THIS ORIGINAL DOCUMENT IS IN YERY POOR CONDITION .

POETRY

The Shipwreck.

but he who was no craversing this soiltary upland reg by seemed familiar with every turning, ar 3w thout pausing to direct his horse, which indeed seemed to know the path by well as himself, he pushed up the van. is ascents, and after half an hour's riding entered between two overhanging crays into a small level enclosure, surrounded by huge frowning precipies on every side.

He crossed an open space towards a black object, which in the darkness seemed but a lower group of rocks, but which was in reality the ruins of an old deserted castle, most part of, which was unrooted, and the greater portion of the walls shattered or fallen into decay. One side of the ament pile, however, seemed to be more entrechan the rest, and the horseman—after dismounting and leaving his horse within what had once been the great feasing hall, where he secured him to an iron ring—proceeded to a low door at this point and gave three low but distinct and peculiar knocks with the nolof his riding witp.

He had not be repeat the summons for in arms.

'light the lamp and give it to me, said Malvrin again, in the quick impatient tone of one who had made up Fis mind to do that which he had not the courage to be able to the courage to be a super over the courag pause over.

Dennis hastened to obey the order, but somehow his hand shook so that he was more than a minute in doing it. [TO BE CONTINUEDE]

Grand Trunk Railway.

Black object, which in the darkness seemed but a lower group of rocks, but which was in reality the ruins off an old described castle, noset part of, which was unrooted, and the greater portion of the distribution of the walls shattered or failen into decay. One side of the ancient pile, however, seemed to be more entrethan the rest, and the horseman—after dismounting and leaving his horse within what had once been the great feasing hall, where he secured him to an iron ring—proceeded to a low door at this polat, and gave three low but distinct and peculiar kneeks with the note of his riding whip.

He had not to repeat the summons for in less than a minate a light shone through a clink, and a bolt having been withdrawn the door was opened, revealing as a link, and a bolt having been withdrawn the door was opened, revealing as little old man with an iron lamp in his hand, the light of which he shaded with his cap to prevent the wind from extinguishing it. This directed the rays more fully upon himself, and showed him to be soon of the Emerald Isle. In addition to these, he had a large round head, and his cap they are all guaranteed by the makers to last a certain number of years, which was long, thin, and of a mixed grey, fell down to his shoulders.

"We understand also that 7,000 tons of the very best mode of manufacture are now being made in England, and will be also that 7,000 tons of the very best mode of manufacture are now being made in England, and will be altitude to their number.—We understand also that 7,000 tons of the very best mode of manufacture are now being made in England, and will be altitude to their number.—We understand also that 7,000 tons of the very best mode of manufacture are now being made in England, which, it is required, and considerable additions are fully upon himself, and showed him to be long part and the fully bear the same and the standard of the very best mode of manufacture are now being made in England, which, it is expected, will be placed upon the line the part of the ver

PICTURES.

W. MARSHALL

A First-class COPYIST.

No. 5, DAY'S BLOCK,

House, Guelph W. MARSHALL

PURE

For family use, perfectly clear and free from smell. Also, BURNING FLUID!

PLAIN & FROSTED CHIMNIES,

det, de, de

Painters OILS

Boiled and Raw Linseed, Olive, Lard, Elephant, Pale Scal, and Pa-tent Machinery OILS.

Copal & Spirit Varnishes.

BENZOLE, Spirits of Turpentine!

Splendid Colours

EVATE. INChis & Co..

Iteam Engines and Boilers,

impolvent Act of 1864

In the Matter of JAS. KIERAN, AN INSOLVENT.

all the delight of her heart, and never sus- Guelph, June 4, 1867.

SPRING & SUMMER IMPORTATIONS!

HEFFERNAN BROTHERS

Staple and Fancy DRY GOODS,

The Best Assortment, and Cheapest in Guelph.

HEFFERNAN BROTHERS, Britannia House, Wyndham Street.

SPRIA PLI

Farmers. Farmers

IMPLEMENTS.

COMBINED

Reapers Mowers

BEST PHOTOGRAPHS, Grass Scythes and Hay Rakes

COAL OIL! HAY FOR

SCYTHE SNAITHS.

AN IMMENSE STOCK

HORSMAN JOHN

DIRECT SPRING IMPORTATIONS.

JAMES CCRMACK,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

Hiller's Tick Be grover FRENCH, ENGLISH SCOTCH & CANADIAN CLOT

READY-MADE CLOTHIN A line set, in a 1.7 alysmade Chabing, mades by ourselves, which is admitted to be sup-connectional is made chewhere to order, and which will be seld cheap for each.

Mellington Foundry Hats. Caps. Shirts, Collars and Mes, in endless varie JAMES CORMACK

IN THE DOMINIC

MILLINERY & STRAW GOOD

INSPECTI