READING

Often proves to you the imperfections of your sight. When it becomes necessary to hold the book nearer or further away from the eyes, depend upon it something is wrong. When letters "run one into another," or the eyes ache, when fatigue follows reading, the condition of the eyes should be investigated. This is advisable, not only that your capability for reading may remain good, but also, because straining eyes are a direct tax upon the health. We have an equipment which, together with our experience, enables us to determine exactly the state and needs of your eyes. Our methods are scientific and accurate.

RECORD HAY CROP BEING HARVESTED ALL OVER DISTRICT

Weather Has Been Ideal for Getting Yield to Barns.

PRICES LIKELY LOWER

Shortage of Labor Is Being Felt in Many Sections.

Over a week of hot weather has made it possible to harvest one of the biggest and best hay crops in this section of the county for years. Day after day of rain at the beginning of the season proved almost ruinous to grain crops, but it produced quick growth in both hay and pasture.

So big has the crop of hay been that it is expected that the price will drop several dollars, although it is thought the demand will be quite equal to the supply and that there will be no surplus. Already the new hay is beginning to get the fields cleared, and the local market, it being the chief offering for the past several days.

Shortage of Men.

Most of the farmers have the crop harvested, but it is expected that the season will last for a week or more. Shortage of labor is handicapping the farmers in some districts, but if favorable weather continues it will be possible to get the fields cleared. The fact that some one must be sent into the city with the hay for market is also reducing the supply of men.

Furloughs to many of the men in overseas battalions are helping somewhat and the situation is not generally regarded as serious. The average crop of hay to the acre in Middlesex and surrounding counties this year runs from two and a half to three tons. This is considered a high average.

So plentiful has the crop been in some parts that the barns are completely filled and no space has been left for grain. Where this will cause trouble later on remains to be seen, although the grain crops generally are not large.

Hay Stacks May Return.

This scarcity of space may result in a return to the old-fashioned hay-stacks, so common in England and European countries. The climate here is not considered as favorable to this manner of storage, as it will rot quickly unless properly built into the stack. Properly built stacks are very tightly packed and made in a conical shape. At the bottom they slope in, so that rain running off the stack will fall some distance from the base of the pile. The outside layer of hay is put on after the manner of a thatch, and acts as a protection against the weather.

ALD. PALMER STARTS LIVELY ARGUMENT IN CITY COUNCIL

Row Over Getting Solicitor's Opinion on Right to Vote.

MATTER STILL DISPUTED

Council Will Not Agree to Further Costs for Legal Advice.

Ald. Adam Palmer got on his war paint and feathers last night and paid his respects to Ald. Wilson and Ald. Ashplant for getting the opinion of City Solicitor Meredith on his right to vote on any question affecting the annexed district, as he was a resident of that district and favored by the fixed tax rate there. He started a merry row, which lasted some minutes, and disturbed the routine of the council.

The row started when the opinion of the city solicitor was read, showing that he had the right to vote on the extension of the London Street Railway into the annexed district on the Hamilton road. On the opinion, in writing, was pinned two letters from Ald. Wilson and Ald. Ashplant, protesting against his vote.

West to Know.

"That is not what Mr. Meredith was asked to give his opinion on," he declared. "Those two lousy letters were attached and they had no business to be attached. I want to know what transpired in the mayor's office a few days before this thing was brought up in the council. What right has the mayor to ask the solicitor's opinion on two such letters as these? Is this thing a frame-up?"

"I dispute the solicitor's opinion when he says you are qualified to vote," answered Ald. Ashplant.

"Go to the courts and try it out," shouted Ald. Palmer.

"I have a right to protect the citizens by an opinion of the solicitor if I want to," retorted the mayor.

"I still insist that you are not qualified," said Ald. Ashplant.

Some Come Back.

"Would you be disqualified if you got a free telephone?" asked Ald. Palmer.

"You want a free telephone and free rides on the street car. I do not know what you will want next."

It still says that you have a right to hold your seat, but you have no right to vote on a question in which you are interested by receiving special favors as a taxpayer," came back Ald. Ashplant.

"I do not understand why Ald. Ashplant should take Ald. Wilson's objections so much to heart," commented Controller White. "Last year Ald. Wilson wanted to have Ald. Ashplant unseated because of his property qualifications."

"The mayor and these other aldermen should pay the costs for getting Mr. Meredith's opinion," said Ald. Palmer. "We have a lawyer on this council who knows more than all the solicitors."

After much more verbiage the discussion lapsed. Later Ald. Ashplant wanted to have Mr. Meredith give the clause, section and sub-section of the act, by which he gave his opinion that Ald. Palmer was qualified to vote on extensions.

"Go down and pay him, and get the opinion," said Ald. Palmer.

However, the council would not agree to that and the incident closed.

BAND VISITS KOMOKA

Hackett Lodge Members Led Big Parade of Orangemen

Hackett L. O. L. 895 five and drum band made a trip to Komoka Sunday to provide the Orange brethren of that district with music for the church parade. Komoka Orange Lodge, No. 2633, is only a new one, being started only twelve months ago and yesterday was its first church parade. It was held to the Methodist Church. Bro. Rev. A. J. Creasey preached, while Rev. Corkeley, Baptist minister, Hamilton, led in prayer. The church was filled to capacity.

