Electric Meter Best

It is expected that about the latter end of September the first electric motor boat on the Pacific coast will be brought here by a sailing yessel. It was built on the Thames for Pilots Thompson and James Ramsay, Captain Buckman and Captain Newby, of Victoria. It is 32 feet long, 8 feet beam and 5 feet depth of hold and is expected to run fourteen miles an hour. If it answers expectations it is believed that several similar crafts will be built here, among them one by Mr. Higgins, who hails from San Francisco.

Facilities for mail communication were neither rapid nor plentiful in those days. Stanley heard little of affairs at home. He returned to New Orleans to find his wife had taken sick and died during his absence from home. Soon afterward he married Miss Miller, an Englishwoman. He then changed his business, becoming cotton weigher for the firm of Payne, Dameron & Co., the predecessors of Payne, Kennedy & Co.; later he obtained employment with Wright, Williams & Co., in the same capacity. He made a good deal of money in the days when there were fortunes in the cotton-press business. When the war

Interesting if True

It is often a matter of curiosity with the observer of feminine ways to know why women should wear so many ornaments while on the street, says the New York Recorder. To see a delicate little woman, whose waist is surrounded by an enormous belt, from which depend a number of small bottles of glass and silver, watch charms, bangles and heav-en knows what besides, is enough to create wonder in the mind of the uninicreate wonder in the mind of the unini-tiated. The habit is looked upon as a fad. Probably it is, but an English writer says it is something more. This learned Britisher asserts that the Amer-ican girl carries in the little bottles ican girl carries in the little bottles which dangle from her belt a lot of quinine pills. When she grows weary from the exertions of a shopping tour she takes two pills; if chilly, one pill; when hungry, which is often the case, down go two pills; if she gets her feet wet she swallows an antidote in the shape of ten pills. This is one of those things which may be described as intripating

if true. Singular Funeral Ceremonies.

A murdered Hungarian was buried near Corinth, Ky., recently. When dying a candle was placed in his hand and held there by his brother until the last moment. In the coffin were placed a towel, soap, comb, needle and thread. He was dressed in a new suit of clothes and a white hat placed on his head.
