

AN
at Office.
Dominion
Cunard
White Star
etc.
Agent,
TEMPLE
in Canada and Europe?
NOW FOR WARDS; Sec-
d, accord-low to or
(New York
Dominion
Ocean Line
passage
KE, next door
DURS. the beauti-
the many old occupying
CLASS LINE
ERS. About
necessary ex-
to Jama-Cunard and
W. WOOD &
York.
ce we are lunkodestick.
month to d now for Pool, Flor-
id, worlds
Go, with oods, Black er, Black ack and a yard;
range of corsets.
th Black
at 23c
ingham-
ingham-
at $1.45
White
all tings at a dress.
at 28c
a worth
at 10c.
Sheet-
sold in
at 28c
with the dre est.
e.
AMON D
bureau, saurat &
Tele-
ry
rs.
fringe,
and the RETT-
-
NDAS
ophone
ry
rs.
fringe,
and the
RETT-
-
NDAS
ophone

Comrade G. W. Hammond
of Root Post, G. A. R. of Syracuse, N. Y.

Wounded at Gettysburg
C. J. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"I was in the Army of the Potomac in the great battle of Gettysburg in the ranks by a minute ball, which smashed the bone. My leg was amputated in the field hospital, and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and went home. After 8 years My Wound Began Open
atresch. Dr. Pense amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. For years later it once more opened, and for eight years I suffered. I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony during this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my suffering by taking opium, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered excruciating pain, and should have given up. I tried every thing I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my Blood Became Poisoned and it broke out all over my body, and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars now. One day I read of this Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first bottle I got. I sent and bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my skin was improving, and it seemed to be getting better and better. I am now Hood's Sarsaparilla
a few months, thank God (and I say it reverently), the sores all over my body had healed, and now, four years later, have never shown any sign of reappearing." GEORGE M. HAM-MOND, 210 Magnolia Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Col. A. A. Weaver
Commander of Root Post, G. A. R., himself an armed veteran, fully endorses Mr. Hammond's statement, and J. L. Leiden, the pharmacist, also endorses it.
Hood's Pills cure Sick Headache.

DOG VS. WOLF.
Exciting Chase Near a Town in Pennsylvania.

CRICKET.
The Chatham Cricket Club has elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Sheriff Mercer; first vice-president, Mr. A. Heyward; second vice-president, Mr. A. S. Ireland; treasurer, Mr.
Archer Ireland; secretary, Mr. John Rowe (re-elected). The club played twelve first-class matches last season, winning nine and losing three.

ATHLETICS.
C. J. B. Monypenny, the Cambridge University diver who has started the athletic world by equaling the amateur record—14 4/5 seconds—150 yards, is a member of the London Football Club, for whom he plays occasionally at three-quarter back.

ROUSE TALK.
Four stallions, valued at $8,000, belonging to Charles Westrup, of Matteson, Ill., were burned alive Tuesday.

BASEBALL.
The Chicago and the Cleveland baseball teams will play their game week at Hot Springs, Ark., during the week.

DRUGS.
Rev. C. C. Macdonald, St. Clement's parish, Aberdeen, in opening the annual match between the two parishes, said there was no "catholic" game than drugs. The very name—the "dambroil" —implied that. It came from the French, and meant the ladies' braid. Those who took kindliest to the game, the gentlest spirits—men of civility and temperance and repose of disposition.

CURLING.
A friendly curling match between Sarina and St. Mary's clubs was played at St.
Mary's, resulting in a victory for St. Mary's by 14 shots. Score: Sarina, 48; St.
Mary's, 62.

Thursday's match played between Brantford club and the Victoria at the Victoria rink, Hamilton, resulted in a victory for the latter club by 33 shots. Score: Brantford, 38; Victoria, 71.

In Scotland about 300 corders were present on the ice at Lochwinnoch recently, when an attempt was made to play the annual bonspiel of the 12th Province.
The ice was fairly good when play was started in the morning, but soon afterwards a thaw set in, and at the ice became covered with water and threatened to give way. It was resolved to abandon the game.
This is the third successive year that has been made to bring of a bonspiel at Lochwinnoch this season, the North vs.
South match and the Southwest of Scotland bonspiel having both had to be abandoned.

