Prescription "A"

Cures Indigestion and Dyspepsia in all Its Forms.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing.
I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

DR. F. STAFFORD & SONS,

The Evening Chit-Chat

By MRS. CAMERON

We often think we would not like to have other people to be able to read our minds.
And yet how many times, if folks only could see each other's minds instead of their deeds, their motives instead of their acts, as a rule, we should be much more sympathetic to each other.
Practically, none of the trouble had a suspicion of unkind motive behind it.
And the conclusion of their talk was this resolution—"We are going to try to look at motives as well as deeds. We are going to try to get the point of view behind words as well as the words themselves. We promise each other to make a solemn effort to do this, before we accuse or blame
each other."

It is to this resolution that the man-who-thinks gives much of the credit for their happy union.

"Even in love," says Stevenson, "there are unlovely humors, ambiguous acts, unpardonable words, may yet have sprung from a kind sentiment. If the injured one could read your heart you may be sure that he would understand and pardon; but alas! the heart cannot be shown—it has to be demonstrated in words. Do you think it is a hard thing to write poetry? Why this is to write poetry of a high, if not the highest order."

It is to be sure, a more difficult thing than most of us realize, to make our words and deeds truly portray our hearts. We don't appreciate this, because we fancy that any misunderstanding which arises is due to the other party's stupidity or perversity.
Instead of to our own feebleness at translating ourselves.

But if only those who live in any close intimacy would promise each other to try to understand, would make some resolutions like that of the man-who-thinks, don't you believe it would be easier?

I do.
Of course, we shouldn't always remember the resolution, and even when we did remember and did try to carry it out, we shouldn't always be able to understand, and even when we did understand, we should sometimes find thoughts and motives that weren't kind or unselfish. But even so, I'm sure such an effort would help a little—would diminish somewhat the painful sum of misunderstandings that embitter and hearts that break.

Aren't you?

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indecent. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found relief for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V.
Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, cures piles and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong,
Sick Women Well.

You can't afford to accept a secret for this non-alcoholic medicine of K.

Household Notes.

If there is a cold chicken left from the roast cut it into dice, mix with a cream dressing, put in the baking dish sprinkle the top with cheese and stuffed olives and bake in a quick oven until brown.

To remove warts without leaving a scar, drop oil of cinnamon carefully on the place two or three times a day.
This will occasion no soreness and the warts will disappear in the course of four or five weeks.

When cutting garments by paper patterns, much time can be saved in marking perforations for tucks, etc., by putting carbon paper under the top piece of goods and marking two pieces at the same time.

When woolen materials become greasy, rub in some powdered French chalk as tailors use. Allow it to remain there some hours. Then shake it out and the grease will be found to have disappeared.

The best way to clean patent leather shoes is, after removing all the dirt, to wipe them over with a soft cloth dipped in milk. Polish with a dry cloth, and you will have a bright polish, besides preserving the leather.

Extra crab meat for which there are no shells is delicious dressing with Hollandaise sauce, and served on round croutons. Shreds of red peppers sprinkled on top just as the crab is served makes it more artistic.

To use liquid bluing without removing the cork, bore a hole in the centre and insert a quill, having it extend below and above the cork. In this manner it is easy to use the exac-amount and less danger of waste.

To clean ribbon sponge with alcohol and rub over the spot with some clean white soap. During the process the ribbon must be kept straight. When clean rinse in alcohol and place between two towels. Press out with a hot iron.

To make mock whipped cream use one cup of milk sweetened, scant teaspoonful flour, stir in milk and cook

A Faultless Food Product.

EPPS'S COCOA

The unsurpassed food value of this delicious and fragrant cocoa is due to the retention of the nutritious cocoa butter. There is strength and energy in every cup of Epps's Cocoa. It is a most refreshing and stimulating BREAKFAST BEVERAGE, whether for old or young.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

until like cream. Have whites of two eggs, beaten stiff, pour boiling cream over them and beat for a minute or two.

Jewelry can be successfully cleaned by washing it in hot soap suds in which a little ammonia has been dissolved. Shake off the water and lay the jewelry in a small box of fine sawdust to dry. This method leaves no scratches or marks of any kind.

Canned peaches left from one day's dessert are delicious put in individual deep pie molds and baked with strips of rich pie dough across the top. Put a lump of butter in the bottom of the dish and sprinkle sugar and cinnamon on top of the peaches.

To stone raisins free the raisins from the stems and put them in a bowl. Cover them with boiling water and let them stand for two minutes.
Pour off the water, open the raisins and the seed can be removed quickly and easily without the usual stickiness.

A very handy stocking supporter is made by cutting a piece of wide elastic in three-inch pieces. Sew a fastener on each end of each piece of the elastic. Fasten one end to the underwear and the other to the stocking.
One or two may be used on each stocking.

A fruit pie is very good, made with a little water and the edges not stuck together. Then, when it is baked the top crust may be lifted off and a syrup of water, sugar, spice and butter poured in. In this way the juice does not boil out in the baking and leave the pie dry.

To wash brushes and combs, put a cupful of ammonia in a basin of hot water and dip the brush up and down in it, letting the comb remain in the water for a few minutes. In this way all the grease will disappear, and after rinsing in cold water, both brushes and combs will be perfectly clean.

In many cases after a grease spot has been removed there will be left a faint mark of the spot, which may be noticed after a time, by the dust which adheres to this spot. Make a saturated solution of alum and water.
Teat this slowly on the stove and when very hot apply to the grease as before. The effect will be all that is desired.

Romance of a Diamond.

One of the finest diamonds in the world is the Florentine Diamond, held by the Imperial Treasury of Austria.
This diamond is principally interesting however, on account of its curious history. It may be said to have had an adventurous career. Originally it belonged to Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, who carelessly thrust it into his pocket as one day he sallied forth to battle. In the fury of the engagement the diamond dropped out of the Duke's pocket, and was lost.
Later, a Swiss soldier espied it lying in a roadway. Having no idea of its enormous value, he one day showed it to a priest, who offered him about two shillings, which the soldier gladly accepted. The priest sold it to a jeweller for half-a-crown, the jeweller to a merchant for something like $2,500, and the merchant sold it to an Italian noble for $1,000 more.
Eventually it became the property of the Pope, and, after many further adventures, passed into the hands of the Imperial Family of Austria.
