The fact that three records were broken at the "Wossa" meet Saturday lone goes to show the splendid progress the meet is making each year. The fact that three marks, after three years of these meets, could be shatered shows the amount of development that is going on amongst the hoolboy athletes of the area governed by the "Wossa."

One record smashed in convincing style went to Walters, a Listowel boy, showing also that every one of the smaller"highs" have their chance to break into the limelight and produce phenomenal athletes.

The London club is apparently due for a shake-up that will loosen ome of the spikes. Roseberry, who batted .334 for Saginaw last year, but who went back to Brooklyn at the end of the season, was grabbed up by the London club when offered, and will report Wednesday. McNamara, who played with Flint last year for 19 games, and who shows probable development into a first-sacker, offered by Washington, will also stay here when Washington comes here for their game on Wednesday. He should hit around .300. Roseberry takes any kind of pitching, switching to the opposite side of the plate at will.

New York, May 19. — San Francisco has found a player. He is the most sensational youngster turned up in this year's plowing. His name is Paul Waner. He is 19 years old, and seems destined to be the successor to the crown of the Kamm-O'Connell tribe. Waner apparently has gone crazy with Waner apparently has gone crazy with the bat, and if he keeps it up. San will continue to the content of the successor to the crown of the Kamm-O'Connell tribe. Waner apparently has gone crazy with the bat, and if he keeps it up. San will continue to the content of the co

The next time Waner got a chance, he made three hits in five times at bat and was given two bases on balls. He scored twice and stole two bases. Jack Miller, the San Francisco manager, gulped, rubbed his eyes and sent Waner in to pinch hit in the eleventh inning of the next game against Los Angeles. The recruit hit the ball through the netting in right field for one of the longest home runs San Francisco ever saw.

In five times that he acted as pinch hitter after that, he delivered safe wallops three times, two of them doubles. After he had played three full games, his option had 24 hours to run, and the San Francisco club was so determined not to lose him that they telegraphed the $2,400 due the Oklahoma club. He has not pitched a game for San Francisco, but the fans there would like to see him try. He seems destined to be converted into an outfielder if he shows aptitude that way. Miller wants him for his batting, and wants him in there every day, in spite of the fact that he is reported to have struck out 19 betters is one game in Oklahoma.

However, what he did last year does not matter much. What he has done not two contests played on different days.

If Waner keeps this up, San Francisco will continue unalterably opposed to the draft with a snicker in the sleeve for the big league scouts who overlooked the big bet on the Oklahoma bush league lots. San Frnacisco has the best bush league nlayer joke of the season, and league player joke of the season, and the match were marked by ineffective the joke is on the major leaguers.