After the service the brethren marched around the town, back to the hall. After the general business hearty votes of thanks were extended to the band, choir, visiting brethren, and addresses were given by the district master of London, the W. C. in command of the Royal Scottish Chapter, London; W. E. Langford, Byron; past county master from Mount Brydges; and others.

After a few band selections Bro. Rev. Creasey dismissed the brethren.

AGREEMENT MADE WITH ST. RAILWAY SETTLES TROUBLES

Sunday Car Bylaw Has Been Extended Two Weeks.

EXTENSIONS PLANNED

Matter Will Be Ratified by the Ontario Railway Board.

The troubles between the city council and the London Street Railway have been finally settled. At the meeting of the council last night an agreement was passed, by the terms of which the company will agree to extend the Hamilton road line from Egerton to West street, will double-track Dundas street, will place double curves at Mamelon street and the Hamilton road, and lay the "T" rails on all paved streets.

The company also agreed to go with the council to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, and have these extensions ratified. The council on its part agreed to limit the paving on streets where the street railway has tracks to the Hamilton road, Dundas street east, Rectory street, Beaconsfield avenue, and a portion of Adelaide street.

Bylaw Extended.

The Sunday car bylaw was extended two weeks, in order that these agreements may all be signed, and the order of the Ontario Railway Board given to them. When this is done, the Sunday car franchise will be extended for a year.

There was little debate on the question. Ald. Burdick wanted to know whether or not these agreements were referred with bylaw No. 315, and when he was informed they did not, he favored the change.

Not Considered.

Ald. Ashplant wanted the agreement amended to the effect that aldermen should have free rides on the street cars, just as policemen and firemen do. "Grant," said Ald. Ashplant.

"It is not grant; it is our right," shot back Ald. Ashplant. "We have a right to ride on the cars to get a proper view of the problems that come up to us for settlement."

However, the aldermen would not listen to that. The bylaws were then passed without amendment.

MILITIA DEPARTMENT WILL PAY $10,000 FOR DAMAGE TO BUILDINGS

Western Fair Will Not Lose For Aid To Soldiers.

BAN ON SEARCHLIGHTS

Council Will Not Allow Them on Any City Streets.

Searchlights on automobiles must not be used on any city streets in future. The city council last night discussed the matter, and changed the recommendation of the board of control, which would permit the use of searchlights on all but paved streets. The majority of the council thought they should not be tolerated anywhere in the city limits, and the motion to that effect carried.

Ald. Copp was of the opinion that all repairs to streets should be done on a frontage basis. The board of works will take that matter up and discuss it.

The board of control was instructed to prepare a suitable resolution of condolence to the family of Capt. W. J. Reid.

Better Accommodation.

Controller Rose thought that the lavatory accommodation at Springbank and Port Stanley was a disgrace to London and the board of health will be asked to deal with the matter.

The question of salving waste paper thrown in garbage cans was brought up by Ald. Palmer, and No. 3 committee will investigate.

It was reported that the militia department had agreed to pay the city and Western Fair Board the sum of $10,000 for the damage done the buildings during their occupancy by the soldiers. Building Inspector Piper had estimated the damage at $10,260, and militia authorities compromised by offering $10,000, which was accepted. In addition, a cement floor to cost $2,000 will be put in the carriage building by the militia department.

Report.

City Auditor Jewell notified the council that the auditors report for 1915 had been in the hands of the printers for some time.

The wages of the firemen were fixed at $2.55 a day for the first year, and $2.45 for the second-year men, and $2.65 for all over the second year, an increase of about $1,000 to the men. The increases will be in force July 1.

The letter of Sir Sam Hughes on the removal of the camp was ordered printed in the minutes.

Girl Campers Will SWIM AT WONDERLAND

Pond Will Be Reserved for Them on Wednesday Afternoons.

In response to requests from young women campers in the vicinity, Superintendent Smith, of the Pinky, Superintend, has ordered that the swimming pond at Wonderland be reserved for them on Wednesday from 2 till 4 and 6 till 8. Mrs. Harrison of the Y. W. C. T. U. will be in charge.

The new rock herbaceous garden now under construction at Springbank Park is proceeding rapidly, and when finished promises to be the best in the province. Superintendent Smith is introducing many unique features.

BIG G.T.R. SHOPS TO BAN DAYLIGHT-SAVING AFTER NEXT SATURDAY

Council Turns Down Petition Urging Repeal.

UNFAIR TO WORKINGMEN

Matter To Be Considered Again at a Special Meeting.

The daylight saving bylaw distracted the city council last night, but after an hour's deliberation, it decided not to repeal the bylaw. Controller Rose gave notice of motion that at the next meeting of the council, he would move that the bylaw be repealed. It is probable that a special meeting will be called to deal with the question. There was a majority in favor of the change, but not sufficient for a two-thirds vote, necessary to change the law at this session. Quite a deputa-tion appeared against the bylaw, and none to favor it.

