A New Periodical.

Its number for March last, The Messenger, that excellent monthly magazine conducted by the Jesuit Fathers, and issued from the Fordham University Press New York, published its valedictory, and its editors announced that arrangements had been completed for replacing the Magazine by a new weekly periodical. The successor of the Messenger made its first appearance on April 17th.—It is called America, and its object scope and character are defined in the following editorial announcement: "America will take the place of the monthly periodical, The Messenger, and continue its mission. It is in reality an adaptation of its predecessor to meet the needs of the time. Among these needs are a review and conscientious criticism of the life and literature of the day, a discussion of actual questions and a study of vital problems from the Christian standpoint, a record of religious progress, a defense of sound doctrine, an authoritative statement of the position of the Church in the thought and activity of modern life, a removal of traditional prejudice, a refutation of erroneous news, and a correction of misstatements about beliefs and practices which millions hold dearer than life. These needs, moreover, are too numerous, too frequent and too urgent to be satisfied by a monthly periodical, no matter how vigilant or comprehensive it may be. The march of events is too rapid, and every week has its paramount interests which are lost or forgotten, unless dealt with as soon as they arise.

"In the opinion of many, a daily organ would be required to treat these interests adequately. Until such time as a daily may be possible, if really desirable, the weekly review we propose to publish is an imperative need. The newspapers which appear every week under Catholic auspices in the United States, Canada and Mexico do not attempt to chronicle events of secular interest or to discuss questions of the day in the light of Christian principles. They are for the most part diocesan or local journals, many of them excellent in their way, but limited in the range of subjects, and circumscribed in territory. There are hundreds of these local Catholic weekly newspapers, but not one general Catholic weekly review; or, to express it in terms which will appeal to many of our readers, we have no organ in America similar to The Tablet in England, and such an organ is quite as much needed here as it is indispensable there. Even the most unfriendly critic of this leading English Catholic weekly will admit that it is the Church in the British Isles owes much of its standing and influence. A periodical of equal merit in America will be of incalculable benefit to religion.

"There is still more need of a first-class Catholic weekly periodical in this Western Hemisphere, and a wider field of utility for the same than in England, because with us, non-Catholics as a rule are not only more ready to bear our views, but they are also more eager to have us exert our proper influence in the national and social life. When counselling Father Coleridge, at the time he was planning The Month, Cardinal Newman advocated a periodical which would induce Catholics to take an intelligent interest in public affairs and not give as a class apart from their fellows of other beliefs. His counsel applies to Catholics in America even more than it applied in England in his day. We are of a people who respect belief but who value action more. We are going through a period when the most salutary influences of religion are needed to safeguard the very life and liberty and equal rights of the individual, to maintain the home, to foster honesty and sobriety, and to inculcate reverence for authority, and for the most sacred institutions, civil as well as ecclesiastical. We are more responsible than our non-Catholic fellow citizens for the welfare of thousands of immigrants of our own religion who come to us weekly, and for their amalgamation into the national life. We are responsible also for much of the ignorance of religious truth and for the prejudices which still prevail to a great extent, because, satisfied as we are of the security of our own position, we do not take the pains to explain it to others or to dispel their erroneous views.

"The object, therefore, of this Review is to meet the needs here described and to supply in one central publication a record of Catholic achievement and a defense of Catholic doctrine, built up by skillful hands in every region of the globe. It will discuss questions of the day affecting religion, morality, science and literature; give information and suggest principles that may help to the solution of the vital problems constantly thrust upon our people. These discussions will not be speculative nor academic, but practical and actual, with the invariable purpose of meeting some social work or movement, of developing sound sentiment, and of exercising proper influence on public opinion. The Review will not only chronicle events of the day and the progress of the Church; it will also stimulate effort and originate movements for the betterment of the masses.

"The name America embraces both North and South America, in fact, all this Western Hemisphere; the Review will, however, present to its readers all that interests Catholics in any part of the world, especially in Europe. It will preserve and expand the popular features of The Messenger, namely, the editorial, chronicle, readers' or book reviews, notes on science, literature, education and sociology. Special short articles or leaders on current topics of interest, biographical sketches of prominent persons, commentaries on passing events, and correspondence from international centres, will be among the additional features which the editors hope to make equally popular with the readers of the new Review. Owing to the wide scope of its contents, and its strict avoidance of party-spirit and of all unnecessary controversy, it is hoped that the Review will prove attractive, not only to Catholics, but to the large number of non-Catholics who desire information about Catholic affairs.