THE KENNEL.
The crowd ruined the wolf chase at Greensburg, Pa. In 21 seconds after the wolf was released, the big Barzoi, had run 200 yards and seized the animal.
His mate, Prokiza, joined, and they were tearing the coyote to pieces when 500 persons closed in. Their yelling frightened the dogs, which let go. The coyote recovered and ran across the Greensburg pike into another field. Here Omada, another Barzoi, attacked the wolf, and was doing great execution when J. L. Currier, of the Philadelphia Humane Society, interfered, and kept the dogs away. The coyote was gaspings its last when Currier shot it. He narrowly escaped being mobbed. The chase proved that the Barzoi are game, speedy and terrific punishers.

The election of officers of the Toronto Kennel Club resulted as follows: Patron, J. S. Williams; president, G. B. Sweetman; first vice-president, R. P. Forshaw; second vice-president, F. H. Elmore; secretary, H. P. Thompson; treasurer, H. J. Hill.
The club will probably hold an open show in May.

SKATING.
SEAFORTH, March 18.—A great skating race took place on the curling rink to-night between Baldwin, Dorsey, Abell and Creswell, Baldwin to gain two laps in three miles against the three others, skating consecutively, which he succeeded in doing.
Time, 12 minutes.

THE LONDON GUN CLUB.
The matches at the London Gun Club's weekly shoot yesterday were keenly contested. A large number of spectators were present, among them being Vice-President C. S. Hyman, M.P.

The first event was a handicap live pigeon shoot. A shooting at 28 yards, B at 25, and C at 21. Following is the score:
Edwards (B).....111011110-8
Battman (B).....110111111-8
Charles (B).....110111111-7
Swift (B).....110111111-6
Avey (B).....110011111-6
Stanley (B).....110011111-6
Evans (B).....110111110-5
Brewer (B).....110111100-5

The second was the regular weekly handicap shoot, A at 24 yards, B at 27 and C at 24. The prize was a pound of Cariboo powder donated by the London Gun Club. The score:
Stanley (B).....111011110-21
Quack (B).....111011110-21 111111001110111011-20
Greener (B).....111011111-19 11111101000011110001-17 Redpath (B).....110111111-15
Battman (B).....110111111-15
11111111111011110-15
Swift (B).....110111110-13
11111101111101100000-13
Brewer (B).....110111110-13
110111010010010101000-10
Edwards (B).....110111110-10
11011101111100000000-10 South (B).....110111111-13 11011101111101100000-13
Evans (B).....110111111-13
11011111111101110000-13
Cole, Niagara Falls (B).....110111111-13 11011111111101110000-13
Charles (B).....110111111-13
11011111111101110000-13
Avey (B).....110111111-13
11011111111101110000-13

The last was a match between Charles and Evans and Redpath and Greener at five live pigeons each for the price of the birds.
The score:
Greener.....1101111-7
Redpath.....1101111-7
Evans.....1101111-7
Charles.....1101111-7

The tie was shot off by Redpath and Charles at three birds each, the former winning by 3 to 1.

The club's prospects are bright. Many new members have joined and the shooting this summer promises to be interesting.
Secretary Fred T. Trebilcock has some new traps in his head and electric pulls, new traps and all the latest improvements may be looked for on the grounds shortly. A driving shed will also likely be built. The grounds will then be the prettiest and most complete in Canada. Any person wishing to join the club can obtain certificates at the office of the secretary.

THE BEST SINGERS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS.
How They Care For the Voice.
One best public singer and orator, like great orators of the voice. Many of them understand thoroughly the anatomy of the throat and bronchial tubes, and know exactly what to do when emergencies arise.
They dread colds—that is, sore throats, hoarseness, coughing, inflammation of the bronchial tubes, and enlargement of the tonsils. Anyone of these serious ailments may occasion considerable pecuniary loss and public disappointment.
Our most noted singers and orators are always provided with the best means for the instant removal of such troubles. They have made the Harvard Bronchial Syrup their friend and protector, and always place the utmost confidence in its prompt action.

No discovery in medicine has ever given the satisfaction that Harvard Bronchial Syrup invariably gives. There is no such thing as a cold with it. It stops the troublesome cough, heals the irritated throat, clears the voice, and gives it an elasticity and strength that is truly wonderful. It is pleasant to the taste, and put up in such convenient form that it can be carried in the pocket.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup is to-day without a rival, and has received more testimonials from distinguished people, than any other remedy ever given to the public.

