "but the attitude of the Ministers will always be not to take advantage of it."

"The Ministers will always tell when they are being fooled," smiled the Opposition leader. He suggested that all accounts passed under the new amendment be specifically shown in the public accounts each year.

The Premier agreed and the change was made.

"Why make the sum $100?" pursued Mr. MacKay. "A much smaller sum would be safer."

CONSERVATIVE PRESS CRITICISED.

Mr. Alan Studholme criticised the Government to be on dangerous ground. Even the Conservative press were criticising the measure. "It doesn't look well to be rushing it through on a quiet Friday afternoon," he observed.

"A gratuitous remark which is not justified," was the Premier's comment, then added that the Government of Ontario would not be interfered with. "He was one of the best watchdogs of the treasury this Province ever had," declared Mr. Studholme, "and he's keeping on the good work."

The press, he repeated, were almost in opposition to the bill.

The newspaper spoke ex cathedra without the facts," retorted the Premier. "Somebody wrote something about a subject he did not understand."

SAVE GOVERNMENT FROM SELF.

Mr. Studholme replied that he was alluding to the Conservative press, who sought to save the Government from itself in this matter. "These editors," he remarked, "are intelligent men. They had the bill before them and could refer to the statutes."

"I must remind the hon. member that the responsibility for legislation rests with the occupants of the treasury benches and not the editors of the newspapers," put in Sir James.

"The Premier put that nicely," came back the Labor man, "but he knows and realizes the value of newspaper opinion. There is nothing he likes better than to read the argument of an opponent by reading from the columns of the Globe."

Mr. MacKay strenuously opposed the clause in the bill providing that the accounts be prepared and printed. He moved that it be struck out, the resolution being declared lost.

The bill in its amended form passed the committee.

OPPOSE THREE-FIFTHS CLAUSE.

Mr. Wm. Proudfoot (Centre Huron), seconded by the Liberal leader, introduced an amendment to the liquor license act doing away with the three-fifths clause. It was read a first time.

Replying to a question by Mr. D. J. McDougall (East Ottawa), Hon. J. J. Foy said he was informed of the killing of Elias E. Taylor in the yards of the Grand Trunk at Madawaska; that application was made by friends of the deceased for an inquest; that the application was refused because the case did not come within the statute; that a Secretary of the Dominion Railway Commission investigated it and reported, and that he saw no further reason for dealing with the request.

Only bear this in mind. Her offer will not last long, for thousands and thousands of women who are suffering will take advantage of this generous means of getting cured. So if you are ailing, do not suffer another day. But send the free coupon to Mrs. Miller without another day's delay.

The slimly-attended Legislature put in a busy afternoon on the advancement of public and private bills.

"We do more real work with a small lot than with the many," Mr. Studholme volunteered.

"Hear, hear," approved Sir James Whitney, as he gathered up his papers and moved the adjournment.

BRANT'S SKULL.

Buffalo Physician's Offer to Brantford City.

Brantford, March 12.—Dr. G. H. McMichael, Buffalo, has written the local authorities that he has in his possession a skull said to be that of Capt. Joseph Brant, after whom Brantford was named, and whose body is interred in a tomb at the Mohawk Church near this city. Locally the claim is doubted, but the doctor says he secured the skull from another physician, who got it about thirty years ago, and is willing to give it to the city. Ten years ago Brant's tomb was broken into by unknown parties, but a search afterwards revealed the skull still in it. Whether or not Brant's skull was taken and another substituted is unknown.
