

...as Attorney General twelve years ago, and has proved himself a clever politician, a brilliant debater, and the main stay of Premier Fielding in the Assembly.

Mr. Longley has travelled extensively, both on this continent and in Europe, and has addressed many distinguished audiences on political and other matters. As a lecturer on popular subjects his services are widely sought. Mr. Longley is an earnest Liberal, a gentleman of pronounced views, and able to eloquently express them, whether in the legislature in the hustings or in the public press. As a stump speaker during an election campaign he is without peer among the Nova Scotia politicians. He is bright, keen, pungent and sarcastic, and few men in the public sphere, care to meet him in public debate.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The observations of James Monroe fifth president of the United States, which have since been known as the Monroe doctrine, were stated to Congress in his annual message in 1823, and were as follows:

"We view it therefore to be incumbent on the United States and its allied powers, to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any part of this hemisphere, as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power, we have not interfered, and shall not interfere, but with the governments who have declared their independence, and maintained it, and whose independence we have on great consideration and just principles acknowledged, we could not view any interference for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power, in any other light than as a manifestation of an unfriendly disposition towards the United States."

A TORY DEFEAT.

For the first time in its history since Confederation the county of Cardwell, Ontario, has defeated a Tory candidate. The Dominion by-election in that constituency to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of R. S. White was held Tuesday, and resulted in the return of Stubbs, the McCarthyite candidate, defeating Willoughby, the Tory nominee, by over two hundred majority, and the Liberal, Henry, by a two-to-one vote.

Mr. Henry was believed to have a good chance up to the last moment, when the majority of the Liberals, fearing that the split among the government's opponents would ensure the election of Willoughby, bolted to Stubbs, and elected him.

The defeat to the government is a very serious one, showing that in a usually strong Tory constituency like Cardwell, their policy on the Manitoba school question is condemned by a large majority of the electors. While the Tory organs profess to sneer at the apparently poor showing made by the Liberal candidate, they know, as a matter of fact, that the McCarthyite and Liberal stood on practically the same ground on the two great questions at issue in the contest, the tariff question and the Manitoba school muddle. Mr. McCarthy has announced himself over and over again as a tariff reformer, and everybody knows his attitude regarding Manitoba. It was this gentleman who led the fight in Cardwell against the government hosts, and with the assistance of the Liberals at the polls, he achieved a notable victory, a victory which has sent a thrill of dismay into the Tory camp at Ottawa, and throughout the country.

If the government could not carry the hitherto strong Tory Cardwell, where can they win on the school issue, which they have forced on the country.

A gratifying feature of Tuesday's contest was the fact, that in the Roman Catholic parish of Adolph, the electors of that denomination refused to be dragged into voting the Tory ticket, notwithstanding the appeals made to them on the school question. While no doubt anxious that their co-religionists in Manitoba should secure their just rights, they object to the government's policy of coercion, preferring rather the plan of reconciliation proposed by Mr. Laurier.

The returns from Cardwell were not pleasant reading for the Tory ministers, but they will have a lot of that kind of news before the end of next year.

FORTY-THREE YEARS OLD.

The Religious Intelligencer, published in this city by Rev. Dr. McLeod, and the organ of the Free Baptists of the Maritime provinces, has completed its forty-third year, being, we believe, with one exception, the oldest paper in New Brunswick. Dr. McLeod in the last issue of his paper, indulges in a retrospect, tracing briefly the history of the Intelligencer from its establishment in 1853, by his father, the late Rev. Dr. McLeod, and the latter has conducted the paper successfully ever since, enlarging it from time to time, as the necessities demanded, and making it a popular religious paper, invaluable to members of the Free Baptist denomination.

The Intelligencer has kept fairly clear of political matters, but occasionally has found it necessary to administer reproof to the Dominion government for its course on prohibition and the Manitoba school question. Dr. McLeod is a vigorous writer, and the Intelligencer is an exchange, which we never by any means despise, without a perusal of its well filled pages. We wish our contemporary many more years of useful life and prosperity.

GENERAL ELECTION IN MANITOBA.

The Manitoba legislature has been dissolved, the general election is to be held January 16th, and the new house will meet January 18th for the despatch of business. Premier Greenway has addressed a manifesto to the electors in which he recounts the negotiations which have passed between his government and the Ottawa authorities on the school question. He refers to the "menacing attitude" of the Dominion government, and protests against the attempt of the latter to destroy Manitoba's national schools. In view of the proposed remedial legislation to be introduced next month at Ottawa, he asks the electors of Manitoba to elect a government which will express their opinion on the matter. It is a dispute, and expresses the belief that if the province votes overwhelmingly against the concessions asked for by the Ottawa people, the Tory ministers at Ottawa will hesitate before entering upon a policy of coercion against Manitoba.

There is no doubt, Greenway already strong in the legislature, will go back to the new house, with an almost unanimous vote of the country in favor of his policy of resisting the attempt to bulldoze the province into acceptance of Separate Schools. The campaign will be a short but very lively one, and will be watched with intense interest all over Canada.

ATTORNEY GENERAL LONGLEY.

The Hon. J. Willibrod Longley, Attorney General of Nova Scotia, who spent Sunday in this city with his friend Prof. Roberts, and chats pleasantly on some important topics in to-day's HERALD, is one of the most eloquent and popular of Nova Scotia's younger generation of public men.

Mr. Longley was born at Paradise, Annapolis Co., January 4th, 1849, and will soon be 47 years old. He was educated at Acadia college, from which he took his M. A. degree in 1871. He studied law and was admitted to the Bar in 1875, opening an office in Halifax. Besides practicing his profession, he has also engaged in literary work, writing editorials for the Halifax Recorder, and for several leading magazines. He was returned to the legislature in 1882 for his native county, and despite the most vigorous and uncompromising opposition has represented it ever since. He entered the Nova Scotia

MR. MILES REPLIES

To Mr. Treadwell on the Marguerite Post Office Matter.

