Cheering News.

Yesterday we pointed out that we had good reason to feel satisfied with the stand made by the allies against the smashing blows delivered by the gigantic German army. We pointed out that the admitted tactics of the German General Staff were to strike a crippling blow at France, before the Russians could mobilize in any great force in the East, and then having smashed France, to turn their armies round, transport them across Germany and smash the partly mobilized Russian army. Forty days have elapsed since the war began and these tactics have failed. Not only have they failed, but according to the news which is now coming in, the pressure is now being put on the Germans. The Russians have crushed the Austrians in Galicia, and another Austrian army is reported to be in a perilous condition. If the Russians succeed in their operations against the second Austrian army, the Russians may attempt to outflank the German armies in German Poland, with a view to forcing their way to Berlin. Not only is the pressure of the Russians being felt by the Germans in the East, but the cheering news of the past 24 hours is that the allies in France are pushing back the Germans all along the line in the North and East of France, and that they are threatening them in the rear from the neighborhood of Boulogne, Dover and Ostend. It is a long lane that has no turning, and it looks now as if the turning point has come. Our allies are feeling their strength and finding that they can push the Germans hard in both the Eastern and Western theatres of war.

Wholesale Robbery.

A young woman, named Hannah Alward, aged 21 years, belonging to an orphanage, is now in the clutches of the law and will be detained to stand her trial charged with committing a series of thefts. Accused had been engaged by the German war effort, and discovered that he was minus a valuable gold watch and an expensive photo album. Mr. Rennie then lodged a complaint with the police and Constable Tobin was not long in rounding up the accused, although the latter in an attempt to evade capture went in a remote section of the city in service. Since her arrest it has been brought to light that a considerable quantity of other articles than those already mentioned, were removed from Mr. Rennie's residence.

Canadian Absconder

WANTED BY AUTHORITIES.

A communication has been received by Inspector General Walsh, from Mr. William Walsh, General Superintendent of the Dominion Express Co., Toronto, Canada, requesting him to have his police officers keep a vigilant look out for John Cliff Miller, who was engaged as cashier in the Dominion Co's office at Ottawa, and who, when he was in company with a young woman after stealing a considerable amount of money. A description of Miller shows that he is 28 years old, height 5 feet 8 inches and has a pale face. He left Ottawa, it is supposed, early Monday morning on August 17th and there has been no sign of him since. Miller's fiancée is 22 years of age. A reward is offered by the Canadian authorities for any information that will lead to the capture of the absconder.

Sulphate of Ammonia.

St. John's Gas Light Company.
Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your works, and I found 20.5 per cent of NITROGEN. Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen manures.
Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season.

Yours truly,

Early Morning Messages.

FRANCIS JOSEPH DYING.
Special to Evening Telegram.

PARIS, Sept. 9.
The 'Excelsior' publishes a report from Petrograd that Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, has had a paralytic stroke, and that his condition is dangerous.

EVERY PENNY WANTED.

LONDON, Sept. 9.
"We want every penny we can raise to help to fight the enemy," said Lloyd George, replying yesterday to a deputation from the municipalities which wanted treasury securing loans at cheap rates. "We must come out triumphant in this struggle," continued the Chancellor, "and as finance is going to play a very important part in it, we must husband our resources. We don't want a penny spent which is not absolutely essential to relieve distress. In my judgment a few hundred millions may win this war."

ALLIED FORCES CONTINUE SATISFACTORY.

The following official message was received this morning:—
The general position of the Allied forces continues satisfactory. The Germans have been driven back in many places. The British forces have been engaged all day and made the enemy retire. The British force have again sustained some casualties, which are small in comparison to the enemy. After two days fighting the result is favorable.

LAYING MINES UNDER FALSE COLORS.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
German fishing boats decked with Belgian colors according to a letter despatched from Ostend, have been seen laying mines near Sandettie lighthouse. In consequence of this the mail boat is unable to leave this morning. The Germans arriving at Ostend to-day report having seen German scouts near Bruges.

TWO DAYS' FIGHTING SATISFACTORY.

LONDON, To-day.
The British Official Press Bureau issued the following announcement last night: The general position continues satisfactory, the allies gaining ground on their left all along the line of the Oure and Petit Morin Rivers. The British have driven enemy back ten miles. Fighting has been progressing further to the right along the line, which includes Montmirail and Sompuia, neither side gaining advantage. Further to the right again, from Vitry le Francois to Sermance le Bains the enemy has been pressed back in the direction of Rheims. At Innerville an attempt by the Germans to advance has been repulsed. The pressure against the enemy continues all along the front. The British force was engaged all day, but the enemy opposite it after a stubborn resistance retired and is now crossing to the North of the Marne. The Fifth French army has advanced with equal success and reports many captured. The Sixth French army on the Oure has been heavily engaged but there also the enemy has been driven back. The German army has suffered severely all along the whole line, the advance having been resolutely pushed home. The British forces have again sustained some casualties, but the number is small in relation to the nature of the fighting. The result of the two days' operations to the present is very satisfactory.