"True to its name and to its character as a Catholic review, America will be cosmopolitan not only in contents but also in spirit. It will aim at becoming a representative exponent of Catholic thought and activity without bias or plea for special persons or parties. Promptness in meeting difficulties will be one of its chief merits, actuality will be another. Its news and correspondence will be fresh, full and accurate. Courtesy will preside over its relations with the press and other exponents of public sentiment. Far from interfering with any of the excellent Catholic newspapers already in existence, America will strive to broaden the scope of Catholic journalism and enable it to exert a wholesome influence on public opinion, and thus become a bond of union among Catholics and a factor in civic and social life.

"The task of editing this Review has been undertaken at the earnest solicitation of members of the Hierarchy and of prominent priests and laymen. Indeed, not a few non-Catholics have frequently expressed a desire to have such an organ of Catholic thought and influence, and surprise that nothing of the kind has hitherto existed. The Archbishop of New York, in whose jurisdiction the Review will be published, has cordially approved the project. It goes without saying that loyalty to the Holy See, and profound respect for the wishes and views of the Catholic Hierarchy, will be the animating principle of this Review. The board of editors consists of men representing various sections of North America. They will be assisted by eminent collaborators and contributors drawn from all ranks of the clergy and from the laity in every part of the world, some of whose names we publish in this number.

"Bareness of information established in the leading cities of Europe, Mexico, Central and South America will supply prompt and correct information concerning Catholic interests. Telegraph and cable will be used when needed, and neither labor nor expense will be spared to make America worthy of its name."

Poster on the Budget.

Following is the Hansard report of a part of Hon. Geo. E. Foster's speech on the budget:

Then, Sir, every individual taxpayer in this country has other business to do, other taxes to pay, and other burdens to shoulder. In the first place he has to keep himself and his family, to run his business, to borrow what is necessary for it, to pay interest and pay the principal as well. That is his big second burden. Then he has to pay the Provincial current taxes. That is his third burden. Then he has to pay a tax to every corporation which makes the means of living and the facilities of life better for him, he gets a higher scale of living but he pays for it in one way or another. In addition to that he has to pay the loan burden of municipalities and provincial governments, and to a certain extent of corporations. Then the Minister of Finance says: Canada is good for it; comes upon the poor tax payer who has all these burdens and loads him up from $8.48 per head to $11 per head in his short regime. Let us get rid of the idea that the country is good for it, an indefinite something which owes nothing, which pays nothing, but let us remember that every bit of this burden falls ultimately upon the individual taxpayer and the individual tax payer in this country today is drained heavily, in many cases he is drained to the point of weakness. One thing has helped us and saved us to a large extent and will help and save us in the future, the development and production of our arable lands. The Finance Minister spoke this afternoon of 70,000 immigrants from the United States going up into our new lands. These men, with those who come from other countries, are the people who with dollar wheat—o my mind never to return to the old rate—raising their own harvest in the great west and putting it into and vivifying every artery of industry and of commerce in this country are its greatest hope—and these men are coming to Canada owing to the policy pursued by the Liberal-Conservative Government long before this Government came into power, blasing the path, opening the country, and affording means of transportation for our Northwest, that great vast west of free or fairly cheap lands, that is the salvation of our country.

A HEAVY TAX.

As I said the taxation of this country taking it all through, is for a new and a poor country tremendously heavy and this government ought not to press beyond a reasonable point and add to that already heavy burden. We seldom think of the amount of borrowing that is going on in Canada, of the enormous amount of money that is coming into the country. Sometimes we look at that side of the movement only and forget that every dollar that comes into this country, with its yearly accretion has ultimately to go out of this country. The moment that a million pounds finds its way into Canada and is invested in any way, that moment begins the return stream, of interest first and finally of principal. I have urged on the Prime Minister such a re-organization of our statistical system as would enable us to obtain from the official publications, statistical information of a practical kind which would be of value to us in our discussions of subjects of this kind, yet to obtain the figures which I am about to give to the House I have had to avail myself of a very excellent little production published by Mr. E. R. Wood of the Dominion Securities Company in Toronto. I find from this that in the years, in Canada, 1905-6-7 and 8 the total of bonds issued by governments, municipalities and corporations was as follows:

Issued by	Amount.
Governments	$107,500,000
Municipalities	93,500,000
Corporations	301,700,000
Total	$501,700,000