To the Editor of THE DAILY HERALD: Sir—In the Daily Gleaner of the 13th inst., I notice a communication from Mr. Geo. A. Treadwell. As he chose a time very unsuitable for such a discussion, when the attention of our country was occupied with more serious things, I have not been able to notice his letter until the present, and in doing so, can only refer to it with sincere regret. Mr. Treadwell has left the subject under discussion entirely, and has descended so low into abuse, that his letter can only be replied to by getting down as low as himself.

This I cannot afford to do, as I would injure my reputation, and lose the respect of the people of the community in which we live, while Mr. Treadwell can well afford to do so, as he has none of that to lose.

With regard to the very ungenerous charge, that I was the means of turning an old friend and relative of his upon his own resources, (conceded in the most uncharitable language), I will leave my friends to judge of its truthfulness after reading the letter of Mr. W. T. Whitehead below.

Thanking you for this opportunity, of an explanation of some of Mr. Treadwell's charges, and assuring him that only for the sake of the peace of the country, and with him, and the degradation of getting into that kind of correspondence, I would open up Mr. Treadwell's past career, in a manner that would even surprise himself, and I would not deal with any thing that I would guess at either.

I am
Yours, etc.,
A. R. MILES.

HERALD ADVERTISERS.

A Glance at Some of the Big Stocks Carried by Our Leading Merchants.

JAS. S. NEILL, HARDWARE.

No description of Fredericton's mercantile institutions would be anything like complete, without a passing reference to the old and well known hardware establishment of Jas. S. Neill, who carries one of the heaviest stocks of heavy and light hardware, cutlery, stoves, ranges, etc., to be found in New Brunswick, outside of St. John. His stock of stoves, and ranges is something enormous, and some splendid designs are shown. Mr. Neill's business requires the constant use of two large stores, which adjoin each other. The upper one is completely filled with stoves, hollow ware, ranges, tinware, etc., while the lower store is devoted exclusively to the general hardware trade.

It would be a difficult task in a city twice the size of Fredericton, to find a store which carries such a complete line of cutlery than is shown by Mr. Neill. It is all imported direct from the leading manufacturers of the old world, as in fact are nearly all the other lines of general hardware carried by him. Carpenters, builders, joiners, lumbermen, painters, blacksmiths, etc., can not do better than call and inspect the immense stock of edged tools, oils, paints, building materials like glass, putty, bar iron, etc., carried by this establishment.

Mr. Neill's long experience in the hardware trade has made him thoroughly familiar with every detail in these lines, and he knows exactly what to carry in stock, in order to meet every want of the public in this line.

This establishment is head-quarters for hunters, trappers, and fishermen's supplies, and their stock of guns, ammunition, steel traps, fishing tackle, etc., cannot be equalled in the city. Mr. Neill is the sole agent here for the celebrated Martin repeating rifle, manufactured by the Martini Arms Co., of New Haven, and admitted to be among the best made.

Mr. Neill in addition to his large retail business, also carries on an extensive wholesale trade along the river, and in the north shore counties. His establishment is well and favorably known throughout New Brunswick, and customers are bound to receive satisfaction by placing their orders with him.

Had Admitted That Doctrine,

when, in 1883, they had promised tariff reform. They had appealed for support, on the ground that they had reduced sugar duties.

A cry had now gone forth that there must be a reform of the tariff—(cheers)—and everybody recognized the fact that a tariff was a tax, and the less the tariff, the less the tax.

The hon. gentleman then ridiculed the Government's pretence of making reforms in the tariff, and the "clerk errors," which had prevented the coming into effect of these reforms. A change was needed, he continued, and the necessity for the change was felt most in the large centres. Still the demand for change was general. He concluded by asking them to stand by the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, and Montreal would find the maritime provinces by their side working shoulder to shoulder.

THE LADIES ORGANIZE,

And Are Practically Advised By Secretary Payson.

The ladies' committee of the Y. M. C. A. met with Miss Helen Wark Friday afternoon. Mrs. J. G. McNally was elected chairman of the committee, and Miss Wark its secretary.

Mr. Payson, the general secretary was present, and suggested a few of the ways in which the ladies can help along the Y. M. C. A. Among the methods suggested was by praying for the association, both in private and in public; by commending the Y. M. C. A. to their friends and acquaintances; by reading Association literature, as well as Y. M. C. A. notes in the local papers, and calling the attention of their friends to the same; by frequently visiting the Association rooms, and assisting to make them attractive to young men; by inviting strangers to visit the rooms, and informing the general secretary of their presence in the city.

The ladies can also often lend very valuable assistance to the finance committee of the Y. M. C. A., and the most frequent work of the women is to assist in entertainments and receptions.

The thought was suggested at the meeting, that a very appropriate Christmas present for a young man would be a full membership ticket in the Young Men's Christian Association. While the first cost of such a ticket is only 82, yet it represents value far exceeding that sum; and the privileges which it brings will increase as the work and advantages of the association are broadened; and it is good in any Y. M. C. A. in America.

Acting upon the suggestion, all of the ladies took home application blanks. Either Mr. W. G. Clark, R. Blackmer, Isaac Burpee, the general secretary, or Dr. Barbour will be pleased to confer with any other lady who thinks of re-remembering a young man in the way suggested.

Dec. 11th.—A very interesting event took place last Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. Leonard Meserian, when his daughter Jennie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Harry Bartlett of Bay Side, Charlotte Co. The happy couple followed by the wishes of their many friends departed for their home at Bay Side on Tuesday.

Church of England service was held in the hall here Thursday last, being conducted by the Rev. H. Dibble.