ENEMY DRIVEN BACK ALL ALONG THE LINE.

PARIS, To-day.
The following official communication bearing on the fighting now in progress was made public last night: The left wing of the allied armies comprising certain portions of forces now defending Paris continues to make progress against the enemy. The French advance reaches from the banks of the River Oure into Montmirail region. Montmirail is about 48 miles east of Paris. The enemy is retiring in the direction of the River Marne between Meaux, 20 miles east of Paris and Semance, 42 miles east from Meaux. The French and English armies have taken numerous prisoners, including a battalion of infantry, a company serving a detachment of rapid fire guns. They captured also many gun carriages. There have been violent encounters with the enemy's centre, between Fore, Champagne, 12 miles east of Suzanne, Vitry le Francois, the southern point of the forest of Argonne. At no place have we fallen back. The enemy has been driven back. The reported retiring of the enemy near Vitry le Francois has been confirmed. On our right division the German troops delivered an attack at Ais Chateau, Salines and Nancy, but they were repulsed northward, passing forest of Champenoux. There has been no change in the situation in the Province of Alsace. Our English allies are continuing their offensive in the direction of Marné Heights, north of Soanone. Our troops are progressing favorably. The situation is good before Nancy. In the Vosges a severe engagement has been fought in the centre with the native advancing and falling back of the left wing. The German forces having crossed the Petit Morin River with a view of protecting their communications, have made violent but unsuccessful attack on that part of our forces occupying the right bank of the River Oure.

11.30 A.M.

NATIVE INDIAN TROOPS AT THE FRONT.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
That the Indian forces of the British Army are taking an active part in the operations in France, is indicated by the casualty lists. Among the names of the wounded is that of Captain P. W. Hunt, Nineteenth Lancers (Fans Horse) Indian Army.

GERMAN DEAD PILED HIGH.

LONDON, To-day.
A correspondent to the Daily Telegraph at Ghent says the expected German occupation of Ghent is not to take place. The Bourgeoismaster was summoned at Cordegem last night to confer with the German Commander and the latter intimated that the town was not to be occupied nor any money contribution levied on condition that the inhabitants would furnish requisitions in accordance with the list handed to the Bourgeoismaster. Later it was agreed to, on behalf of the citizens. The correspondent at Paris says an eye-witness told him of having seen in the plains of Northern France piles of German dead as high as a man could reach with uplifted arm, and evidence showing that German losses were enormous. In its frantic march on Paris the German column was not even stopped to bury its dead, they lie there still heaped in French fields.

A PLUCKY DUKE.

LONDON, To-day.
Another incident is reported regarding the Duke of Westminster who was recently mentioned as among those whose travels in the field of action had attracted attention. The Duke, it is said, is serving as aide de camp to Field Marshall French. He encountered a patrol of Uhlans while he was carrying orders by automobile. He put on the utmost speed but numerous shots from the Germans struck the machine and mortally wounded his companion, an officer. The wounded officer half rose attempting to salute the Duke, but the Duke, seeing his companion collapse, rose in the car saluted the dying man and said, "Good-bye, my boy." A steamship brought here by the Glory, the Spanish ship Montserrat, bound from New York for Cadiz had sixty-eight German reservists taken off and now are prisoners of war here. There is no charge against the ship which resumes her voyage to-day.

WASHINGTON, To-day.
American officials were interested in the report that the Spanish steamer Montserrat had been captured by a Canadian port by a British cruiser, but only on account of precedent it was likely to establish in present war. Further to the right again, from Vitry le Francois to Sermance le Bains the enemy has been pressed back in the direction of Rheims. At Innerville an attempt by the Germans to advance has been repulsed. The pressure against the enemy continues all along the front. The British force was engaged all day, but the enemy opposite it after a stubborn resistance retired and is now crossing to the North of the Marne. The Fifth French army has advanced with equal success and reports many captured. The Sixth French army on the Oure has been heavily engaged but there also the enemy has been driven back. The German army has suffered severely all along the whole line, the advance having been resolutely pushed home. The British forces have again sustained some casualties, but the number is small in relation to the nature of the fighting. The result of the two days' operations to the present is very satisfactory.