There were bonds issued for use in Canada. Of these bonds $196,400,000 were issued in 1903. This is a vast sum but it is but a small portion of the money which has been brought into this country, of Dominion government bonds, provincial government bonds and railway bonds, there were running on December 31, 1908, about $802,000,000. All this goes to show the immense amount of money that is coming into this country, and it teaches us as well that beginning immediately and continuing, there is to be an immense amount of money that goes out of this country. The issues of Dominion Government bonds unfortunately, are not for what we might call productive investments. They go to build public buildings, wharves, Newmarket canals, St. Joseph Wharves, they go to build Quebec bridges which fall down into the water. But allowing that while these expenditures are not productive they are of use in the development of the country. The main point which I wish to drive home is that we must not justify taxation on the ground that the country is good for it, we must remember that it is the country's burden. Our country has within its reach resources and such powers that livelihood for the public who inhabit it is made easy, and poverty cannot be imminent or widespread. But at the same time we must not overburden the individual.

My right hon friend is proud of his Minister of Finance; he said so in Halifax. He is also proud of his Minister of Public Works; he told us the other night he is now P.P., prouder of Fugly than ever. I suppose that now after my exposition he will be still prouder of his Finance Minister. Far be it from me to pluck a single feather from the cap of the Minister of Finance, but at the same time there are considerations that we might indulge in in a quiet way in order to prevent the

LIVER COMPLAINT

The chief office of the liver is the secretion of bile, which is the natural regulator of the bowels.

Whenever the liver becomes deranged, and the bile ducts clogged, liver complaint is produced, and is manifested by the presence of constipation, pain under the right shoulder, slow complexion, yellow eyes, ailing tongue and headache, heartburn, jaundice, sour stomach, water brash, carabur of the stomach, etc.

Liver Complaints may be cured by Laxa-Liver Pills, which remove the cause, keeping the bowels free, and arousing the sluggish liver with that grand liver regulator,

LIVER COMPLAINT.
Mr. Geo. Fawcett, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "Having suffered with liver complaint for years and tried all sorts of remedies, I was advised to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I must say, that after taking two boxes of them, I feel quite a new man, and can strongly recommend them to anyone, keeping the bowels free, and arousing the sluggish liver with that grand liver regulator, Laxa-Liver Pills."

Patsy—"Conductor! Please turn this seat over."
Con—What for?
Patsy—"Didn't you see th' car was goin' east?"
Con—Yes.
Patsy—"Well, I want to go to th' west side."

In the discussion on the Ontario and Michigan Power bill, Sir Wilfrid Laurier took a stand not only for Provincial rights, but for public control of water powers.

A Sensible Merchant.

Mrs. Fred. Laine, St. George, Ont., writes:—"My little girl would cough so at night that neither she nor I could get any rest. I gave her Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and am thankful to say it cured her cough."

If hospital nurses could only steel their hearts against the amorous attacks of young hospital doctors, there would be fewer wrecked lives in the nursing profession.

Minard's Liniment cures Neuralgia.

Some time ago the Kingston Whig daily urged the government to prosecute marine department officials reported by Judge Cassels. Lately the Kingston paper has been silent on the subject. What's the reason?

Beware Of Worms.

Don't let worms gnaw at the vitals of your children. Give them Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup and they'll soon be rid of these parasites. Price 50c.

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders give women prompt relief from monthly pains and leave no bad after effects whatever. Be sure you get Milburn's. Price 20 and 25 cents.

A Toronto colonel is agitating for compulsory military training. He labors in vain, this is a British, not a German, country.

There is nothing harsh about Laxa-Liver Pills. They cure Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sick's Headache, and Bilious Spells without griping, purging or sickness. Price 25c.

Hon. Mr. Fugly has decided to do nothing unless circumstances force him to in respect of that royal commission report. Is anyone surprised?

COULD NOT GO TO WORK BACK WAS SO WEAK.

Backache is the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are liable to become affected.

Heed the warning; check the backache and dispose of any chances of further trouble.

If you don't, serious complications are very apt to arise and the first thing you know you will have Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of Kidney Trouble.

Mr. James Bryant, Arichat, N.S., was troubled with his back and used Doan's Kidney Pills, he writes:—"I cannot say too much about the benefit I received after using three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. I was greatly troubled with an aching pain across the small of my back. I could not go to work and my back was so weak I would have to sit down. It would go away for a few days but would always return. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I must say they completely cured me."
