THANKED

BY INDIA'S VICEROY.

Americans Commended for Aiding Famine Fund.

Tragic Fate of a Budapest Family—Canadians Gazetted as Lieutenants in Line Battalions—The French Shore Dispute.

London, Jan. 5.—The following letter has been sent to Washington by the viceroy of India:

Viceroy's Camp, Nov. 23, 1900.—Dear Sir:—The viceroy has the greatest pleasure in adding his testimony to the immense value of the American contributions to the relief of the recent Indian famine. These contributions have sprung from the two noblest of human sentiments, viz., the feeling for suffering brotherhood, and the recognition of a common aim between the two great branches of the English-speaking race, and they have exercised a positive and material influence in the mitigation of the greatest calamity with which India has been afflicted for many years. I am, dear sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) Walter Lawrence, private secretary to the viceroy.

William T. Fee, United States consul.

FRENCH SHORE TROUBLE.

The report is revived that M. Delcasse, the French secretary of foreign affairs, and the Marquis of Lansdowne, the British foreign secretary, have arrived at a friendly solution of Newfoundland French shore question. The "French shore" is the west coast of Newfoundland, to which hundreds of fishermen go from St. Pierre and Miquelon Islands every year to catch cod and lobsters. Treaties of the last century, under which the French claim exclusive fishing and shore privileges on the coast, have been in dispute for several years, and before the outbreak of the Boer war it was predicted that there would be a clash between England and France because of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's determination to oust the French in favor of British fishing stations and lobster canneries on the coast.

CANADIANS GAZETTED.

The seven nominees of Earl of Minto, governor-general of Canada, have been gazetted second lieutenants in line battalions. The admiralty officials say it is not true that a mutiny has occurred on board the British battleship Barfleur, as reported from Hong Kong. They say a minor disturbance took place on board the Barfleur, involving a few men. They were repudiated by the rest. Three men are held under arrest.

CHILDREN'S ALBUM.

London, Jan. 5.—The children's album has arrived at the colonial office, and goes straight to Osborne Castle, the Queen, having a collection of photographs that should be unopened here. It is probable that it will afterwards be placed at some central place in London for public inspection. It is understood that her majesty is most interested in so unique an exhibition of Canadian loyalty. The Daily Standard and Daily Telegraph, devotes appreciative articles to the subject.

PHYSICIANS MAY STRIKE.

A Vienna cable says: The entire corps of physicians connected with the Lomborg and Cracow hospitals threaten to strike Jan. 12. They demand an increase of salary. At present they are paid on the scale fixed in the reign of Maria Theresa, 1790. These salaries include such old-fashioned and obsolete perquisites as ten tallow candles monthly.

The Cracow men were exceedingly angry at the Governor of Galicia, who informed the Cracow doctors that the Lomborg would not strike.

TRAGIC FINEAL OF A FAMILY.

Vienna, Jan. 5.—A terrible sensation has been caused in Budapest society by a family tragedy.

A wealthy landed proprietor, Herr von David, some weeks ago lost three children by diphtheria.

His two older sons, pupils at the aristocratic school of Vienna, the Theresianum, returned home for Christmas, sickened with scarlet fever and died.

The mother died two days later of grief.

On New Year's day Herr von David, overcome by those successive losses, shot himself on grave.

Discussing the possibilities of the new century, in an interview with a Montreal newspaper representative, Mr. Wainwright, general assistant and comptroller, suggested the probability of the Grand Trunk reaching Toronto from Montreal in six hours within the near future. The running time of the International Limited, the fastest train between the two points mentioned at present, is seven hours and 40 minutes.

The construction department of the Grand Trunk reports the completion of the laying of a double track between Hamilton and Jordan, a distance of 26 miles. With the exception of the 17 miles of single track between Jordan and St. Catharines, this completes the double-tracking from Hamilton to Niagara Falls. Next summer the double track will be laid through, which will necessitate the building of bridges at St. Catharines and Jordan.