FAITH IN THEIR SKILL.
First three months free of charge. The best of eminent physicians and surgeons are now in London, and permanently located at their residence, No. 456 Talbot street.
All invalids who visit these eminent doctors before April 1st will receive free of charge the first three months free of charge. The only favor desired is a recommendation from those whom they cure. The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and suffering.

The doctors treat every variety of disease and deformity and will perform all surgical operations free this month, viz: The removal of cancers, tumors, catarrh, protrip, all diseases of the eye, ear, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, and all female difficulties arising from whatever cause, all nervous prostrations, falling vitality, and diseases originating from impure blood, treated with the greatest success.

Catarrh in all its various forms cured by their new method, which consists in breaking up the cold-catching tendency, to which every person suffering from catarrh is susceptible.

Invalids will please not take offense if they are rejected as incurable. The physicians will examine you thoroughly, free of charge, and if incurable, they will positively tell you so. Also caution you against spending more money for useless medicine.

Hours from 9 a.m. to 5, and from 7 to 8 p.m. Sundays, from 2 to 4 p.m.

"The Toronto Globe" says that the people of Toronto feel a personal pride in Miss Alexander's brilliant accomplishments. They gave her a splendid reception, a crowded hall, with hundreds turned away before the time for opening.

Society of Christian Endeavor.
Arrangements are being made by the Ontario executive to make the visit of Canadian Endeavorers to New York on July 8 to 12, 1892, a cheap, and at the same time a most enjoyable trip. Rev. Dr.
Dickson, of Galt, president of the society, and Aid. Thos. Morris, of Hamilton, vice-president, purpose visiting New York with the view of making the best possible arrangements for the comfort and convenience of the delegates. The executive of Ontario is exceedingly desirous of having a large delegation there. Particulars will be given before long.

HARRY LENOX MERCHAND TAILOR,
Corner Richmond and Carling Streets, has received four cases of

New Spring Goods, which will be sold at lowest prices.
Call and see them.

LONDON ABROAD.

(Clifton New Era.)

The action of Judge Elliot in connection with the London election case is being strongly condemned by the Independent papers, even those that have Conservative leanings being the most pronounced.

(Hiltsburg Liberal.)

The names of John Carling, of London, and George Baird, of New Brunswick, should be carved upon the portals of the Commons in very large letters—as representing two of the worst cases of robbery Canada ever knew, outside of the thieving from the treasury.

(Toronto Week, Independent Conservative.)

By Judge Elliot's decision in the case just referred to, from which there is no appeal, it appears that these notices, in order to be valid, must specify a definite individual case the exact ground on which the qualification of the person is challenged.

What an expenditure of time and money is involved in all this, and what a temptation to partisans to devise better calculated to give the advantage to the party which has the appointment of the officials and the most money to spend in ferreting out the names of those who qualify without objection, and without their removal from the roll! We say nothing of the fact that the lists are finally revised are printed in an office which is under Government control and managed, it may safely be assumed, by a party hostile to the partisans. It is not necessary to assume the truth of the frequent charges made by the Opposition, of errors in the printing by means of which have been found good disappearances from the list, and the names reappear on them as they emerge from the offices after the final revision, but surely scrupulous Government should avoid the methods which provoke suspicions.

(Lind say Post.)

The most recent and probable the most disgraceful illustration of gross unfairness of the working of the Franchise Act machinery is furnished by the counting in of Mr. Carling in London.

(Dundas Banner.)

Judge Elliot may feel secure in his seat on the bench because he has been elected by his decision: Mr. Carling may want his jackdaw honors in the House and look benevolent and at ease; but what will be in the mind of every honest man when he sees the face of either the one or the other?

What will be the upmost thought in the minds of these two men themselves every time they look into each other's eyes? The one, the partisan judge, who played the game of scheming and treachery, and the other, the honest man, who was forced to accept a seat being stolen from them after they have won it at the polls; they have a right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing before their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philosophically. They have calmly submitted to the judgment of the people. They have harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been rejected. But they have a right to protest against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals have been beaten
fairly they have taken their defeat philo-
sophically. They have calmly submitted
to the judgment of the people. They have
harbored no malice against their political
opponents, nor cried out against the people
by whose votes their candidates have been
rejected. But they have a right to protest
against a seat being stolen from them after
they have won it at the polls; they have a
right to protest against a partisan judge
using his high office to cheat them out of
their victory; and they have a right to
protest against a judge who has suppressed
this flagrant act of injustice flashing be-
fore their minds.

Where the Liberals