Controller Rose introduced the question, and moved for a reconsideration. Mayor Stevenson ruled in accordance with the bylaw that it would require a two-thirds vote of the council to repeal the bylaw.

Has No Advantages.

W. R. Meredith, on behalf of the petition from the wholesalers, declared that he represented the people, and with substantial interests at stake. They were not satisfied with the daylight saving bylaw, as it interfered with business, and gave no advantages whatever. He was convinced that the majority of the citizens were opposed to the innovation. The council had no mandate from the people, and the utilities they operated. There were many dissatisfied, and very few indeed favorable.

Is Not Fair.

"The car shops will return to the old time in any event on Monday next," he declared. "The present law is unfair to the workingmen."

E. C. Mitchell, on behalf of the ship-menters, also spoke against the bylaw. It was impossible, he declared, to handle shipments properly. The wives of a large number of workingmen complained. As a family man, he found it impossible to get the children to bed at a proper time, and get them up in the morning, and a great deal of confusion resulted.

"It was Dominion-wide, I would favor it," he declared.

"It is a fad, and I have always thought so," said Ald. Burdick.

"The people, particularly in my section of the city, are decidedly opposed to the bylaw," was Ald. Summers' opinion.

"I thought it would be a good thing, but I find that I have made a mistake," said Ald. Donahue.

"We should have some stability," declared Ald. Ashplant.

Largely Against.

The petitions sent here show that 1,630 citizens are against it, while only 76 have signed petitions for it," said an alderman.

"It is the most unpopular thing we have done," said Controller Rose.

After some further discussion, the vote to reconsider the question was lost on the following division: For the change, Controllers Gammage, White, Moore, Rose, Ald. Summers, Ald. Burdick, Ald. Donahue. Against, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Reynolds, Ald. Palmer, Ald. Webster and Ald. Copp. As it would require twelve votes to reconsider, the bylaw was lost.

To Cancel Bylaw.

Later Controller Rose introduced a motion, requesting the citizens to return to standard time on July 23, but there seemed some doubt as to whether or not this would carry, he withdrew it. He gave notice that at the next meeting he would introduce a motion to present a bylaw to cancel the present bylaw. This can be carried by a majority vote. The aldermen thought that it would be confusing to have the citizens have one time, and the city officials another. When a change is made, it will cover all citizens.

"I thought it would be a good thing, but I find that I have made a mistake," said Ald. Donahue.

"We should have some stability," declared Ald. Ashplant.

Largely Against.

The petitions sent here show that 1,630 citizens are against it, while only 76 have signed petitions for it," said an alderman.

"It is the most unpopular thing we have done," said Controller Rose.

After some further discussion, the vote to reconsider the question was lost on the following division: For the change, Controllers Gammage, White, Moore, Rose, Ald. Summers, Ald. Burdick, Ald. Donahue. Against, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Reynolds, Ald. Palmer, Ald. Webster and Ald. Copp. As it would require twelve votes to reconsider, the bylaw was lost.

To Cancel Bylaw.

Later Controller Rose introduced a motion, requesting the citizens to return to standard time on July 23, but there seemed some doubt as to whether or not this would carry, he withdrew it. He gave notice that at the next meeting he would introduce a motion to present a bylaw to cancel the present bylaw. This can be carried by a majority vote. The aldermen thought that it would be confusing to have the citizens have one time, and the city officials another. When a change is made, it will cover all citizens.

The daylight saving bylaw distracted the city council last night, but after an hour's deliberation, it decided not to repeal the bylaw. Controller Rose gave notice of motion that at the next meeting of the council, he would move that the bylaw be repealed. It is probable that a special meeting will be called to deal with the question. There was a majority in favor of the change, but not sufficient for a two-thirds vote, necessary to change the law at this session. Quite a deputa-tion appeared against the bylaw, and none to favor it.

Controller Rose introduced the question, and moved for a reconsideration. Mayor Stevenson ruled in accordance with the bylaw that it would require a two-thirds vote of the council to repeal the bylaw.

Has No Advantages.

W. R. Meredith, on behalf of the petition from the wholesalers, declared that he represented the people, and with substantial interests at stake. They were not satisfied with the daylight saving bylaw, as it interfered with business, and gave no advantages whatever. He was convinced that the majority of the citizens were opposed to the innovation. The council had no mandate from the people, and the utilities they operated. There were many dissatisfied, and very few indeed favorable.

Is Not Fair.

"The car shops will return to the old time in any event on Monday next," he declared. "The present law is unfair to the workingmen."

E. C. Mitchell, on behalf of the ship-menters, also spoke against the bylaw. It was impossible, he declared, to handle shipments properly. The wives of a large number of workingmen complained. As a family man, he found it impossible to get the children to bed at a proper time, and get them up in the morning, and a great deal of confusion resulted.

"It was Dominion-wide, I would favor it," he declared.

"It is a fad, and I have always thought so," said Ald. Burdick.

"The people, particularly in my section of the city, are decidedly opposed to the bylaw," was Ald. Summers' opinion.

"I thought it would be a good thing, but I find that I have made a mistake," said Ald. Donahue.

"We should have some stability," declared Ald. Ashplant.
